Research4Life (R4L) - Goals

- To connect developing world researchers with the international scientific community
- To reduce the 'publishing gap' and improve the quality of locally produced articles and journals
- Ultimately – improve health, food security and environment in relation to Millennium Development Goals of 2015

Primary Target Audiences

- Eligible categories of institutions are:
  - Government: relevant ministries and agencies
  - Academic/research institutions
  - Locally based non-governmental organizations (NGOs)
- All permanent and visiting faculty, staff members and students are entitled to access and can obtain the institutional User Name and Password.

Who is eligible for R4L Programmes

The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on this map do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the World Health Organization concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries. Dotted and dashed lines on maps represent approximate border lines for which there may not yet be full agreement.

    - GNIpc is at or less than US$ 5000

ARDI/R4L Resources Usage: Do Share

- Institution's R4L usernames and passwords with:
  - Authorized Users: an institution's employee, permanent or visiting faculty or student
  - Walk-in Users: anyone who comes to the institution's premises and is permitted by the institution to access services there

Note: Access from remote access is permissible but limited to computers owned personally by employees or by institution

Copyright and Fair Use

■ Is the same as typical copyright and fair use principles;
it is OK to:

- Download or print up to 15% of a journal issue or book
- Use material for educational purposes (course packs or reserves)
- Make copies for institution members or students

Note: Always credit sources

Abuse of Privileges: Do Not

- Share usernames and passwords with those from outside the institution
- Supply documents to individuals or organizations outside the registered institution
- Charge a fee for supplying documents except to recover cost of printing
- Use R4L programmes when outside the country – see next slide

Specific Situations for Outside the Country use (as of July 2018)

- Individual staff and faculty of an institution are permitted to use R4L during short-term professional trips outside the institutional environment including outside the country (e.g. 1 month maximum).
- Student at registered institutions MAY use R4L no matter where in the world they are located. Institutions with Distance Learning programmes should connect via IP-based logins but not distribute username and passwords to remote students.

Abuse of Privileges: Do Not

- Upload or post the material to a publicly available website or elsewhere
- Post usernames and passwords to websites or blogs that are publically accessible

Note: Violations result in the institution or possibly entire country denied access until the problem is resolved. If your institution's password does not work for several days, it may have been compromised. DO NOT REGISTER AGAIN.

Report this to r4l@reserach4life.org and always including your UserID

Internet Requirements for ARDI

- 128 kbps, local area network (LAN), or cable connection required.
- A hard-wired full-time Internet connection (T1 or better) enables the fastest downloads.
- Satellite or network connections, though slower, are also adequate.
- Web Browser - Internet Explorer version 5.0 or Mozilla Firefox 17.0 or any version of Google Chrome

Exercises

- This is the end of the ARDI Basic Course Module 1
- There are no exercises for this module
