(a) a person is a permanent resident (worked out under the old Act) immediately before the commencement day; and

(1) For the purposes of section 21, a person satisfies the residence requirement if the person has been present in Australia as a permanent resident for:

7 Applications under the old Act

Old descent applications

(1) If a person’s application (the old application) made under section 10B, 10C or 11 of the old Act had not been decided immediately before the commencement day, the old application is, on and from the commencement day, taken to be an application (a new application) to become an Australian citizen made under section 16 of the new Act.

Note: The new application will be assessed under the provisions of the new Act. The effect of this subitem is that some of those provisions will be applied at the time the old application or the old declaration, as the case requires, was made under the old Act.
