Bakhshayesh

Bakhshayesh is a city located in the center of Heris Country, East Azerbaijan. It is the third most populated city in the county, and the 34th in the province.

Like other people in Heris and in East Azerbaijan Province, the people in this town speak Azeri with local Bakhshayesh accent.

Carpet weaving is of great importance in this area. The most common design is lachak toranj, and patterns used usually include qadim (old) lachak toranj, Ali Beyg lachak toranj, tajeri lachak toranj, gusheh gobek, herat, afshan, and choopan (shepherd) designs.

In gusheh gobek (lit. Corner and medallion) lachak toranj design used in Bakhshayesh, there are 5 quarters of the central medallion in each of the four corners of the carpet, and the full, round medallion in the center. In Heris or Mehraban designs the number of quarters is 3 or 4.

In afshan design, the field is monochrome, and there are round floral patterns. Afshan qadim (old) and herat are variations of this design.

Bakhshayesh carpets have a lot in common with those of Heris as for color schemes, sizes, designs, wool yarns used, and quality. Both are woven with symmetrical knots, but pieces from Bakhshayesh are less flexible than Heris pieces, which is particularly evident in older carpets. Color schemes, density, quality, and whether the pieces are appropriate as decorative items may vary depending on how good the given pieces are.

Bidgeneh

Bidgeneh is a village in Ijrud District, Zanjan Province. It is located 50 km off the west of Zanjan County, on hills and plains. It has moderate climate, but is cold and dry in winter.

Featuring dense structure, Bidgeneh carpet is among the best of rural products in Zanjan. Their quality is as good as pieces from Bijar and Takab, and the wool used is also of high quality.

Material

The wool in Bidgeneh is delicate. Women use spinning wheels called jahareh in order to produce consistent woolen yarns called khamah.

Hand spun woolen yarns are categorized by the natural colors including beige, yellowish white, light brown, reddish brown, and dark brown, and are then sent away for dyeing. Currently, yarns produced in Tabriz Textile Industries are also used for carpets.

Weaving

Bidgeneh carpets are woven with hooks, using symmetrical knots. Double-weft weaving method has long been used in this area, which gives a very orderly look to the backside of the carpets. Traditionally, the number of knots in 7 cm was 40, but today, the number might 35.

In the past, the knots were made by hand rather than hooks, and weft strings called pood band were used to add to the density of knots. The selvage is spun as the carpet is being woven (and is thus called attached selvage), and the plain part (which is supposed to support the consistency of the carpet) is woven using yarns of two different colors.

Designs, motifs, and color schemes

The genuine designs used in Bidgeneh carpets are haji owrangi and chahār gāt (chagār qat'e).

Both designs were woven using ornak method.

An older design, chahār gāt is composed of a medallion and four corners (typical lachak toranj) and a single border consistent with the field. These designs have a great variety.

Other patterns used are qandan qandili, shaneh, sar toranj, sar quchi (ram head), mahi (fish), and parandeh (bird). Haji Owrangi is the classic carpet design of the rural districts of Zanzan. It includes the lachak toranj motifs, tusbaga (turtle), and apple blossom.

Both designs are composed of geometrical curvilinear motifs.

The carpets woven across Zanzan are rather dark in color, which is because of the brown wool of the sheep bred in the area.

The fields of carpets in Zanzan and Bidgeneh Village are often madder, and the borders are dark or navy blue. In order to bring variation to the carpets, only the colors of medallions and corners are changed, while other colors remain intact.

Natural materials are usually used to dye the yarns. In the past, the villagers would also dye the yarns using herbal colors, and only certain shades were produced in Zanzan. Nearly 15 different colors are used in Bidgeneh carpets.

Turquoise, navy blue, beige, matter, yellowish white, brown, golden, olive green, ochre, dark blue, and blak are some of these colors.

People in this city are particularly skilled in weaving carpets, and the majority make a living by farming, carpet weaving, and animal husbandry. Some of them also work in business or as rivers among few other activities. Tourist attractions of the city are Khajeh Jameh Mosque and Khajeh Muhammad Khoshnam's tomb (known as Sultan Khoja).

Also, Aladaglar is a natural site and tourist attraction in the area.

Common carpet types and sizes are known as qalicheh (small rug), kenareh (narrow carpets for hallways and stairs), zaronim (small rugs of 1.5m length), parde-i (curtain/ tapestry), 9- and 12-square meter pieces, and round and oval carpets.

Symmetrical (Turkish) knots are made by needles, and there are 40 to 80 knots in an average of 7cm of the carpet.

The warps are cotton and silk yarns, and the wefts are thick or thin cotton mix yarns.

The prevalent design used in the carpets of Khajeh District is lachak toranj (the medallion and four quarters in the corners). The toranj comes in a variety of patterns, and is connected to various curvilinear designs. Narrow and wide borders with large or small strings.

Khamseh Carpet of Zanjan

Given the historical backgrounds, geographical location, and cultural conditions, Zanjan Province has considerable capabilities in producing carpet.

Most carpets woven in this area are rural and nomadic.

Specifications of the carpets exclusive to Zanjan are listed below:

- The majority of carpets (nearly 60%) are produced in rural and nomadic areas.
- Conventional looms are fixed or revolving, vertical or horizontal, measuring 2.0x 3.0 meters for carpets of less than 2 meter wide.
- Weaving method is flat with single wefts and symmetrical knots.
- Nomadic carpets do not have drawn designs, and lachak toranj and vagireh designs are common in rural areas. - The designs feature rectilinear patterns and geometric motifs.
- In both fields and borders, blue and crimson red are prevalent.
- Carpets are not very fine as for the number and length of knots, as there are 30 knots in 7cm, and knots are long (cuts are similar to those in khersak rugs, which can be because of the rough weather).
- Warps and wefts are made of cotton. The local dyed wool yarns used to weave the carpet are of poor quality, and thus reputable workshops purchase the yarns from Isfahan and Shiraz.

Mehraban Carpet

Mehraban District includes the 3 towns of Mehraban, Sharabiyan, and Duzduzan, and three large rural districts of Alan, Baraqush, Ardalan, and Sharabiyan with 36 villages. It is the second county after Sarab, and is one of the oldest, most active areas in East Azerbaijan Province. It is located 92km off the east of Tabriz, and is bordered by Bostanabad, Heris, Sarab, Miyaneh, and Meshkin Shahr in Ardabil Province.

Carpet weaving is of prime importance in Mehraban, where some of the most exquisite carpets are made. The skills and mastery of Mehraban weavers are well reflected in the carpets woven in the area. Carpet weaving is the best developed form here.

Mehraban carpet has long gained global fame, and even dates back to pre-Islamic era. With 20 knots in each 7cm, the pieces depict human and animal figures. Of the most famous designs used are abi gol, haj muharram, afshan, sayyad, and biglar. More than 5000 weavers produce over 90,000 square meters of carpet in this area every year.

Sharabiyan

Sharabiyan is a city in East Azerbaijan Province, Iran. It is in Mehraban District, Sarab County. The city is 100km from Tabriz, the capital of the province, and 40km from Sarab.

Carpets are woven both in houses and workshops, but currently, household looms are more prevalent.

There are 20 to 30 knots in 7cm of the carpets, which are made of symmetrical knots and single wefts.

Dying methods are both chemical and natural. Common colors are red, yellow, blue, green, black, and white.

Cotton and wool are the materials used in these carpets. Warps and wefts are normally cotton yarns, and wefts are gray. The wool used is usually provided by Lor and Kurd nomads from the western provinces of Iran.

Some of the old designs used are shah abbasi, mar, derakhti, qaba, and afshan. However, kase-o dastmal, Sharabiyan buteh, and Sharabiyan gol (flower) are more common these days.

Carpets come in various sizes including zaronim, kenareh, 6 square meters, and large pieces.

Doydokh

Doydokh-e Olya (Upper Doydokh) is a village located in Jargalan Rural District, within Raz and Jargalan County of North Khorasan Province, Iran.

Specifications of the Carpets

Weaving double-sided fabrics has a long history in Iran and has gradually evolved into techniques for creating double-sided carpets.

A double-sided carpet features two different designs, one on each side. These carpets are primarily intended for decorative purposes, exhibitions, or private collections. They are not suitable for use as floor coverings due to their delicate craftsmanship.

Binding the Warps

There are two main methods of weaving these carpets:

1. In one method, two highly skilled weavers stand on opposite sides of the loom and tie each knot according to the specific design they have been given.
2. In the second method, a single weaver begins by weaving a line of the design on one side. After completing that line, they move to the opposite side of the loom to weave the corresponding line of the back design. The wefts are inserted and beaten after each pair of lines is completed.

While it is commonly said that one weaver works on the front and the other on the back, in reality, both sides are treated as front sides, each with its own distinct design and aesthetic value.

Designs

The designs and patterns used in this weaving style are not fundamentally different from those found in traditional carpets. Most of them feature Turkmen motifs, commonly seen in carpets woven in North Khorasan. The typical patterns include:

1. Ensi design – from Turkmen carpets, North Khorasan
2. Gol-e Turkmen – a classic Turkmen motif, North Khorasan
3. Saruq Gol – from Turkmen carpets, North Khorasan
4. Tubre Gol
5. Ayineh Gol

Shahr-e Babak

In historical maps from the Sasanian Empire, Shahr-e Babak is prominently featured alongside other ancient cities such as Istakhr and Persepolis. These maps confirm the city's ancient origins and document the rule of Babak over the city as early as 210 BC and even earlier.

Knots

The knots used in Shahr-e Babak carpets are typically symmetrical.

Scales

The measurement scale traditionally used in this region is the old zar, which equals 104 centimeters. The raj shomar (average number of knots within a specific length) is based on a 6.5 cm scale.

To calculate density, the total number of tied threads from both the length and the width of one knot is counted. For example, if a carpet has 35 knots in both the length and width within the measured area, it is referred to as a 35-pair or 70-raj carpet.

If the measuring length changes—for instance, to 10 cm—the calculation adapts accordingly. A carpet with 65 knots in 10 cm in both directions is called 90 kheft. If there are 70 x 70 knots, it is called 100 kheft.

Dyeing

Up to 15 different colors are used in Shahr-e Babak carpets, all derived from natural plant-based dyes, resulting in rich, earthy color combinations.

Weaving Method

Carpet weaving in this region is primarily a rural or nomadic tradition. Unlike urban carpets, rural ones are woven with fewer knots, smaller dimensions, and without pre-drawn designs. They are usually created on horizontal (floor) looms by rural women.

Designs and Patterns

Designs are strictly geometric or rectilinear, with no curvilinear motifs. Common traditional patterns include:

- Makke-i
- Kheshti
- Se Kalleh
- Kheshti Khusheh Berenji
- Charkh Mahi
- Jangali
- Buteh Katari
- Derakhti
- Kalaqi

Technical Specifications

Shahr-e Babak carpets fall into the category of rural weaves. They are known for:

- High knot density
- Fine texture
- Smaller dimensions

Although many are woven without drawn patterns, some do use design templates. Horizontal looms are most common, though vertical looms are also occasionally used.

GROUND FOR REFUSAL

Ground Other

Ground description In accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations under the Lisbon Agreement and the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement (the Common Regulations) if a Contracting Party to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications (the Geneva Act) requires that, in order to obtain protection for a registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in its territory, the application governed by the Geneva Act further indicates particulars concerning, in the case of an appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and, in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, it shall notify the Director General of this requirement.

Under clause 4 of Article 1 of Federal Law No. 450-FZ of December 30, 2021, "On the Accession of the Russian Federation to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications," the Russian Federation, in accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, has notified of the requirement to include in the application information concerning, in the case of a appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation, or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, in order to obtain protection for the registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Under clause 3 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, in case of granting of legal protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to a geographical indication or appellation of origin of good registered in accordance with an international treaty of the Russian Federation, and (or) grant of exclusive rights to such geographical indication or appellation of origin of good, the provisions of clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the second paragraph of clause 1 and clause 2 of Article 1518, and clauses 2, 3 and 4 of Article 1524 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation shall apply.

Under clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, state registration as a geographical indication of a designation that allows the identification of a good originating from the territory of a geographical object located in a foreign country is permitted if this designation is protected as a geographical indication or another means of individualization of goods in the country of origin, provided that it meets the requirements of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation.

Under clause 3 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the rules of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation on geographical indications apply to appellations of origin of goods, unless otherwise provided by the Civil Code of the Russian Federation.

In accordance with the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, an appellation of origin of good that is granted legal protection is a designation that represents a modern or historical, official or unofficial, full or abbreviated name of a country, urban or rural settlement, locality or another geographical object, including such a name or a derivative thereof, which has become known as a result of its use in relation to goods whose special properties are exclusively determined by the natural conditions and/or human factors characteristic of that geographical object. All stages of production of the goods that have a significant impact on the formation of the special properties of the goods must be carried out in the territory of that geographical object.

The designation "Χαλλούμι / Halloumi / Hellim" does not correspond to the definition of the appellation of origin set out in clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, since it is not the name of any geographical object or derived from it.

The notification of the international registration of an appellation of origin AO-1405 does not contain a description of all stages of production of the goods, and therefore there is no information confirming the implementation of all stages of production of the goods that have a significant impact on the formation of special properties of the goods on the territory of this geographical object, established by clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation.

Based on the above, under clause 1 of Article 15 of the Geneva Act, subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the grant of protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to the appellation of origin "Χαλλούμι / Halloumi / Hellim", which is the subject of the international registration, is refused.

JUDICIAL OR ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO CONTEST THE REFUSAL

This decision may be disputed in accordance with the procedure stipulated in Article 1528 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation by filing a relevant objection with Rospatent within three months from the date of sending this decision to WIPO.

The aforementioned time limit that was failed by the applicant may be restored by Rospatent upon the applicant's request filed within six months from the date of expiry of that period, provided that the applicant indicates valid reasons for not complying with the time limit (clause 2 of Article 1528 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation).

A request for restoration of the missed time limit shall be submitted by the applicant to Rospatent simultaneously with the filing of the respective objection.

Motivo Otro

Descripción del motivo In accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations under the Lisbon Agreement and the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement (the Common Regulations) if a Contracting Party to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications (the Geneva Act) requires that, in order to obtain protection for a registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in its territory, the application governed by the Geneva Act further indicates particulars concerning, in the case of an appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and, in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, it shall notify the Director General of this requirement.

Under clause 4 of Article 1 of Federal Law No. 450-FZ of December 30, 2021, "On the Accession of the Russian Federation to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications," the Russian Federation, in accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, has notified of the requirement to include in the application information concerning, in the case of a appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation, or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, in order to obtain protection for the registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Under clause 3 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, in case of granting of legal protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to a geographical indication or appellation of origin of good registered in accordance with an international treaty of the Russian Federation, and (or) grant of exclusive rights to such geographical indication or appellation of origin of good, the provisions of clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the second paragraph of clause 1 and clause 2 of Article 1518, and clauses 2, 3 and 4 of Article 1524 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation shall apply.

Under clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, state registration as a geographical indication of a designation that allows the identification of a good originating from the territory of a geographical object located in a foreign country is permitted if this designation is protected as a geographical indication or another means of individualization of goods in the country of origin, provided that it meets the requirements of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation.

Under clause 3 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the rules of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation on geographical indications apply to appellations of origin of goods, unless otherwise provided by the Civil Code of the Russian Federation.

In accordance with the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, an appellation of origin of good that is granted legal protection is a designation that represents a modern or historical, official or unofficial, full or abbreviated name of a country, urban or rural settlement, locality or another geographical object, including such a name or a derivative thereof, which has become known as a result of its use in relation to goods whose special properties are exclusively determined by the natural conditions and/or human factors characteristic of that geographical object. All stages of production of the goods that have a significant impact on the formation of the special properties of the goods must be carried out in the territory of that geographical object.

The designation "Χαλλούμι / Halloumi / Hellim" does not correspond to the definition of the appellation of origin set out in clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, since it is not the name of any geographical object or derived from it.

The notification of the international registration of an appellation of origin AO-1405 does not contain a description of all stages of production of the goods, and therefore there is no information confirming the implementation of all stages of production of the goods that have a significant impact on the formation of special properties of the goods on the territory of this geographical object, established by clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation.

Based on the above, under clause 1 of Article 15 of the Geneva Act, subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the grant of protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to the appellation of origin "Χαλλούμι / Halloumi / Hellim", which is the subject of the international registration, is refused.

Ground description In accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations under the Lisbon Agreement and the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement (the Common Regulations) if a Contracting Party to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications (the Geneva Act) requires that, in order to obtain protection for a registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in its territory, the application governed by the Geneva Act further indicates particulars concerning, in the case of an appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and, in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, it shall notify the Director General of this requirement.

Under clause 4 of Article 1 of Federal Law No. 450-FZ of December 30, 2021, "On the Accession of the Russian Federation to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications," the Russian Federation, in accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, has notified of the requirement to include in the application information concerning, in the case of a appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation, or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, in order to obtain protection for the registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Under clause 3 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, in case of granting of legal protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to a geographical indication or appellation of origin of good registered in accordance with an international treaty of the Russian Federation, and (or) grant of exclusive rights to such geographical indication or appellation of origin of good, the provisions of clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the second paragraph of clause 1 and clause 2 of Article 1518, and clauses 2, 3 and 4 of Article 1524 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation shall apply.

Under clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, state registration as a geographical indication of a designation that allows the identification of a good originating from the territory of a geographical object located in a foreign country is permitted if this designation is protected as a geographical indication or other means of individualization of goods in the country of origin, provided that it meets the requirements of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation. The holder of an exclusive right to a geographical indication may only be a person whose right to such geographical indication or other means of individualization of goods is protected in the country of origin.

State registration of the name of a geographical object located in a foreign country as an appellation of origin is permitted if the name of this geographical object is protected as an appellation of origin in the country of origin. The holder of an exclusive right to an appellation of origin may only be a person whose right to such an appellation of origin is protected in the country of origin.

According to the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, an appellation of origin of goods to which legal protection is granted means a designation that is the contemporary or historical, official or unofficial, full or abbreviated name of a country, an urban or rural settlement, area or another geographical object that includes such appellation or a derivative of such appellation, and has become known as a result of its being used in respect of the good whose special properties are exclusively determined by the natural conditions and/or the human factors which are typical for the given geographical object. On the territory of the given geographical object all the stages of production of the good, which substantially affect the formation of the special properties of the good, must be carried out.

Based on the information provided in subclauses "A" and "B" of clause 3 of the Notification of the International Registration of the Appellation of Origin AO-1419, there is no description of all the necessary stages for production of the good, a full description of the characteristics of the good, or a full description of the place of origin (production) of the good (boundaries of the geographical object). Only a brief description of the preparation system and a description of some winemaking methods are provided.

Therefore, based on the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, it is not confirmed that all stages of production the good which substantially affect the formation of the special properties of the good have been carried out on the territory of this geographical area.

It should be noted that a summary of the Product Specification was submitted to the Competent Authority (Rospatent).

The Notification of International Registration of Appellation of Origin AO-1419 states that the territory of the production area is specified in the Product Specification of the Appellation of Origin.

A shortened version of the Product Specification is also available in open sources on the Internet, particularly the EU Register (<https://ec.europa.eu/agriculture/eambrosia/geographical-indications-register/>).

However, the EU Register provides information on the territory of the production area that differs from the information on the production area contained in the Notification of International Registration of Appellation of Origin AO-1419.

Based on the above, under clause 1 of Article 15 of the Geneva Act, subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the grant of protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to the geographical indication "Trento", which is the subject of the international registration, is refused.

JUDICIAL OR ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO CONTEST THE REFUSAL

This decision may be disputed in accordance with the procedure stipulated in Article 1528 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation by filing a relevant objection with Rospatent within three months from the date of sending this decision to WIPO.

The aforementioned time limit that was failed by the applicant may be restored by Rospatent upon the applicant's request filed within six months from the date of expiry of that period, provided that the applicant indicates valid reasons for not complying with the time limit (clause 2 of Article 1528 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation).

A request for restoration of the missed time limit shall be submitted by the applicant to Rospatent simultaneously with the filing of the respective objection.

Description du motif In accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations under the Lisbon Agreement and the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement (the Common Regulations) if a Contracting Party to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications (the Geneva Act) requires that, in order to obtain protection for a registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in its territory, the application governed by the Geneva Act further indicates particulars concerning, in the case of an appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and, in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, it shall notify the Director General of this requirement.

Under clause 4 of Article 1 of Federal Law No. 450-FZ of December 30, 2021, "On the Accession of the Russian Federation to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications," the Russian Federation, in accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, has notified of the requirement to include in the application information concerning, in the case of a appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation, or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, in order to obtain protection for the registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Under clause 3 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, in case of granting of legal protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to a geographical indication or appellation of origin of good registered in accordance with an international treaty of the Russian Federation, and (or) grant of exclusive rights to such geographical indication or appellation of origin of good, the provisions of clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the second paragraph of clause 1 and clause 2 of Article 1518, and clauses 2, 3 and 4 of Article 1524 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation shall apply.

Under clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, state registration as a geographical indication of a designation that allows the identification of a good originating from the territory of a geographical object located in a foreign country is permitted if this designation is protected as a geographical indication or other means of individualization of goods in the country of origin, provided that it meets the requirements of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation. The holder of an exclusive right to a geographical indication may only be a person whose right to such geographical indication or other means of individualization of goods is protected in the country of origin.

State registration of the name of a geographical object located in a foreign country as an appellation of origin is permitted if the name of this geographical object is protected as an appellation of origin in the country of origin. The holder of an exclusive right to an appellation of origin may only be a person whose right to such an appellation of origin is protected in the country of origin.

According to the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, an appellation of origin of goods to which legal protection is granted means a designation that is the contemporary or historical, official or unofficial, full or abbreviated name of a country, an urban or rural settlement, area or another geographical object that includes such appellation or a derivative of such appellation, and has become known as a result of its being used in respect of the good whose special properties are exclusively determined by the natural conditions and/or the human factors which are typical for the given geographical object. On the territory of the given geographical object all the stages of production of the good, which substantially affect the formation of the special properties of the good, must be carried out.

Based on the information provided in subclauses "A" and "B" of clause 3 of the Notification of the International Registration of the Appellation of Origin AO-1419, there is no description of all the necessary stages for production of the good, a full description of the characteristics of the good, or a full description of the place of origin (production) of the good (boundaries of the geographical object). Only a brief description of the preparation system and a description of some winemaking methods are provided.

Therefore, based on the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, it is not confirmed that all stages of production the good which substantially affect the formation of the special properties of the good have been carried out on the territory of this geographical area.

It should be noted that a summary of the Product Specification was submitted to the Competent Authority (Rospatent).

Motivo Otro

Descripción del motivo In accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations under the Lisbon Agreement and the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement (the Common Regulations) if a Contracting Party to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications (the Geneva Act) requires that, in order to obtain protection for a registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in its territory, the application governed by the Geneva Act further indicates particulars concerning, in the case of an appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and, in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, it shall notify the Director General of this requirement.

Under clause 4 of Article 1 of Federal Law No. 450-FZ of December 30, 2021, "On the Accession of the Russian Federation to the Geneva Act of the Lisbon Agreement on Appellations of Origin and Geographical Indications," the Russian Federation, in accordance with subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, has notified of the requirement to include in the application information concerning, in the case of a appellation of origin, the quality or characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical environment of the geographical area of production, and in the case of a geographical indication, the quality, reputation, or other characteristics of the good and its connection with the geographical area of origin, in order to obtain protection for the registered appellation of origin or geographical indication in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Under clause 3 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, in case of granting of legal protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to a geographical indication or appellation of origin of good registered in accordance with an international treaty of the Russian Federation, and (or) grant of exclusive rights to such geographical indication or appellation of origin of good, the provisions of clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the second paragraph of clause 1 and clause 2 of Article 1518, and clauses 2, 3 and 4 of Article 1524 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation shall apply.

Under clause 2 of Article 1517 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, state registration as a geographical indication of a designation that allows the identification of a good originating from the territory of a geographical object located in a foreign country is permitted if this designation is protected as a geographical indication or other means of individualization of goods in the country of origin, provided that it meets the requirements of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation. The holder of an exclusive right to a geographical indication may only be a person whose right to such geographical indication or other means of individualization of goods is protected in the country of origin.

State registration of the name of a geographical object located in a foreign country as an appellation of origin is permitted if the name of this geographical object is protected as an appellation of origin in the country of origin. The holder of an exclusive right to an appellation of origin may only be a person whose right to such an appellation of origin is protected in the country of origin.

According to the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, an appellation of origin of goods to which legal protection is granted means a designation that is the contemporary or historical, official or unofficial, full or abbreviated name of a country, an urban or rural settlement, area or another geographical object that includes such appellation or a derivative of such appellation, and has become known as a result of its being used in respect of the good whose special properties are exclusively determined by the natural conditions and/or the human factors which are typical for the given geographical object. On the territory of the given geographical object all the stages of production of the good, which substantially affect the formation of the special properties of the good, must be carried out.

Based on the information provided in subclauses "A" and "B" of clause 3 of the Notification of the International Registration of the Appellation of Origin AO-1419, there is no description of all the necessary stages for production of the good, a full description of the characteristics of the good, or a full description of the place of origin (production) of the good (boundaries of the geographical object). Only a brief description of the preparation system and a description of some winemaking methods are provided.

Therefore, based on the provisions of clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, it is not confirmed that all stages of production the good which substantially affect the formation of the special properties of the good have been carried out on the territory of this geographical area.

It should be noted that a summary of the Product Specification was submitted to the Competent Authority (Rospatent).

The Notification of International Registration of Appellation of Origin AO-1419 states that the territory of the production area is specified in the Product Specification of the Appellation of Origin.

A shortened version of the Product Specification is also available in open sources on the Internet, particularly the EU Register (<https://ec.europa.eu/agriculture/eambrosia/geographical-indications-register/>).

However, the EU Register provides information on the territory of the production area that differs from the information on the production area contained in the Notification of International Registration of Appellation of Origin AO-1419.

Based on the above, under clause 1 of Article 15 of the Geneva Act, subclause (a) of clause 3 of Rule 5 of the Common Regulations, clause 1 of Article 1516 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, the grant of protection in the territory of the Russian Federation to the geographical indication "Trento", which is the subject of the international registration, is refused.

RECURSOS JUDICIALES O ADMINISTRATIVOS DISPONIBLES PARA IMPUGNAR LA DENEGACIÓN
