

Administrative revocation and invalidation mechanisms

Egypt

Under Law No. 82 of 2002 on the Protection of Intellectual Property Rights, the legal framework does not provide for administrative revocation or invalidation mechanisms before the patent office. Invalidation of patents is affected exclusively through judicial proceedings. In this regard, Article (28) provides that patent revocation, or invalidation may only be sought before the competent court.