

Submission of Information by Third Parties

Bulgaria

Bulgaria does not have a standalone national post-grant opposition system for national patents. Under Article 46g of Act on Patents and Registration of Utility Models, within three months from the publication of a patent application, any person may file written objections concerning the patentability of the claimed invention, supported by evidence. Persons filing such objections do not become parties to the proceedings. This is therefore a pre-grant third-party observations mechanism, not a post-grant opposition procedure.
