
2025 WIPO National Intellectual Property Essay Competition Report
IP and Music: Harnessing Nigeria's Music Industry for Economic Growth

November 2025

Competition Overview

On April 26, 2020, the World Intellectual Property Organization Nigeria Office launched the first edition of the WIPO National Intellectual Property Essay Competition. The initiative formed part of efforts to support student engagement and research in the field of intellectual property (IP) in Nigeria.

Subsequently, in 2021, 2022, 2023 and 2024 respectively, the WNO organized a second, third and fourth edition of the competition as part of the office's World IP Day activities each year.

The fifth edition of the competition was launched on April 30, 2025, again as part of the World IP Day celebrations for this year. The competition invited students of tertiary institutions across Nigeria to submit essays not exceeding 1500 words on the topic "IP and Music: Harnessing Nigeria's Music Industry for Economic Growth". As in previous years, the objective was to provide an opportunity for students to research and learn more about the field of IP, as well as contribute to policy development, with a focus this time around on IP and Music.

By the final submission deadline of June 30, 2025, the WNO had received a total of 188 entries¹ from students representing 57 tertiary institutions across Nigeria and 40 disciplines. This shows significant growth from the previous (2024) edition which had submissions from students across 29 tertiary institutions and 19 disciplines.

¹ The deadline for submissions was extended from June 20 to June 30, 2025.

Assessment of Entries

Preliminary Review

Prior to the commencement of the assessment process, two main tasks were completed by the WNO as part of the preliminary review process.

- a. First, all entries were completely anonymized for the assessment process and assigned unique competition identification numbers (WNO 001 – WNO 188). These serial competition identification numbers were assigned in accordance with the submission timestamp of each entry.
- b. Second, an initial preliminary review of the 188 entries was carried out, to ensure compliance of submissions received with the stated rules of the competition. This review resulted in the disqualification of 28 entries to the competition. A total of 160 valid entries were consequently maintained for transmission to the panel of judges for formal assessment. The studentship of contestants was verified through their student identity cards or letters from relevant authorities in the institution.

Judges' Assessment

The assessment by the Panel of Judges was based on a pre-determined set of criteria which was maintained through the competition's three stages of assessment. In keeping with the competition's objectives, the equally weighted assessment criteria were as follows:

- Author's imagination and originality (20)
- Relevance of essay to broader national, regional, and/or international developments (20)
- Author's demonstrated understanding of the field of intellectual property, and ability to link concepts and/or issues associated with IP, to ideas or suggestions expressed in essay (20)
- Grammatical accuracy, clarity of expression, flow, and thought, integrity of structural layout (20)

- Practicability and relevance of policy suggestions and/or pathways to Nigeria (20)

As noted above, a three-stage process was adopted in assessing the entries:

Stage one

For the first round of assessment, each of the 20 judges was assigned 8 serial anonymized entries. All the judges were tasked with the responsibility of identifying the top 3 entries from the entries received. The top three entries from each judge's first round assessment automatically proceeded to the second stage of the competition.

A total of 60 shortlisted entries therefore proceeded to stage 2 of the assessment process. The stage 1 results and 60 shortlisted entries are indicated below²:

Stage Two

For the second assessment round, the judges were placed into five blind-groups⁶ comprising four judges each. Each blind group was assigned 12 entries from the shortlisted 60 entries above. In the assignment of entries to groups, the planning committee ensured that none of the groups was assigned an essay that any of the respective group members had previously assessed, while also ensuring that the entries assigned to each blind group were based on a random combination of the top 3 in the initial judging stage (stage one). Adopting the same criteria from the previous round, the judges were required to assess the 12 entries.

Based on an average of the scores assigned to each entry by the four judges in each group, the top four entries of each group were determined. These top four picks of each group emerged as the 20 finalists of the competition. The overall top entry from each respective group, however, formed the top six⁷ essays from the competition and proceeded to stage three of the judging process. The 20 finalists are indicated below:

Group	Code	Average Score	Name	Institution	Discipline	Level
-------	------	---------------	------	-------------	------------	-------

⁵ The Judge returned a tie in the 3rd position, and on our request to select one of them to proceed to stage 2, selected WNO 158

⁶ Under this grouping system, no judge is aware of the other members in their group.

⁷ One of the groups returned a tie in the top position and hence, both proceeded to the final stage. This formed a top 6 instead of a top 5

To ascertain the winner of the competition, the top six entries were reassigned to all 20 judges for a final assessment. Once again, this was based on the same criteria established from the outset. At the end of the third assessment process, using a weighted average of scores allocated to each entry by the participating judges, the Panel of Judges returned an overall winner, a first runner up and a second runner up.
