

Administrative Revocation and Invalidation Mechanisms

Georgia

Under the legislation of Georgia, the validity of a patent may be challenged through two mechanisms: administrative and judicial.

The administrative mechanism is implemented through the re-examination procedure provided under Article 42¹ of the Patent Law of Georgia.

In addition, the validity of a patent may be challenged before a court.