“Division 2–Importation, manufacture and exportation

Importation offence

“69B.

(1) Except with the consent in writing of the NRA, a person must not, without reasonable excuse:

(a) import into Australia:

(i) an active constituent for a proposed or existing chemical product that is neither an approved active constituent nor an exempt active constituent; or

(ii) a chemical product that is neither a registered chemical product nor an exempt chemical product; or

(b) arrange for the importation into Australia, on behalf of another person who, at the time of the arrangements, is neither a resident of, nor carrying on business in, Australia, of such an active constituent or chemical product.

Penalty: 300 penalty units.

“(2) In subsection (1):

‘exempt active constituent’ means an active constituent that is exempted by the NRA from the operation of that subsection;

‘exempt chemical product’ means a chemical product that is exempted by the NRA from the operation of that subsection.

“(3) The NRA may, by writing, exempt an active constituent for a proposed or existing chemical product, or exempt a chemical product, from the operation of subsection (1).
“(4) If:
(a) the importation of an active constituent for a proposed or existing chemical product, or of a chemical product, is prohibited under subsection (1); and
(b) the NRA notifies the Comptroller–General of Customs in writing that the NRA wishes the Customs Act 1901 to apply to that importation; the constituent or product is, for the purposes of that Act, taken to be a prohibited import.

International obligations on import, manufacture or export of active constituents or chemical products

(1) If an active constituent for a proposed or existing chemical product, or a chemical product, is the subject of a prescribed international agreement, the regulations may prohibit the importation into, manufacture in, or exportation from, Australia of the constituent or product, either absolutely or subject to such conditions or restrictions as are prescribed.
(2) A regulation prescribing conditions or restrictions for the purposes of subsection (1) must not be made unless:
(a) the NRA has published in the Gazette, and in any other manner that it thinks appropriate, a notice:
   (i) identifying the agreement; and
   (ii) listing the name or names by which the constituent or product is known to the public; and
   (iii) requiring all persons who manufacture the constituent or product in, import the constituent or product into, or export the constituent or product from, Australia to give to the NRA information in the approved form about movements of the constituent or product into or out of Australia; and
(b) a period of 30 days has elapsed since the notice was published.
(3) The NRA may inform a country, the appropriate authority of a country or a relevant international organisation regarding movements into or out of Australia of an active constituent or chemical product specified in regulations prescribing conditions or restrictions for the purposes of subsection (1).
(4) The NRA may give information under subsection (3) in such terms and on such conditions as the NRA thinks fit, having regard to:
   (a) the requirements of the relevant international agreement; and
   (b) the interest of any person in maintaining confidentiality in relation to movements of the constituent or product.
(5) A person must not, without reasonable excuse, import, manufacture or export an active constituent for a proposed or existing chemical product, or a chemical product, in contravention of a condition or restriction prescribed by a regulation made for the purposes of subsection (1).
Penalty for a contravention of this subsection: 300 penalty units.

Export of chemical products

“69D.
(1) The NRA may, upon the written application of a person wishing to export a chemical product to a foreign country, give to the person or to the government of that country or to any authority of that country named by the person, a certificate setting out the findings (if any) of the NRA in relation to any matters relating to the chemical product that are required to be established for the purposes of its export.
(2) If the NRA becomes aware that a chemical product:
(a) in respect of which an application for registration has been refused; or
(b) the registration of which has been suspended or cancelled; or
(c) the registration of which is subject to conditions significantly limiting the use of the product; is proposed to be exported to a foreign country, the NRA may, on its own initiative, tell a body established in that country and having functions similar to its own functions that the application has been so refused, that the registration has been so suspended or cancelled or that the registration of the product has been made subject to those conditions, as the case may be, and the reasons for that refusal, suspension, cancellation or imposition of conditions.

Annual returns

“69E.

(1) Subject to subsection (2), a person who imports into, manufactures in, or exports from,

Australia:

(a) active constituents for proposed or existing chemical products; or

(b) chemical products;

during the year ending on 30 June 1995 or a later year must give to the NRA, not later than 3 months after the end of the year concerned, a return setting out the respective quantities of those active constituents, or of the active constituents contained in those products, as the case may be, that were so imported, manufactured or exported during that year.

Penalty: 30 penalty units.

“(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a person in respect of a particular year ending on 30 June if the total quantity of the active constituents that were, or were included in chemical products that were, imported, manufactured or exported by the person during that year was not greater than a quantity prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this section.

Keeping of records

“69EA. A person who imports into, manufactures in, or exports from, Australia an active constituent for a proposed or existing chemical product, or a chemical product, must:

(a) keep any records relating to the importation, manufacture or exportation that are reasonably necessary to enable the NRA to find out whether sections 69B, 69C and 69E have been complied with; and

(b) retain those records for 6 years.

Penalty: 30 penalty units.

“Division 3–Powers of entry, search and seizure

Searches to monitor compliance with Part

(1) Subject to this section, to the extent that it is reasonably necessary to do so for the purpose of finding out whether this Part has been complied with, an inspector, with any necessary help, may enter, at any time during ordinary working hours on any day, any premises that the inspector has reasonable cause to believe are premises at which active constituents for proposed or existing chemical products, or chemical products, or records relating to any such constituents or products, are kept and may do any one or more of the following:

(a) search the premises and any thing found at the premises;

(b) inspect and take photographs (including video recordings), or make sketches, of the premises or any thing at the premises;

(c) take and keep samples of any thing at the premises;

(d) inspect any document kept at the premises;

(e) seize any thing at the premises if the inspector believes on reasonable grounds that it is necessary to seize the thing in order to prevent its concealment, loss or destruction;

(f) open any container at the premises for the purpose of inspecting, or taking a sample of, its contents provided that the container is resealed after the inspection is made or the sample is taken;
(g) give any directions for, or with respect to, the detention of a thing that has been seized under paragraph (e).

“(2) An inspector may not:
(a) under paragraph (1)(c)–take samples of a thing; or
(b) under paragraph (1)(e)–seize a thing;
that appears to the inspector to be in the possession or custody of a person unless the inspector makes out and tenders to the person a receipt in or to the effect of the approved form for the sample taken or thing seized.

“(3) An inspector may not, under subsection (1), enter premises that are a residence unless the occupier of the premises has consented to the entry.

“(4) An inspector may not exercise any powers under subsection (1) in relation to premises if:
(a) the occupier of the premises has required the inspector to produce his or her identity card for inspection by the occupier; and
(b) the inspector fails to comply with the requirement.

“(5) If a direction given by an inspector under this section is inconsistent with an earlier direction given by an inspector under this section, the earlier direction is, to the extent of the inconsistency, of no effect.

“(6) A person must not, without reasonable excuse, refuse or fail to comply with a direction given by an inspector under this section.
Penalty: 30 penalty units.

Offence–related searches and seizures

“69EC.

(1) If an inspector has reasonable grounds for suspecting that there may be at any premises a particular thing that may be evidence of the commission of an offence against this Part, the inspector, with any necessary help, may:
(a) with the consent of the occupier of the premises; or
(b) under a warrant issued under section 69ED;
enter the premises and:
(c) search the premises for the thing; and
(d) if the thing is found, take photographs (including video recordings) of the premises or thing, take samples of the thing, seize the thing or undertake more than one of those activities; and
(e) give any directions for, or with respect to, the detention of a thing that has been seized under paragraph (d).

“(2) If, in the course of searching, under a warrant issued under section 69ED, for a particular thing in relation to a particular offence, an inspector finds another thing that the inspector believes, on reasonable grounds, to be:
(a) a thing that may be evidence of the commission of the offence, although not the thing stated in the warrant; or
(b) a thing that may be evidence of the commission of another offence against this Part;
and the inspector believes, on reasonable grounds, that it is necessary to seize the other thing in order to prevent its concealment, loss or destruction, or its use in committing, continuing or repeating the offence or the other offence, the warrant is taken to authorise the inspector to seize the other thing.

Offence–related warrants

(1) An inspector may apply to a magistrate for a warrant under this section in relation to particular premises.
“(2) Subject to subsection (3), a magistrate may issue the warrant in accordance with the prescribed form if he or she is satisfied, by information on oath, that there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that there is, or may be within the next 72 hours, at the premises a particular thing that may be evidence of the commission of an offence against this Part.

“(3) A magistrate must not issue a warrant under subsection (2) unless the informant or some other person has given to the magistrate, either orally or by affidavit, any further information that the magistrate requires about the grounds on which the issue of the warrant is being sought.

“(4) The warrant must:
(a) state the nature of the offence; and
(b) state the purpose for which the warrant is issued; and
(c) authorise an inspector named in the warrant, with any help, and using any force, that is necessary and reasonable, to enter the premises and exercise the powers referred to in paragraphs 69EC(1)(c), (d) and (e) in respect of the thing; and
(d) state whether entry is authorised to be made at any time of the day or night or during stated hours of the day or night; and
(e) state a day, not later than 7 days after the day of issue of the warrant, upon which the warrant ceases to have effect.

Announcement before entry

(1) Subject to subsection (2), an inspector who is authorised to enter premises under a warrant issued under section 69ED or a person helping such an inspector must, before any person enters the premises under the warrant:
(a) announce that he or she is authorised by the warrant to enter the premises; and
(b) give any person at the premises an opportunity to allow entry to the premises.

“(2) The inspector or a person helping the inspector does not have to comply with subsection (1) if he or she believes on reasonable grounds that immediate entry to the premises is required to ensure:
(a) the safety of a person (including the inspector and any person helping the inspector); or
(b) that the effective execution of the warrant is not frustrated.

Details of warrant to be given to occupier

“69EF.

(1) If a warrant under section 69ED in relation to premises is being executed and the occupier of the premises or another person who apparently represents the occupier is present at the premises, the inspector or a person helping the inspector must make a copy of the warrant available to the occupier or other person.

“(2) The inspector must identify himself or herself to the person at the premises.

“(3) The copy of the warrant referred to in subsection (1) need not include the signature of the magistrate who issued the warrant.

Use of equipment to examine or process things

“69EG.

(1) An inspector who enters premises under section 69EB or 69EC or a person helping the inspector may bring to the premises any equipment reasonably necessary for the examination or processing of things found at the premises in order to determine whether they are things that may be seized under that section.

“(2) If:
(a) it is not practicable to examine or process the things at the premises; or
(b) the occupier of the premises consents in writing; the things may be moved to another place so that the examination or processing can be carried out in order to determine whether they are things that may be seized under section 69EB or 69EC, as the case may be.
“(3) If things containing electronically stored information are moved to another place for the purpose of examination or processing under subsection (2), the inspector must, if it is practicable to do so:
(a) tell the occupier the address of the place and the time at which the examination or processing will be carried out; and
(b) allow the occupier or a representative of the occupier to be present during the examination or processing.
“(4) The inspector or a person helping the inspector may operate equipment already at the premises to carry out the examination or processing of a thing found at the premises in order to determine whether it is a thing that may be seized under section 69EB or 69EC, as the case may be, if the inspector or person helping believes on reasonable grounds that:
(a) the equipment is suitable for the examination or processing; and
(b) the examination or processing can be carried out without damage to the equipment or the thing.

Use of electronic equipment at premises

“69EH.
(1) Subject to subsection (4), if a thing found at premises that an inspector has entered under section 69EB or 69EC is or includes records of information in a written or electronic form, the inspector or a person helping the inspector may operate, or the inspector may require the occupier or an employee of the occupier who is present to operate, equipment at the premises to see whether:
(a) the equipment; or
(b) a disk, tape or other storage device that:
   (i) is at the premises; and
   (ii) can be used with, or is associated with, the equipment; contains records that are relevant to determining whether this Part has been complied with.
“(2) If the inspector or a person helping the inspector, after equipment at the premises is operated, finds that the equipment contains records of that kind or that a disk, tape or other storage device at the premises contains records of that kind, he or she may:
(a) seize the equipment or the disk, tape or other storage device; or
(b) if the records can, by using facilities at the premises, be put in documentary form—operate the facilities to put the records in that form and seize the documents so produced; or
(c) if the records can be transferred to a disk, tape or other storage device:
   (i) that is brought to the premises; or
   (ii) that is at the premises and whose use for the purpose has been agreed to in writing by the occupier of the premises; operate the equipment or other facilities to copy the records to the storage device and remove the storage device from the premises.
“(3) An inspector or person helping an inspector may seize equipment under paragraph (2)(a) only if:
(a) it is not practicable to put the relevant records in documentary form as mentioned in paragraph (2)(b) or to copy the records as mentioned in paragraph (2)(c); or
(b) possession by the occupier of the equipment could be an offence.
“(4) An inspector or a person helping an inspector must not operate equipment for the purpose mentioned in subsection (1) unless the inspector or person helping believes on reasonable grounds that the operation of the equipment can be carried out without damage to the equipment.
Compensation for damage to electronic equipment

“69EJ.
(1) If:
   (a) equipment is damaged because of being operated as mentioned in section 69EG or 69EH; and
   (b) the damage was caused by:
       (i) insufficient care being exercised in selecting the person who was to operate the equipment; or
       (ii) insufficient care being exercised by the person operating the equipment;
   the NRA must pay compensation for the damage to the owner of the equipment.

“(2) In determining the amount of compensation payable, regard is to be had to whether the occupier of the premises and the employees and agents of the occupier, if they were available at the time, had provided any warning or guidance as to the operation of the equipment that was appropriate in the circumstances.

Copies of seized things to be given

“69EJ.
(1) Subject to subsection (2), if an inspector who has entered premises under section 69EB or 69EC seizes:
   (a) a document, film, computer file or other thing that can be readily copied; or
   (b) a storage device the information in which can be readily copied;
   the inspector must, if asked to do so by the occupier of the premises or another person who apparently represents the occupier and is present when the seizure takes place, give a copy of the thing or the information to the occupier or other person as soon as practicable after the seizure.

“(2) Subsection (1) does not apply if:
   (a) the thing that has been seized was seized under paragraph 69EH(2)(b) or (c); or
   (b) possession by the occupier of the document, film, computer file, thing or information could be an offence.

Return of things that are seized

“69EK.
(1) If an inspector seizes a thing under section 69EB or 69EC, the inspector must take reasonable steps to return it if the reason for its seizure no longer exists.

“(2) If the thing has not been returned before the end of 60 days after its seizure, the inspector must take reasonable steps to return it unless:
   (a) proceedings in which the thing may be used in evidence were begun before the end of the 60 days and have not been completed (including an appeal to a court in relation to those proceedings); or
   (b) the inspector may keep the thing because of an order under section 69EL; or
   (c) the inspector is authorised by this Part or by an order of a court to keep, destroy or dispose of the thing.

“(3) If the thing has to be returned, it must be returned to the person from whom it was seized or, if that person is not entitled to possess it, to the owner.

“(4) If there is a dispute as to the ownership of the thing, the inspector may keep it until the dispute is resolved.

“(5) This section has effect subject to sections 69EL and 69ET.

Court of summary jurisdiction may permit a thing to be kept “69EL.

(1) If:
(a) before the end of 60 days after an inspector seizes a thing under section 69EB or 69EC; or
(b) before the end of a period previously stated in an order of a court under this section in respect of a thing seized by an inspector as mentioned in paragraph (a);
proceedings in which the thing may be used in evidence have not been brought, the inspector may apply to a court of summary jurisdiction for an order that he or she may keep the thing for a further period.

“(2) If the court is satisfied that it is necessary for the inspector to continue to keep the thing:
(a) for the purposes of an investigation as to whether an offence has been committed; or
(b) to enable evidence of an offence to be secured for the purposes of a prosecution;
the court may order that the inspector may keep the thing for a period stated in the order.

“(3) If the court thinks that notice of the application should be given to any person, it may require such a notice to be given before it hears the application.

Warrants may be granted by telephone in urgent circumstances

“69EM.

(1) If, because of circumstances of urgency, an inspector considers it necessary to do so, the inspector may apply for a warrant under subsection 69ED(1), by telephone, in accordance with this section.

“(2) Before so applying, an inspector must prepare an information of a kind referred to in subsection 69ED(2) that sets out the grounds on which the issue of the warrant is being sought, but the inspector may, if it is necessary to do so, apply before the information has been sworn.

“(3) If a magistrate to whom an application under subsection (1) is made is satisfied:
(a) after having considered the terms of the information prepared in accordance with subsection (2); and
(b) after having received any further information that the magistrate requires about the grounds on which the issue of the warrant is being sought; that there are reasonable grounds for issuing the warrant, the magistrate must complete and sign such a search warrant as the magistrate would have issued under section 69ED if the application had been made in accordance with that section.

“(4) If a magistrate signs a warrant under subsection (3):
(a) the magistrate must notify the inspector of the terms of the warrant and the date on which and the time at which it was signed, and write on it the reasons for the granting of the warrant; and
(b) the inspector must complete a form of warrant in the terms notified to the inspector by the magistrate and write on it the name of the magistrate and the date on which and the time at which the warrant was signed.

“(5) If an inspector completes a form of warrant in accordance with subsection (4), the inspector must, not later than the day after the date on which the warrant ended or was executed, whichever is the earlier, send to the magistrate who signed the warrant the form of warrant completed by the inspector and the information duly sworn in connection with the warrant.

“(6) Upon receiving the documents referred to in subsection (5), the magistrate must attach to them the warrant signed by the magistrate and deal with the documents in the manner in which the magistrate would have dealt with the information if the application for the warrant had been made in accordance with section 69ED.

“(7) A form of warrant duly completed by an inspector in accordance with subsection (4) is, if it is in accordance with the terms of the warrant signed by the magistrate, authority for any entry, search, seizure or direction that the warrant so signed authorises.

“(8) If it is material, in any proceedings, for a court to be satisfied that an entry, search, seizure or direction was authorised in accordance with this section, and the warrant signed by a magistrate in accordance with this section authorising the entry, search, seizure or direction is not produced in evidence, the court must assume, unless the contrary is proved, that the entry, search, seizure or direction was not authorised by such a warrant.

(1) Subject to subsection (2), an inspector who has entered premises under this Division may, to the extent that it is reasonably necessary for the purpose of finding out whether this Part has been complied with, require a person to give information to the inspector and to produce any documents referred to by the inspector.

(2) An inspector is not entitled to make a requirement of a person under subsection (1) unless the inspector produces his or her identity card for inspection by the person.

“69EQ. It is a reasonable excuse for a person to refuse or fail to give information, produce a document or do any other thing that the person is required to do by or under this Part that the information, the production of the document or the doing of that other thing would tend to incriminate the person.

Copying of documents

“69ER. If an inspector inspects a document under section 69EB or seizes a document under section 69EC or a person produces a document to an inspector in accordance with a requirement under subsection 69EN(1), the inspector may make copies of, or take extracts from, the document.

Forfeiture

(1) If a person is convicted of an offence against this Part in respect of a thing that the court finds to be the property of that person, the court may order all or any part of the thing to be forfeited to the NRA.

“(2) If the court makes an order under subsection (1) in respect of, or in respect of part of, a thing, the thing, or that part of the thing, as the case may be, becomes the property of the NRA and may be dealt with or disposed of in any manner that the NRA considers appropriate.
