Part 1—Introduction

1 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Schedule:

- The ACMA is to formulate schemes for the conversion, over time, of the transmission of television broadcasting services from analog mode to digital mode.

- There is to be a simulcast period throughout which broadcasters are to transmit their television programs in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode.

- At the end of the simulcast period, analog transmissions are to cease.

- Broadcasters must meet standards relating to quotas for the transmission of programs in HDTV digital mode.

- Broadcasters will be allowed to use spare transmission capacity on digital transmission channels to provide datacasting services.

- Owners and operators of broadcasting transmission towers must give digital broadcasters and datacasters access to the towers for the purposes of installing or maintaining digital transmitters.

- There are to be reviews before specified dates of certain elements of the digital television regulatory regime.

Clause 6

Part 2—Commercial television

6 Commercial television conversion scheme

(1) As soon as practicable after the commencement of this clause, the ACMA must, by writing, formulate a scheme (the commercial television conversion scheme) for the conversion, over time, of the transmission of commercial television broadcasting services from analog mode to digital mode.

(2) The commercial television conversion scheme is to be divided into the following Parts:

Policy objectives

(3) Part A of the commercial television conversion scheme must be directed towards ensuring the achievement of the following policy objectives:

(a) the objective that each holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for a metropolitan licence area is required to commence transmitting the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in SDTV digital mode in that area on 1 January 2001;

(b) the objective that each holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for a regional licence area is required to commence transmitting the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in SDTV digital mode in that area by such date during the period:

(i) beginning on 1 January 2001; and
(ii) ending immediately before 1 January 2004;

as the ACMA determines under the scheme;

(c) the objective that there should be a transitional period for a metropolitan licence area or a regional licence area, that is:

(i) to be known as the simulcast period; and
Clause 6

(ii) in the case of a metropolitan licence area—to run for 9 years or for such other period as is determined under subclause 6A(1) in relation to that area; and

(iia) in the case of a regional licence area—to run until the end of 31 December 2013 or for such other period as is determined under subclause 6A(2) in relation to that area; and

(iii) in the case of a metropolitan licence area—to begin on 1 January 2001; and

(iv) in the case of a regional licence area—to begin on the date determined in relation to that area in accordance with paragraph (b);

throughout which the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for that area is required to transmit simultaneously the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area;

(d) the objective that, throughout the simulcast period for a licence area, the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for that area should be authorised, under one or more transmitter licences, to use one or more additional channels to transmit the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area;

(e) the objective that each additional channel should occupy 7 MHz of bandwidth;

(f) the objective that, as soon as is practicable after the start of the simulcast period for a licence area, and throughout the remainder of that period, the transmission of a commercial television broadcasting service in SDTV digital mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area should achieve the same level of coverage and potential reception quality as is achieved by the transmission of that service in analog mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area;

(g) the objective that, during the simulcast period for a licence area, there should, as far as is practicable, be co-location of:

(i) transmitters used by the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for that area to transmit the commercial television broadcasting service
Clause 6

concerned in digital mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area; and
(ii) transmitters used by the holder to transmit that service in analog mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area;

(ga) the objective that, during the simulcast period for a licence area, no transmissions of commercial television broadcasting services in analog mode are to be made using a transmitter located in so much of that area as is a digital-only local market area;

(h) the objective that, at the end of the simulcast period for a licence area, all transmissions of commercial television broadcasting services in analog mode in that area are to cease;

(ha) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for a licence area comes into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for that area, each holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for that area is to transmit the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area after the end of the simulcast period using such channel or channels as are allotted under the television licence area plan for that area;

(hb) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for a licence area does not come into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for that area, each holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for that area is to transmit the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area during the period:

(i) beginning at the end of the simulcast period; and

(ii) ending immediately before the television licence area plan comes into force;

using such channel or channels as the ACMA allots under the scheme or a digital channel plan, having regard to:

(iii) the need to plan the most efficient use of the spectrum; and

(iv) the other relevant policy objectives of the scheme;

(hc) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for a licence area does not come into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for that area, each holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for that area is to transmit the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area after the television licence area plan comes into force using such channel or channels as are allotted under the television licence area plan for that area;

(j) the objective that, after the end of the simulcast period for a licence area, the transmission of a commercial television broadcasting service in SDTV digital mode in so much of that area as was not a digital-only local market area should achieve the same level of coverage and potential reception quality as was achieved by the transmission of that service in analog mode in so much of that area as was not a digital-only local market area immediately before the end of that period;

(ja) the objective that, after a local market area becomes a digital-only local market area, the transmission of a commercial television broadcasting service in SDTV digital mode in the digital-only local market area should achieve the same level of coverage and potential reception quality as was achieved by the transmission of that service in analog mode in the local market area immediately before the local market area became a digital-only local market area;

(k) the objective that holders of commercial television broadcasting licences be permitted to use any spare transmission capacity that is available on the digital transmission channels for the purpose of the transmission of either or both of the following:
   (i) datacasting services provided under, and in accordance with the conditions of, datacasting licences;
   (ii) designated teletext services;

(l) the objective that the ACMA is to consult holders of commercial television broadcasting licences about the implementation of the scheme;

(m) the objective that, if the implementation of the scheme affects particular broadcasting transmission towers, the ACMA is to consult the owners and operators of those towers;

(n) the objective that, in allotting channels under the scheme or a digital channel plan, the ACMA must have regard to:
   (i) the need to plan the most efficient use of the spectrum; and
   (ii) the other relevant policy objectives of the scheme.
Clause 6

(4) Subclause (3) does not prevent the commercial television conversion scheme from allowing the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for a regional licence area to transmit the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area during the whole or a part of the period:

(a) beginning on 1 January 2001; and
(b) ending immediately before the start of the simulcast period for that area;

so long as that transmission complies with such requirements as are ascertained in accordance with the scheme.

(5) Subclause (3) does not prevent Part A of the commercial television conversion scheme from allowing the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for a licence area to transmit, on a test basis, the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area before the start of the simulcast period for that area, so long as that transmission:

(a) complies with such requirements as are ascertained in accordance with that Part of the scheme; and

(b) occurs during a period ascertained in accordance with that Part of the scheme.

(5A) If:

(a) the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence holds another commercial television broadcasting licence; and

(b) the other licence was allocated under section 38A or 38B; and

(c) the licences relate to the same licence area (within the meaning of whichever of those sections is applicable); and

(d) either:

(i) if the other licence was allocated before the commencement of section 38C—at or about the time when the other licence was allocated, the holder gave the ACMA a written notice electing that this subclause apply to both of the commercial television broadcasting services concerned; or

(ii) if the other licence was allocated after the commencement of section 38C—before the end of the simulcast period for the licence area of the other licence, the holder gave the ACMA a written notice electing that this subclause apply to the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the licences;
Clause 6

then:

(e) paragraphs (3)(d), (e), (ha), (hb) and (hc) do not apply to the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the licences; and

(f) Part A of the commercial television conversion scheme must be directed towards ensuring the achievement of the objectives set out in subclause (5B).

(5AA) If:

(a) the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence holds another commercial television broadcasting licence; and

(b) the other licence was allocated under section 38A before 1 January 2001; and

(c) the licences relate to the same licence area (within the meaning of that section); and

(d) within 90 days after the commencement of this subclause, the holder gives the ACMA a written notice electing that this subclause apply to both of the commercial television broadcasting services concerned;

then:

(e) paragraphs (3)(d), (e), (ha), (hb) and (hc) do not apply to the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the licences; and

(f) Part A of the commercial television conversion scheme must be directed towards ensuring the achievement of the objectives set out in subclause (5B).

(5B) The objectives mentioned in paragraphs (5A)(f) and (5AA)(f) are as follows:

(a) the objective that, throughout the simulcast period for the licence area, the holder should be authorised, under one or more transmitter licences, to use one or more particular channels to transmit the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the commercial television broadcasting licences referred to in whichever of paragraph (5A)(a) or (5AA)(a) is applicable in digital mode in that area using multi-channelling transmission capacity on each channel;
Clause 6

(b) the objective that each channel should occupy 7 MHz of bandwidth;

(c) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for that area comes into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for the licence area, the holder is to transmit the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the commercial television broadcasting licences referred to in whichever of paragraph (5A)(a) or (5AA)(a) is applicable in digital mode in that area after the end of the simulcast period using multi-channelling transmission capacity of a channel or channels allotted under the television licence area plan for the licence area;

(d) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for the licence area does not come into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for the licence area, the holder is to transmit the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the commercial television broadcasting licences referred to in whichever of paragraph (5A)(a) or (5AA)(a) is applicable in digital mode in that area during the period:

(i) beginning at the end of the simulcast period; and

(ii) ending immediately before the television licence area plan comes into force;

using multi-channelling transmission capacity of a channel or channels allotted by the ACMA under the scheme or a digital channel plan, having regard to:

(iii) the need to plan the most efficient use of the spectrum; and

(iv) the other relevant policy objectives of the scheme;

(e) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for the licence area does not come into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for the licence area, the holder is to transmit the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the commercial television broadcasting licences referred to in whichever of paragraph (5A)(a) or (5AA)(a) is applicable in digital mode in that area after the television licence area plan comes into force using multi-channelling transmission capacity of a channel or channels allotted under the television licence area plan for that area.
Clause 6

(5BA) An election made under subclause (5A) or (5AA) remains in force until:

(a) it is revoked, by written notice given to the ACMA, by:
   (i) if neither of the licences referred to in whichever of paragraph (5A)(a) or (5AA)(a) is applicable has been transferred since the making of the election—the holder of the licence allocated under section 38A or 38B; or
   (ii) if the licence allocated under section 38A or 38B has been transferred since the making of the election—the holder of that licence; or
   (iii) if a parent licence referred to in whichever of section 38A or 38B is applicable has been transferred since the making of the election—the holder of that parent licence; and

(b) the ACMA approves the revocation under clause 7B.

(5C) Paragraphs (3)(c), (d), (e), (f), (h) and (j) do not apply to a commercial television broadcasting service provided under a licence allocated under section 38B.

Note: Under section 38B, it is a condition of the licence that the service may only be transmitted in digital mode.

(5CA) For the purposes of paragraphs (3)(f), (j) and (ja), ignore any commercial television broadcasting service provided under a licence allocated under section 38c.

(5D) For the purposes of paragraphs (3)(hb) and (n) and (5B)(d), in determining the most efficient use of the spectrum, the ACMA is to have regard to:

(a) the need for spectrum to be made available for allocation for the purposes of the transmission of datacasting services under, and in accordance with the conditions of, datacasting licences; and

(b) such other matters as the ACMA considers relevant.

(6) The objective mentioned in paragraph (3)(g) (which deals with co-location of transmitters) does not prevent Part A of the commercial television conversion scheme from making provision for the location of digital transmitters otherwise than as mentioned in that paragraph, where the ACMA is satisfied that an alternative location is appropriate having regard to:

(a) the remaining objectives set out in subclause (3); and
Clause 6

(b) the costs that are likely to be incurred by the licensee concerned; and
(c) such other matters (if any) as the ACMA considers relevant.

Remote licence areas—start-up of digital transmission

(6A) Part B of the commercial television conversion scheme must be directed towards ensuring the achievement of the policy objective that each holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for a remote licence area is required to commence transmitting the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in SDTV digital mode in that area by such date as the ACMA determines under the scheme.

Remote licence areas—simulcast period

(7) Part B of the commercial television conversion scheme may make provision for a transitional period for a specified remote licence area, that is to be known as the simulcast period, throughout which the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for that area is required to transmit simultaneously the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode in that area.

(7A) The simulcast period for a particular remote licence area:
(a) is to begin on the date determined in relation to that area in accordance with subclause (6A); and
(b) is to run for such period as the ACMA determines under the scheme.

Note: See also clause 6B.

Special rules for section 38B licences in remote licence areas

(7B) Special rules apply to an exempt remote area service for a remote licence area for which an exempt licence has been allocated if written notice is given to the ACMA electing that this subclause applies by:
(a) the 2 existing licensees for that licence area (where the exempt licence is allocated to a joint-venture company under subsection 38B(5)); or
Clause 6

(b) the licensee to whom the exempt licence is allocated (where the exempt licence is allocated under subsection 38B(6), (7), (8) or (9)).

The notice must be given within the 12-month period beginning at the later of the following:

(c) when the exempt licence is allocated;

(d) the commencement of this paragraph.

(7C) The election remains in force for a company until:

(a) it is revoked, by written notice given to the ACMA, by:
   (i) a company that made the election; or
   (ii) if the election was made in relation to an exempt licence allocated under subsection 38B(5) and a parent licence has been transferred—by the licensee of the parent licence; or
   (iii) if the election was made in relation to an exempt licence allocated under subsection 38B(6), (7), (8) or (9) and the exempt licence has been transferred—by the licensee of the exempt licence; and

(b) the ACMA approves the revocation under clause 7B.

(7F) An exempt remote area service for a remote licence area is:

(a) each of these:
   (i) a commercial television broadcasting service provided by a joint-venture company under an exempt licence that was allocated to the company under subsection 38B(5) for that licence area; and
   (ii) the commercial television broadcasting services provided under the parent licences for that licence area; or

(b) each of these:
   (i) a commercial television broadcasting service provided by a licensee under an exempt licence that was allocated to the licensee under subsection 38B(6), (7), (8) or (9) for that licence area; and
   (ii) each other commercial television broadcasting service provided by that licensee for that licence area; or
   (c) a commercial television broadcasting service provided by a licensee under an exempt licence for that licence area that is transferred to the licensee; or
Clause 6

(d) a commercial television broadcasting service provided under a parent licence for that licence area that is transferred to the licensee.

(7G) Subclauses (7) and (7A) do not apply to an exempt remote area service provided under an exempt licence while an election under subclause (7B) is in force for the service.

(7H) Part B of the commercial television conversion scheme must be directed towards ensuring the achievement of the policy objective that each exempt remote area service for a remote licence area should be authorised to be transmitted in SDTV digital mode using multi-channelling transmission capacity while an election under subclause (7B) is in force for the service.

_HDTV multi-channelled commercial television broadcasting services_

(7J) This clause does not apply to a HDTV multi-channelled commercial television broadcasting service.

_SDTV multi-channelled commercial television broadcasting services_

(7JA) This clause does not apply to a SDTV multi-channelled commercial television broadcasting service.

_Licences allocated under section 36 on or after 1 January 2007_

(7K) This clause does not apply in relation to a commercial television broadcasting licence if the licence was allocated under section 36 on or after 1 January 2007.

_Licences allocated under section 38C_

(7KA) This clause does not apply to a commercial television broadcasting licence allocated under section 38c.

_Licences allocated under subsection 40(1) on or after 1 January 2007_

(7L) This clause does not apply in relation to a commercial television broadcasting licence if the licence was allocated under subsection 40(1) on or after 1 January 2007.
Simulcasting

(8) In determining, for the purposes of paragraph (3)(c) and subclause (7), whether the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence transmits simultaneously the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode:

(a) if a relevant determination is in force under subclause (9)—ignore any advertising or sponsorship matter covered by the determination, so long as the licensee complies with such conditions (if any) as are specified in the determination; and

(b) if a relevant determination is in force under subclause (10)—ignore any television programs covered by the determination, so long as the licensee complies with such conditions (if any) as are specified in the determination; and

(c) ignore any digital program-enhancement content (as defined by subclause (14)); and

(d) ignore a particular television program transmitted using multi-channelling transmission capacity, where:

(i) the program is a scheduled program that provides live coverage of a designated event (as defined by subclause (20)); and

(ii) the other television program broadcast using that multi-channelling transmission capacity is a regularly scheduled news program; and

(iii) the end of the designated event is delayed for reasons that are not within the control of the licensee or of the person (if any) who supplied the first-mentioned program to the licensee (either directly or indirectly through one or more interposed persons); and

(iv) the sole purpose of the use of the multi-channelling transmission capacity is to allow viewers of the SDTV version of the commercial television broadcasting service to choose between viewing the regularly scheduled news program and viewing so much of the designated event as overlaps the other television program; and

(e) ignore an electronic program guide (as defined by subclause (24)).
Clause 6

(8A) For the purposes of this Act (other than paragraph (3)(c) or subclauses (7), (8) and (11) of this clause or Division 2 of Part 4 of this Schedule) and any other law of the Commonwealth, if the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence transmits matter that is required to be ignored by paragraph (8)(c), (d) or (e) of this clause, that matter is taken to be part of the commercial television broadcasting service concerned.

(9) The ACMA may, by writing, determine that paragraph (8)(a) applies to specified advertising or sponsorship matter transmitted by a specified commercial television broadcasting licensee during a specified period. The specified advertising or sponsorship matter may consist of all advertising or sponsorship matter transmitted by the licensee concerned. The specified period may consist of the simulcast period for the licence area concerned.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

(10) The ACMA may, by writing, determine that paragraph (8)(b) applies to specified television programs transmitted by a specified commercial television broadcasting licensee during a specified period.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

(11) The ACMA must not make a determination under subclause (9) or (10) unless the ACMA is satisfied that, if it were assumed that the determination were made, the version of the commercial television broadcasting service transmitted in SDTV digital mode will be substantially the same as the version of the service transmitted in analog mode.

(12) A determination under subclause (9) or (10) is a disallowable instrument for the purposes of section 46A of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

(13) A reference in this clause to advertising or sponsorship matter is a reference to advertising or sponsorship matter (whether or not of a commercial kind).

Digital program-enhancement content

(14) For the purposes of this clause, digital program-enhancement content is content:
Clause 6

(a) whether in the form of text; or
(b) whether in the form of data; or
(c) whether in the form of speech, music or other sounds; or
(d) whether in the form of visual images (animated or otherwise); or
(e) whether in any other form; or
(f) whether in any combination of forms;
where:

(g) the content is transmitted using a digital modulation technique; and

(h) the sole purpose of the transmission of the content is to enhance a television program (the primary program); and

(i) the subject matter of the content is closely and directly linked to the subject matter of the primary program; and

(j) the licensee transmits simultaneously the content and the primary program; and

(k) either:
   (i) the licensee transmits simultaneously the primary program in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode; or
   (ii) the primary program is covered by a determination under subclause (9) or (10).

Note: For example, if the primary program is live coverage of a tennis match, the digital program-enhancement content could consist of any or all of the following:
(a) the match from different camera angles;
(b) each player’s results in past matches;
(c) video highlights from those past matches;
(d) each player’s ranking and career highlights.

Designated event

Clause 6A

(22) A determination under subclause (21) has effect accordingly.

(23) A determination under subclause (21) is a disallowable instrument for the purposes of section 46A of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

Electronic program guide

(24) For the purposes of this clause, an electronic program guide is matter transmitted using a uniform digital modulation technique, where the matter consists of no more than:

(a) a schedule of the television programs provided by:
   (i) the commercial television broadcasting service transmitting the matter; or
   (ii) all of the commercial television broadcasting services and all of the national television broadcasting services; or

(b) a combination of:
   (i) a schedule covered by paragraph (a); and
   (ii) items of factual information, and/or items of comment, about some or all of the programs in the schedule, where each item is brief and in the form of text; or

(c) a combination of:
   (i) a schedule covered by paragraph (a); and
   (ii) a facility the sole purpose of which is to enable an end-user to select, and commence viewing, one or more of the programs in the schedule; or

(d) a combination of:
   (i) a schedule covered by paragraph (a); and
   (ii) items of factual information, and/or items of comment, about some or all of the programs in the schedule, where each item is brief and in the form of text; and
   (iii) a facility the sole purpose of which is to enable an end-user to select, and commence viewing, one or more of the programs in the schedule.

   the end of the period specified in the varied determination must not be later than the end of 31 December 2013.
   Note: See subclause (11).

(11) If there is a variation (the current variation) of:
   (a) a subclause (1) determination; or
   (b) a subclause (2) determination;
   subclauses (3), (4) and (10) do not apply, so long as:
   (c) the end of the period specified in the determination, as it stood before the current variation, would be likely to result in significant difficulties of a technical or engineering nature for:
Clause 6B

(i) a commercial television broadcasting licensee for the licence area concerned; or
(ii) a national broadcaster; and

(d) those difficulties could not reasonably have been foreseen by the commercial television broadcasting licensee or the national broadcaster, as the case requires, as at 6 months before the end of the period specified in the determination as it stood before the current variation; and

(e) the end of the period specified in the varied determination is not later than the end of 30 June 2014.

Consultation

(13) Before making or varying:
(a) a subclause (1) determination; or
(b) a subclause (2) determination;
the Minister must consult the ACMA.

(2) Subclause (1) does not apply in such circumstances (if any) as are specified in a legislative instrument made by the Minister.

7 Scheme may confer administrative powers on the ACMA

The commercial television conversion scheme may make provision with respect to a matter by conferring on the ACMA a power to make a decision of an administrative character.

7A Scheme may confer power to make digital channel plans

(1) The commercial television conversion scheme may provide for the ACMA to make one or more plans (digital channel plans) that:
(a) allot channels to holders of commercial television broadcasting licences; and
Clause 7AA

(b) set out any technical limitations on the use of a particular channel that the ACMA believes should be shown in the plan; and

(c) set out whether the use of a channel depends on any event or circumstances described in the plan.

(2) The commercial television conversion scheme may provide that a digital channel plan may include other matters.

(3) The commercial television conversion scheme may provide for the ACMA to vary a digital channel plan.

(4) Subclause (1) does not apply in relation to a commercial television broadcasting licence allocated under section 38c.

7AA Allotment of channels after the television licence area plan comes into force

(1) A digital channel plan, to the extent to which it relates to a particular licence area, ceases to have effect when the television licence area plan for that area comes into force.

(2) The commercial television conversion scheme, to the extent to which it allots channels for a particular licence area, ceases to have effect when the television licence area plan for that area comes into force.

7B Revocation of multi-channelling election

Scope

(1) This clause applies if a commercial television broadcasting licensee gives the ACMA a notice of revocation under subclause 6(5BA) or (7C).

Approval of revocation

(2) If the ACMA is satisfied that there is sufficient radiofrequency spectrum available, the ACMA must, by notice in writing given to the licensee:

(a) approve the revocation; and

(b) specify a day as the day on which the revocation takes effect; and
Clause 8

(c) vary the relevant digital channel plan under the commercial television conversion scheme to allot a channel to the licensee.

(3) For the purposes of subclause (2), any part of the spectrum covered by a determination under subsection 34(3) is taken not to be available.

(4) The ACMA may, before the day specified under paragraph (2)(b), by notice in writing, vary the day on which the revocation takes effect.

Refusal to approve revocation

(5) If the ACMA refuses to approve the revocation, the ACMA must give written notice of the refusal to the licensee.

8 Transmitter licences

Grant of additional spectrum for digital transmission

(1) The commercial television conversion scheme must make provision for the issue of transmitter licences authorising transmissions of commercial television broadcasting services in digital mode.

Return of spectrum if digital transmission does not begin

(2) Part A of the commercial television conversion scheme must make provision for requiring the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence to surrender one or more transmitter licences authorising digital transmission if:

(a) the holder does not commence digital transmission as mentioned in paragraph 6(3)(a) or (b) of this Schedule; and

(c) under the scheme, the ACMA gives the holder a written direction to:
   (i) resume digital transmission in that area within the period specified in the direction (being a period that is not longer than one month); and
   (ii) continue digital transmission throughout the simulcast period for that area; and
(d) the holder does not comply with a direction referred to in paragraph (c); and
(e) the holder does not satisfy the ACMA that there are exceptional circumstances.

Return of spectrum if format and HDTV requirements contravened

(7) Part A of the commercial television conversion scheme must make provision for requiring the holder of a commercial television broadcasting licence for a licence area to surrender the transmitter licence or licences that authorised the transmission of the commercial television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area if:

(a) the holder contravenes:
   (i) paragraph 7(1)(ma) of Schedule 2; or
   (ii) a SDTV commercial television format standard; or

However, the amount of transmission capacity covered by the replacement licence must be less than the amount of transmission capacity covered by the surrendered licence.

(11) Part B of the commercial television conversion scheme may make provision for the variation of the conditions of a transmitter licence that authorised analog transmission of a commercial television broadcasting service in a remote licence area so as to ensure that the licence authorises digital transmission of that service in that area.
Clause 9

9 Submission of implementation plans to the ACMA

(3) The Minister must not make a determination under subclause (2) that specifies an area that is within the licence area of a commercial television broadcasting licence unless, when the determination is made:

(a) the specified area does not have coverage of any commercial television broadcasting service that is:
   (i) provided by the commercial television broadcasting licensee in the licence area; and
   (ii) transmitted in digital mode; and

(b) the Minister is satisfied that:
   (i) fewer than 500 people reside in the specified area; or
   (ii) the specified area is an underserviced area; and

Clause 9A

(i) provided in the licence area; and
(ii) transmitted in analog mode; or

(b) the specified area does not have coverage of one or more national television broadcasting services that are:
   (i) provided in the coverage area that corresponds to the licence area; and
   (ii) transmitted in analog mode.

(6) For the purposes of subclause (5), disregard a service that does no more than:
   (a) re-transmit programs that are transmitted by a commercial television broadcasting service; or
   (b) re-transmit programs that are transmitted by a national television broadcasting service.

(7) For the purposes of subparagraph (3)(b)(ii), a specified area within a licence area is an underserviced area if:

       (i) provided in the licence area by a person other than the commercial television broadcasting licensee; and
       (ii) transmitted in digital mode; or
   (b) the specified area does not, or will not, have coverage of the national television broadcasting services that are:
       (i) provided in the coverage area that corresponds to the licence area; and
       (ii) transmitted in digital mode.

(1) As soon as practicable after the commencement of this clause, the ACMA must, by writing, formulate a scheme (the national television conversion scheme) for the conversion, over time, of the transmission of national television broadcasting services from analog mode to digital mode.

Note: Under clause 32, the scheme does not take effect until approved by the Minister.

(2) The national television conversion scheme is to be divided into the following Parts:

(a) Part A, which is to deal with coverage areas that are not remote coverage areas;

(b) Part B, which is to deal with remote coverage areas.

Policy objectives

(3) Part A of the national television conversion scheme must be directed towards ensuring the achievement of the following policy objectives:

(b) the objective that each national broadcaster is required to commence transmitting the national television broadcasting service concerned in SDTV digital mode in a regional coverage area by such date as is ascertained in relation to that area in accordance with an implementation plan that was given by the broadcaster, and is in force, under clause 20;

(c) the objective that there should be a transitional period for a coverage area, that is:

(i) to be known as the simulcast period; and
Clause 19

(ii) to begin on the date mentioned in whichever of paragraphs (a) and (b) is applicable; and

(iii) to end at the end of the simulcast period (within the meaning of paragraph 6(3)(c) of this Schedule) for the licence area that corresponds to that coverage area; throughout which a national broadcaster is required to transmit simultaneously the national television broadcasting service concerned in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode in so much of that coverage area as is not a digital-only local market area;

(d) the objective that, throughout the simulcast period for a coverage area, each national broadcaster should be authorised, under one or more transmitter licences, to use one or more channels to transmit the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that area;

(e) the objective that each additional channel should occupy 7 MHz of bandwidth;

(f) the objective that, as soon as is practicable after the start of the simulcast period for a coverage area, and throughout the remainder of that period, the transmission of a national television broadcasting service in SDTV digital mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area should achieve the same level of coverage and potential reception quality as is achieved by the transmission of that service in analog mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area;

(g) the objective that, during the simulcast period for a coverage area, there should, as far as is practicable, be co-location of:

(i) transmitters used by a national broadcaster to transmit the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area; and

(ii) transmitters used by the national broadcaster to transmit that service in analog mode in so much of that area as is not a digital-only local market area;

(ga) the objective that, during the simulcast period for a coverage area, no transmissions of national television broadcasting services in analog mode are to be made using a transmitter located in so much of that area as is a digital-only local market area;
Clause 19

(h) the objective that, at the end of the simulcast period for a coverage area, all transmissions of national television broadcasting services in analog mode in that area are to cease;

(ha) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for the licence area that corresponds to a coverage area comes into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for that coverage area, each national broadcaster is to transmit the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that coverage area after the end of the simulcast period using such channel or channels as are allotted under the television licence area plan for that licence area;

(hb) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for the licence area that corresponds to a coverage area does not come into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for that coverage area, each national broadcaster is to transmit the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that coverage area during the period:

(i) beginning at the end of the simulcast period; and

(ii) ending immediately before the television licence area plan comes into force;

using such channel or channels as the ACMA allots under the scheme or a digital channel plan, having regard to:

(iii) the need to plan the most efficient use of the spectrum; and

(iv) the other relevant policy objectives of the scheme;

(hc) the objective that, if the television licence area plan for the licence area that corresponds to a coverage area does not come into force immediately after the end of the simulcast period for that coverage area, each national broadcaster is to transmit the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in that coverage area after the television licence area plan comes into force using such channel or channels as are allotted under the television licence area plan for that licence area;

(j) the objective that, after the end of the simulcast period for a coverage area, the transmission of a national television broadcasting service in SDTV digital mode in so much of that area as was not a digital-only local market area should achieve the same level of coverage and potential reception quality as was achieved by the transmission of that service in analog mode in so much of that area as was not a digital-only local market area immediately before the end of that period;

(ja) the objective that, after a local market area becomes a digital-only local market area, the transmission of a national television broadcasting service in SDTV digital mode in the digital-only local market area should achieve the same level of coverage and potential reception quality as was achieved by the transmission of that service in analog mode in the local market area immediately before the local market area became a digital-only local market area;

(k) the objective that national broadcasters be permitted to use any spare transmission capacity that is available on the digital transmission channels for the purpose of the transmission of datacasting services provided under, and in accordance with the conditions of, datacasting licences or for the purpose of the transmission of national radio broadcasting services;

(l) the objective that the ACMA is to consult with national broadcasters about the implementation of the scheme;

(m) the objective that, if the implementation of the scheme affects particular broadcasting transmission towers, the ACMA is to consult the owners and operators of those towers;

(n) the objective that, in allotting channels under the scheme or a digital channel plan, the ACMA must have regard to:
   (i) the need to plan the most efficient use of the spectrum; and
   (ii) the other relevant policy objectives of the scheme.

(3A) The ACMA must consult with national broadcasters about the implementation of the scheme.

(4) Subclause (3) does not prevent the national television conversion scheme from allowing a national broadcaster to transmit the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in a regional coverage area during the whole or a part of the period:
   (a) beginning on 1 January 2001; and
   (b) ending immediately before the start of the simulcast period for that area;
Clause 19

so long as that transmission complies with such requirements as are ascertained in accordance with the scheme.

(5) Subclause (3) does not prevent Part A of the national television conversion scheme from allowing a national broadcaster to transmit, on a test basis, the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in a coverage area before the start of the simulcast period for that area, so long as that transmission:

(a) complies with such requirements as are ascertained in accordance with that Part of the scheme; and

(b) occurs during a period ascertained in accordance with that Part of the scheme.

(5A) For the purposes of paragraphs (3)(hb) and (n), in determining the most efficient use of the spectrum, the ACMA is to have regard to:

(a) the need for spectrum to be made available for allocation for the purposes of the transmission of datacasting services under, and in accordance with the conditions of, datacasting licences; and

(b) such other matters as the ACMA considers relevant.

(6) The objective mentioned in paragraph (3)(g) (which deals with co-location of transmitters) does not prevent Part A of the national television conversion scheme from making provision for the location of digital transmitters otherwise than as mentioned in that paragraph, where the ACMA is satisfied that an alternative location is appropriate having regard to:

(a) the remaining objectives set out in subclause (3); and

(b) the costs that are likely to be incurred by the national broadcaster concerned; and

(c) such other matters (if any) as the ACMA considers relevant.

Remote coverage areas—start-up of digital transmission

(6A) Part B of the national television conversion scheme must be directed towards ensuring the achievement of the policy objective that each national broadcaster is required to commence transmitting the national television broadcasting service concerned in SDTV digital mode in a remote coverage area by such date as is ascertained in relation to that area in accordance with an implementation plan that was given by the broadcaster, and is in force, under clause 20.

Broadcasting Services Act 1992

59
Clause 19

Remote coverage areas—simulcast period

(7) Part B of the national television conversion scheme may make provision for a transitional period for a specified remote coverage area, that is to be known as the simulcast period, throughout which a national broadcaster is required to transmit simultaneously the national television broadcasting service concerned in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode in that area.

(7A) The simulcast period for a particular remote coverage area:
(a) is to begin on the date mentioned in subclause (6A); and
(b) is to end at the end of the simulcast period (within the meaning of subclause 6(7)) for the licence area that corresponds to that coverage area.

SDTV multi-channelled national television broadcasting services

(7B) This clause does not apply to a SDTV multi-channelled national television broadcasting service.

HDTV multi-channelled national television broadcasting services

(7C) This clause does not apply to a HDTV multi-channelled national television broadcasting service.

Simulcasting

(8) In determining, for the purposes of paragraph (3)(c) and subclause (7), whether a national broadcaster transmits simultaneously the national television broadcasting service concerned in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode:
(a) in the case of the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation where a relevant determination is in force under subclause (9)—ignore any advertising or sponsorship matter covered by the determination, so long as the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation complies with such conditions (if any) as are specified in the determination; and
(b) if a relevant determination is in force under subclause (10)—ignore any television programs covered by the determination,
Clause 19

so long as the national broadcaster complies with such conditions (if any) as are specified in the determination; and

(c) ignore any digital program-enhancement content (as defined by subclause (14)); and

(d) ignore a particular television program transmitted using multi-channelling transmission capacity, where:

(i) the program is a scheduled program that provides live coverage of a designated event (as defined by subclause (20)); and

(ii) the other television program broadcast using that multi-channelling transmission capacity is a regularly scheduled news program; and

(iii) the end of the designated event is delayed for reasons that are not within the control of the national broadcaster or of the person (if any) who supplied the first-mentioned program to the national broadcaster (either directly or indirectly through one or more interposed persons); and

(iv) the sole purpose of the use of the multi-channelling transmission capacity is to allow viewers of the SDTV version of the national television broadcasting service to choose between viewing the regularly scheduled news program and viewing so much of the designated event as overlaps the other television program; and

(e) ignore an electronic program guide (as defined by subclause (24)).

(8A) For the purposes of this Act (other than paragraph (3)(c) or subclauses (7), (8) and (11) of this clause or Division 2 of Part 4 of this Schedule) and any other law of the Commonwealth, if a national broadcaster transmits matter that is required to be ignored by paragraph (8)(c), (d) or (e) of this clause, that matter is taken to be part of the national television broadcasting service concerned.

(9) The ACMA may, by writing, determine that paragraph (8)(a) applies to specified advertising or sponsorship matter transmitted by the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation during a specified period. The specified advertising or sponsorship matter may consist of all advertising or sponsorship matter transmitted by the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation. The specified period may consist of the simulcast period for the coverage area concerned.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

(10) The ACMA may, by writing, determine that paragraph (8)(b) applies to specified television programs transmitted by a specified national broadcaster during a specified period.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

(11) The ACMA must not make a determination under subclause (9) or (10) unless the ACMA is satisfied that, if it were assumed that the determination were made, the version of the national television broadcasting service transmitted in SDTV digital mode will be substantially the same as the version of the service transmitted in analog mode.

(12) A determination under subclause (9) or (10) is a disallowable instrument for the purposes of section 46A of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

(13) A reference in this clause to advertising or sponsorship matter is a reference to advertising or sponsorship matter (whether or not of a commercial kind).

Digital program-enhancement content

(14) For the purposes of this clause, digital program-enhancement content is content:

(a) whether in the form of text; or
(b) whether in the form of data; or
(c) whether in the form of speech, music or other sounds; or
(d) whether in the form of visual images (animated or otherwise); or
(e) whether in any other form; or
(f) whether in any combination of forms;
where:

(g) the content is transmitted using a digital modulation technique; and

(h) the sole purpose of the transmission of the content is to enhance a television program (the primary program); and
Clause 19

(i) the subject matter of the content is closely and directly linked to the subject matter of the primary program; and

(j) the national broadcaster transmits simultaneously the content and the primary program; and

(k) either:
   (i) the national broadcaster transmits simultaneously the primary program in both analog mode and SDTV digital mode; or
   (ii) the primary program is covered by a determination under subclause (9) or (10).

Note: For example, if the primary program is live coverage of a tennis match, the digital program-enhancement content could consist of any or all of the following:
(a) the match from different camera angles;
(b) each player’s results in past matches;
(c) video highlights from those past matches;
(d) each player’s ranking and career highlights.

Designated event

(20) For the purposes of this clause, a designated event is:
   (a) a sporting event; or
   (b) a declared designated event (as defined by subclause (21)).

(21) The ACMA may, by writing, determine that a specified event is a declared designated event for the purposes of this clause.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

(22) A determination under subclause (21) has effect accordingly.

(23) A determination under subclause (21) is a disallowable instrument for the purposes of section 46A of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

Electronic program guide

(24) For the purposes of this clause, an electronic program guide is matter transmitted using a uniform digital modulation technique, where the matter consists of no more than:
   (a) a schedule of the television programs provided by:
       (i) the national television broadcasting service transmitting the matter; or
Clause 20

(ii) all of the commercial television broadcasting services and all of the national television broadcasting services; or

(b) a combination of:
   (i) a schedule covered by paragraph (a); and
   (ii) items of factual information, and/or items of comment, about some or all of the programs in the schedule, where each item is brief and in the form of text; or

(c) a combination of:
   (i) a schedule covered by paragraph (a); and
   (ii) a facility the sole purpose of which is to enable an end-user to select, and commence viewing, one or more of the programs in the schedule; or

(d) a combination of:
   (i) a schedule covered by paragraph (a); and
   (ii) items of factual information, and/or items of comment,
   about some or all of the programs in the schedule, where each item is brief and in the form of text; and
   (iii) a facility the sole purpose of which is to enable an end-user to select, and commence viewing, one or more of the programs in the schedule.

20 National broadcasters to give implementation plans to the Minister

(1) As soon as practicable after the formulation of the national television conversion scheme, a national broadcaster must give the Minister one or more implementation plans relating to the conversion, over time, of the transmission of the national television broadcasting service concerned from analog mode to digital mode.

(1A) Subclause (1) does not apply to a SDTV multi-channelled national television broadcasting service.

HDTV multi-channelled national television broadcasting services

(1B) This clause does not apply to a HDTV multi-channelled national television broadcasting service.

(2) In preparing an implementation plan, a national broadcaster must have regard to the following matters:
(a) in the case of an implementation plan that relates to a coverage area that is not a remote coverage area—whether the implementation plan is directed towards ensuring the achievement of the following policy objectives:
   (i) the objective that each national broadcaster should be required to commence transmitting the national broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in each metropolitan coverage area on 1 January 2001;
   (ii) the objective that each national broadcaster should be required to commence transmitting the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode to regional coverage areas (other than remote coverage areas) on or after 1 January 2001 so that all regional coverage areas (other than remote coverage areas) have digital transmission of the service by 1 January 2004;
(b) in the case of an implementation plan that relates to a coverage area that is not a remote coverage area—the objectives mentioned in subclause 19(3);
(c) in the case of an implementation plan that relates to a remote coverage area—the special circumstances that apply to the transmission of national television broadcasting services in that area;
(d) such other matters (if any) as the national broadcaster considers relevant.

(3) If an implementation plan is given to the Minister under this clause, the Minister must:
   (a) approve the implementation plan; or
   (b) refuse to approve the implementation plan.

(4) In deciding whether to approve an implementation plan under this clause, the Minister must have regard to the following matters:
   (a) in the case of an implementation plan that relates to a coverage area that is not a remote coverage area—whether the implementation plan is directed towards ensuring the achievement of the following policy objectives:
      (i) the objective that each national broadcaster should be required to commence transmitting the national broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in each metropolitan coverage area on 1 January 2001;
Clause 20

(ii) the objective that each national broadcaster should be required to commence transmitting the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode to regional coverage areas (other than remote coverage areas) on or after 1 January 2001 so that all regional coverage areas (other than remote coverage areas) have digital transmission of the service by 1 January 2004;

(b) in the case of an implementation plan that relates to a coverage area that is not a remote coverage area—the objectives mentioned in subclause 19(3);

(c) in the case of an implementation plan that relates to a remote coverage area—the special circumstances that apply to the transmission of national television broadcasting services in that area;

(ca) whether there are other means by which people in the coverage area to which the implementation plan relates can view an adequate and comprehensive range of:

(i) commercial television broadcasting services transmitted in digital mode; and

(ii) national television broadcasting services transmitted in digital mode;

(cb) the extent to which commercial television broadcasting services are being, or will be, transmitted in digital mode in the coverage area to which the implementation plan relates;

(cc) the extent to which national television broadcasting services are being, or will be, transmitted in digital mode in the coverage area to which the implementation plan relates by a national broadcaster other than the national broadcaster to whom the implementation plan relates;

(d) such other matters (if any) as the Minister considers relevant.

(5) Before deciding whether to approve an implementation plan under this clause, the Minister may direct the ACMA to give the Minister a report about the matter.

(6) If the Minister approves an implementation plan under this clause, the implementation plan comes into force on approval.

(7) If the Minister refuses to approve an implementation plan under this clause, the Minister may, by written notice given to the national broadcaster concerned:
Clause 21

(a) require the national broadcaster to give a fresh implementation plan under subclause (1); and
(b) advise the national broadcaster that, if specified changes were incorporated in the fresh plan, the Minister would be disposed to approve the fresh plan.

The notice must also set out the reasons for the refusal.

(8) The Minister must cause copies of a notice under subclause (7) to be laid before each House of the Parliament within 7 sitting days of that House after the giving of the notice.

(9) A national broadcaster may give the Minister a variation of an approved implementation plan that relates to the national broadcaster. Subclauses (2) to (8) (inclusive) apply to the variation of an implementation plan in a corresponding way to the way in which they apply to an implementation plan.

(10) The Minister may, by writing, delegate to:
(a) the Secretary of the Department; or
(b) an SES employee or acting SES employee in the Department; the Minister’s power to approve, or to refuse to approve, variations to approved implementation plans.

21 Compliance with implementation plans

If an implementation plan given by a national broadcaster under clause 20 is in force, the national broadcaster must comply with the implementation plan.

21A Areas exempt from digital transmission requirements—national broadcasters

Areas exempt from digital transmission requirements

(1) If an area is an exempt digital transmission area in relation to a national broadcaster, the national broadcaster is not required:
(a) to comply with:
   (i) the national television conversion scheme; or
   (ii) an implementation plan; to the extent that the scheme or plan would require the national broadcaster to transmit a national television broadcasting service in digital mode in the exempt digital transmission area; or
Clause 21A

(b) to submit an implementation plan under clause 20 that relates to the exempt digital transmission area.

Determination

(2) On application by a national broadcaster, the Minister may, by legislative instrument, determine that, for the purposes of this clause, a specified area that is within a coverage area is an exempt digital transmission area in relation to the national broadcaster.

(3) The Minister must not make a determination under subclause (2) that specifies an area that is within a coverage area unless, when the determination is made:
   (a) the specified area does not have coverage of any national television broadcasting service that is:
       (i) provided by the national broadcaster in the coverage area; and
       (ii) transmitted in digital mode; and
   (b) the Minister is satisfied that:
       (i) fewer than 500 people reside in the specified area; or
       (ii) the specified area is an underserviced area; and
   (c) either:
       (i) national television broadcasting services are provided in the coverage area with the use of a satellite; or
       (ii) the Minister is satisfied that there is another way in which people in the specified area can, or will be able to, view an adequate and comprehensive range of commercial television broadcasting services and national television broadcasting services.

(4) In considering, for the purposes of subparagraph (3)(b)(i), whether fewer than 500 people reside in a specified area, the Minister must have regard to the latest resident population statistics published by the Australian Statistician.

Underserviced areas

(5) For the purposes of subparagraph (3)(b)(ii), a specified area within a coverage area is an underserviced area if:

Broadcasting Services Act 1992

68 Broadcasting Services Act 1992
Clause 21A

(a) the specified area does not have coverage of one or more commercial television broadcasting services that are:
   (i) provided in a licence area that corresponds to the coverage area; and
   (ii) transmitted in analog mode; or
(b) the specified area does not have coverage of one or more national television broadcasting services that are:
   (i) provided in the coverage area; and
   (ii) transmitted in analog mode.

(6) For the purposes of subclause (5), disregard a service that does no more than:
   (a) re-transmit programs that are transmitted by a commercial television broadcasting service; or
   (b) re-transmit programs that are transmitted by a national television broadcasting service.

(7) For the purposes of subparagraph (3)(b)(ii), a specified area within a coverage area is an underserviced area if:
   (a) the specified area does not, or will not, have coverage of the commercial television broadcasting services that are:
       (i) provided in a licence area that corresponds to the coverage area; and
       (ii) transmitted in digital mode; or
   (b) the specified area does not, or will not, have coverage of the national television broadcasting services that are:
       (i) provided in the coverage area; and
       (ii) transmitted in digital mode.

(8) A reference in subclause (7) to a commercial television broadcasting service includes a reference to a service that does no more than re-transmit programs that are transmitted by a commercial television broadcasting service.

(9) A reference in subclause (7) to a national television broadcasting service includes a reference to a service that does no more than re-transmit programs that are transmitted by a national television broadcasting service.
Clause 22

22 Scheme may confer administrative powers on the ACMA

The national television conversion scheme may make provision with respect to a matter by conferring on the ACMA a power to make a decision of an administrative character.

22A Scheme may confer power to make digital channel plans

(1) The national television conversion scheme may provide for the ACMA to make one or more plans (digital channel plans) that:
   (a) allot channels to national broadcasters; and
   (b) set out any technical limitations on the use of a particular channel that the ACMA believes should be shown in the plan; and
   (c) set out whether the use of a channel depends on any event or circumstances described in the plan.

(2) The national television conversion scheme may provide that a digital channel plan may include other matters.

(3) The national television conversion scheme may provide for the ACMA to vary a digital channel plan.

22AA Allotment of channels after the television licence area plan comes into force

(1) A digital channel plan, to the extent to which it relates to a particular coverage area, ceases to have effect when the television licence area plan for the licence area that corresponds to the coverage area comes into force.

(2) The national television conversion scheme, to the extent to which it allots channels for a particular coverage area, ceases to have effect when the television licence area plan for the licence area that corresponds to the coverage area comes into force.

23 Transmitter licences

Grant of additional spectrum for digital transmission

(1) The national television conversion scheme must make provision for the issue of transmitter licences authorising transmissions of national television broadcasting services in digital mode.
Return of spectrum if digital transmission does not begin

(2) Part A of the national television conversion scheme must make provision for requiring a national broadcaster to surrender one or more transmitter licences authorising digital transmission if:

(a) the national broadcaster does not commence digital transmission as mentioned in paragraph 19(3)(a) or (b) of this Schedule; and

(b) the national broadcaster does not satisfy the ACMA that there are exceptional circumstances.

Return of spectrum if digital transmission does not continue throughout the simulcast period

(3) Part A of the national television conversion scheme must make provision for requiring a national broadcaster to surrender one or more transmitter licences authorising digital transmission if:

(a) the national broadcaster commences digital transmission as mentioned in paragraph 19(3)(a) or (b) of this Schedule; and

(b) the national broadcaster ceases digital transmission during the simulcast period for the coverage area concerned; and

(c) under the scheme, the ACMA gives the national broadcaster a written direction to:

(i) resume digital transmission in that area within the period specified in the direction (being a period that is not longer than one month); and

(ii) continue digital transmission throughout the simulcast period for that area; and

(d) the national broadcaster does not comply with a direction referred to in paragraph (c); and

(e) the national broadcaster does not satisfy the ACMA that there are exceptional circumstances.

Return of spectrum if format and HDTV requirements contravened

(7) Part A of the national television conversion scheme must make provision for requiring a national broadcaster to surrender the transmitter licence or licences that authorised the transmission of the national television broadcasting service concerned in digital mode in the coverage area concerned if:

(a) the national broadcaster contravenes:
Clause 23

(i) subclause 35AA(1); or
(ii) a SDTV national television format standard; or
(iii) a HDTV national television format standard; or
(iv) subclause 37F(1); or
(v) a standard under subclause 37F(3); and

(b) under the scheme, the ACMA gives the national broadcaster a written direction to comply with that provision or standard within the period specified in the direction (being a period that is not longer than one month); and

(c) the national broadcaster does not comply with a direction referred to in paragraph (b); and

(d) the national broadcaster does not satisfy the ACMA that there are exceptional circumstances.

(8) Subclause (7) does not prevent the national television conversion scheme from making provision for the issue of a transmitter licence to replace a licence that was surrendered on the grounds of a contravention of a provision or standard mentioned in subparagraph (7)(a)(i), (iii), (iv) or (v). However, the amount of transmission capacity covered by the replacement licence must be less than the amount of transmission capacity covered by the surrendered licence.

Remote coverage areas

(10) Part B of the national television conversion scheme may make provision for requiring a national broadcaster to surrender one or more transmitter licences authorising analog transmission or authorising digital transmission if the national broadcaster does not comply with:

(a) a specified requirement of that Part of the scheme; or
(b) subclause 35AA(2); or
(c) a SDTV national television format standard; or
(d) a HDTV national television format standard; or
(e) a standard applicable to the national broadcaster under subclause 37H(1); or
(f) a standard applicable to the national broadcaster under subclause 37H(2).

(10A) Subclause (10) does not prevent the national television conversion scheme from making provision for the issue of a transmitter licence to replace a licence that was surrendered on the grounds of a contravention of the provision mentioned in paragraph (10)(b) or a standard mentioned in paragraph (10)(d), (e) or (f). However, the amount of transmission capacity covered by the replacement licence must be less than the amount of transmission capacity covered by the surrendered licence.

(11) Part B of the national television conversion scheme may make provision for the variation of the conditions of a transmitter licence that authorised analog transmission of a national television broadcasting service in a remote coverage area so as to ensure that the licence authorises digital transmission of that service in that area.

24 Amendment of certain plans and guidelines

(1) The national television conversion scheme may amend the frequency allotment plan or a licence area plan.

(2) The national television conversion scheme may amend technical planning guidelines in force under section 33.

(3) Subclauses (1) and (2) do not limit the ACMA’s powers under sections 25, 26 and 33.

25 Reviews and reports

The national television conversion scheme may provide for the ACMA to conduct reviews, and report to the Minister, on specified matters.

26 Ancillary or incidental provisions

The national television conversion scheme may contain such ancillary or incidental provisions as the ACMA considers appropriate.

27 ACMA to have regard to datacasting allocation power

(1) In formulating or varying the national television conversion scheme, the ACMA must have regard to its power under subsection 34(3) (which deals with datacasting allocation).
Clause 28

(2) Subclause (1) does not limit the matters to which the ACMA may have regard.

28 ACMA to have regard to special circumstances that apply in remote coverage areas

(1) In formulating or varying Part B of the national television conversion scheme, the ACMA must have regard to the special circumstances that apply to the transmission of national television broadcasting services in remote coverage areas.

(2) Subclause (1) does not limit the matters to which the ACMA may have regard.

29 Minister may give directions to the ACMA

(1) In formulating or varying the national television conversion scheme, the ACMA must comply with any written directions given to it by the Minister under this subclause.

(2) A direction under subclause (1) may be of a general or specific nature.

(3) The Minister must arrange for a copy of a direction under subclause (1) to be published in the Gazette within 14 days after the direction is given.

(2) Subclause (1) does not limit the application of subsection 33(3) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 to other instruments under this Act.

31 Scheme to be a disallowable instrument

An instrument under subclause 19(1) is a disallowable instrument for the purposes of section 46A of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.
32 Scheme does not take effect until approved by the Minister

33 Processes to be public

In formulating or varying the national television conversion scheme, the ACMA must make provision for:

(a) public consultation; and
(b) consultation with national broadcasters; and
(c) consultation with holders of commercial television broadcasting licences; and
(e) consultation with owners and operators of broadcasting transmission towers.

34 Compliance with scheme

(2) For the purposes of the application of this Division to a national broadcaster, a high-definition television program is:

   (c) the archival material, taken together with any other material to which paragraphs (a) and (b) apply and that is also included in the same television program or incidental material, amounts to an insubstantial proportion of the television program or incidental material; that part of the television program or incidental material is taken to satisfy the requirements of paragraph (1)(a) or (b) or (2)(a), (b), (c) or (d) (as the case may be).

  (b) notify the content to internet service providers so that the providers can deal with the content in accordance with procedures specified in an industry code or industry standard (for example, procedures for the filtering, by technical means, of such content).

- Bodies and associations that represent the internet service provider section of the internet industry may develop industry codes.

- The ACMA has a reserve power to make an industry standard if there are no industry codes or if an industry code is deficient.

- The ACMA may make online provider determinations regulating internet service providers.

Part 2—Internet service providers

8 Internet service providers

Basic definition

(1) For the purposes of this Schedule, if a person supplies, or proposes to supply, an internet carriage service to the public, the person is an internet service provider.

Declared internet service providers

(2) The Minister may, by legislative instrument, declare that a specified person who supplies, or proposes to supply, a specified internet carriage service is an internet service provider for the purposes of this Schedule. A declaration under this subclause has effect accordingly.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

9 Supply to the public

(1) This clause sets out the circumstances in which an internet carriage service is taken, for the purposes of subclause 8(1), to be supplied to the public.

(2) If:
   (a) an internet carriage service is used for the carriage of information between 2 end-users; and
   (b) each end-user is outside the immediate circle of the supplier of the service;

the service is supplied to the public.

Note: If a company makes internet content available for access on the internet, and an individual obtains access to the content using an internet carriage service, the company and the individual are end-users in relation to the carriage of the content by the internet carriage service.

(3) If:
   (a) an internet carriage service is used to supply point-to-multipoint services to end-users; and
Clause 9

(b) at least one end-user is outside the immediate circle of the supplier of the service; the service is supplied to the public.

Clause 23

Part 4—Complaints to, and investigations by, the ACMA

Division 1—Making of complaints to the ACMA

23 Complaints about breaches of online provider rules etc.

If a person has reason to believe that an internet service provider:
(a) has contravened a code registered under Part 5 of this Schedule that is applicable to the provider; or
(b) has contravened an online provider rule that is applicable to the provider;
the person may make a complaint to the ACMA about the matter.

24 Form of complaint

(1) A complaint under this Division is to be in writing.
(2) However, the ACMA may permit complaints to be given, in accordance with specified software requirements, by way of a specified kind of electronic transmission.

(a) an individual who resides in Australia; or
(b) a body corporate that carries on activities in Australia; or
(c) the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory.
Division 2—Investigations by the ACMA

26 Investigation of complaints by the ACMA

(1) The ACMA must investigate a complaint under Division 1.

(2) However, the ACMA need not investigate the complaint if:
   (a) the ACMA is satisfied that the complaint is:
       (i) frivolous; or
       (ii) vexatious; or
       (iii) not made in good faith; or
   (b) the ACMA has reason to believe that the complaint was made for the purpose, or for purposes that include the purpose, of frustrating or undermining the effective administration of this Schedule.

(3) The ACMA must notify the complainant of the results of such an investigation.

(4) The ACMA may terminate such an investigation if it is of the opinion that it does not have sufficient information to conclude the investigation.

27 ACMA may investigate matters on its own initiative

If the ACMA thinks that it is desirable to do so, the ACMA may investigate whether an internet service provider:
   (a) has contravened a code registered under Part 5 of this Schedule that is applicable to the provider; or (b) has contravened an online provider rule that is applicable to the provider.

28 Conduct of investigations

(1) An investigation under this Division is to be conducted as the ACMA thinks fit.

(2) The ACMA may, for the purposes of an investigation, obtain information from such persons, and make such inquiries, as it thinks fit.
Clause 29

(3) This clause has effect subject to Part 13 of this Act (which confers certain investigative powers on the ACMA).

(a) the making of a complaint under Division 1;
(b) the making of a statement to, or the giving of a document or information to, the ACMA in connection with an investigation under this Division.
Division 4—Action to be taken in relation to a complaint about prohibited content hosted outside Australia

40 Action to be taken in relation to a complaint about prohibited content hosted outside Australia

(1) If, in the course of an investigation under Division 2 of Part 3 of Schedule 7, the ACMA is satisfied that internet content hosted outside Australia is prohibited content or potential prohibited content, the ACMA must:

(a) if the ACMA considers the content is of a sufficiently serious nature to warrant referral to a law enforcement agency (whether in or outside Australia)—notify the content to:
   (i) a member of an Australian police force; or
   (ii) if there is an arrangement between the ACMA and the chief (however described) of an Australian police force under which the ACMA is authorised to notify the content to another person or body (whether in or outside Australia)—that other person or body; and

(b) if a code registered, or standard determined, under Part 5 of this Schedule deals with the matters referred to in subclause 60(2)—notify the content to internet service providers under the designated notification scheme set out in the code or standard, as the case may be; and

(c) if paragraph (b) does not apply—give each internet service provider known to the ACMA a written notice (a standard access-prevention notice) directing the provider to take all reasonable steps to prevent end-users from accessing the content.

Note: The ACMA may be taken to have given a notice under paragraph (c)—see clause 51.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(c), in determining whether particular steps are reasonable, regard must be had to:

(a) the technical and commercial feasibility of taking the steps; and

(b) the matters set out in subsection 4(3).

(3) Subclause (2) does not, by implication, limit the matters to which regard must be had.

Division 4  Action to be taken in relation to a complaint about prohibited content hosted outside Australia

Clause 40

Recognised alternative access-prevention arrangements

(4) An internet service provider is not required to comply with a standard access-prevention notice in relation to a particular end-user if access by the end-user is subject to a recognised alternative access-prevention arrangement (as defined by subclause (5)) that is applicable to the end-user.

(5) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, declare that a specified arrangement is a recognised alternative access-prevention arrangement for the purposes of the application of this Division to one or more specified end-users if the ACMA is satisfied that the arrangement is likely to provide a reasonably effective means of preventing access by those end-users to prohibited content and potential prohibited content.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

(6) The following are examples of arrangements that could be declared to be recognised alternative access-prevention arrangements under subclause (5):

(a) an arrangement that involves the use of regularly updated internet content filtering software;

(b) an arrangement that involves the use of a “family-friendly” filtered internet carriage service.

Referral to law enforcement agency

(8) The manner in which internet content may be notified under paragraph (1)(a) to a member of an Australian police force includes (but is not limited to) a manner ascertained in accordance with an arrangement between the ACMA and the chief (however described) of the police force concerned.

(9) If a member of an Australian police force is notified of particular internet content under this clause, the member may notify the content to a member of another law enforcement agency (whether in or outside Australia).

(10) This clause does not, by implication, limit the ACMA’s powers to refer other matters to a member of an Australian police force.
41 Deferral of action in order to avoid prejudicing a criminal investigation

(1) If:

(a) in the course of an investigation under Division 2 of Part 3 of Schedule 7, the ACMA is satisfied that internet content hosted outside Australia is prohibited content or potential prohibited content; and

(b) apart from this subclause, the ACMA would be required to take action under subclause 40(1) in relation to the content; and the ACMA may defer taking that action until the end of that period.

(c) a member of an Australian police force satisfies the ACMA that the taking of that action should be deferred until the end of a particular period in order to avoid prejudicing a criminal investigation;

(2) Subclause (1) has effect despite anything in clause 40.

(c) the Classification Board reclassifies the internet content; and

(d) as a result of the reclassification, the internet content ceases to be prohibited content;

the notification of the internet content is taken to have been withdrawn.

(a) a notification of internet content is withdrawn under subclause (1); and
Clause 43

(b) a code registered, or standard determined, under Part 5 of this Schedule deals with the matters referred to in subclause 60(2); the ACMA must notify the withdrawal to internet service providers under the designated notification scheme set out in the code or standard, as the case may be.

43 Withdrawal of notification of content—reclassification of internet content that consists of a film or a computer game

(1) If:
   (a) internet content consists of:
      (i) the entire unmodified contents of a film; or
      (ii) a computer game; and
   (b) the Classification Board reclassifies the film or computer game under the Classification (Publications, Films and Computer Games) Act 1995; and
   (c) the internet content has been notified to internet service providers as mentioned in paragraph 40(1)(b) of this Schedule; and
   (d) as a result of the reclassification, the internet content ceases to be prohibited content;

   the notification of the internet content is taken to have been withdrawn.

(2) If:
   (a) a notification of internet content is withdrawn under subclause (1); and
   (b) a code registered, or standard determined, under Part 5 of this Schedule deals with the matters referred to in subclause 60(2);

   the ACMA must notify the withdrawal to internet service providers under the designated notification scheme set out in the code or standard, as the case may be.

44 Revocation of standard access-prevention notice—reclassification of internet content

(1) If:
Clause 45

(a) internet content has been classified by the Classification Board (otherwise than because of subclause 24(1) or (2) of Schedule 7); and

(b) a standard access-prevention notice relating to the internet content is applicable to a particular internet service provider; and

(c) the Classification Board reclassifies the internet content; and

(d) as a result of the reclassification, the content ceases to be prohibited content;

the ACMA is taken to have revoked the standard access-prevention notice.

(2) If a standard access-prevention notice is revoked under this clause, the ACMA must give the internet service provider concerned a written notice stating that the standard access-prevention notice has been revoked.

Note: The ACMA may be taken to have given a notice under subclause (2)—see clause 51.

45 Revocation of standard access-prevention notice—reclassification of internet content that consists of a film or a computer game

(1) If:

(a) internet content consists of:

(i) the entire unmodified contents of a film; or

(ii) a computer game; and

(b) the Classification Board reclassifies the film or computer game under the Classification (Publications, Films and Computer Games) Act 1995; and

(c) a standard access-prevention notice relating to the internet content is applicable to a particular internet service provider; and

(d) as a result of the reclassification, the internet content ceases to be prohibited content;

the ACMA is taken to have revoked the standard access-prevention notice.

(2) If a standard access-prevention notice is revoked under this clause, the ACMA must give the internet service provider concerned a written notice stating that the standard access-prevention notice has been revoked.
Clause 46

Note: The ACMA may be taken to have given a notice under subclause (2)—see clause 51.

46 Anti-avoidance—notified internet content

(1) If:

(a) particular internet content has been notified to internet service providers as mentioned in paragraph 40(1)(b) of this Schedule; and
(b) the notification has not been withdrawn; and
(c) the ACMA is satisfied that internet content (the similar internet content) that is the same as, or substantially similar to, the first-mentioned internet content is being hosted outside Australia; and
(d) the ACMA is satisfied that the similar internet content is prohibited content or potential prohibited content; and
(e) a code registered, or standard determined, under Part 5 of this Schedule deals with the matters referred to in subclause 60(2);

the ACMA must notify the similar internet content to internet service providers under the designated notification scheme set out in the code or standard, as the case may be.

(2) If:

(a) particular internet content is notified to internet service providers as mentioned in paragraph 40(1)(b) of this Schedule; and
(b) as a result of the application of subclause (1) to that content, the ACMA notifies similar internet content to internet service providers in accordance with subclause (1); and
(c) the notification of the first-mentioned content is withdrawn;

the notification of the similar internet content is taken to have been withdrawn.

(3) If:

(a) a notification of internet content is withdrawn under subclause (2); and
Clause 47

(b) a code registered, or standard determined, under Part 5 of this Schedule deals with the matters referred to in subclause 60(2); the ACMA must notify the withdrawal to internet service providers under the designated notification scheme set out in the code or standard, as the case may be.

47 Anti-avoidance—special access-prevention notice

(1) If:

(a) a standard access-prevention notice relating to particular internet content is applicable to a particular internet service provider; and

(b) the ACMA is satisfied that the internet service provider is supplying an internet carriage service that enables end-users to access internet content (the similar internet content) that is the same as, or substantially similar to, the internet content identified in the standard access-prevention notice; and

(c) the ACMA is satisfied that the similar internet content is prohibited content or potential prohibited content; the ACMA may give the provider a written notice (special access-prevention notice) directing the provider to take all reasonable steps to prevent end-users from accessing the similar internet content at any time when the standard access-prevention notice is in force.

Note: The ACMA may be taken to have given a notice under this clause—see clause 51.

(2) For the purposes of subclause (1), in determining whether particular steps are reasonable, regard must be had to:

(a) the technical and commercial feasibility of taking the steps; and

(b) the matters set out in subsection 4(3).

(3) Subclause (2) does not, by implication, limit the matters to which regard must be had.

Recognised alternative access-prevention arrangements

(4) An internet service provider is not required to comply with a special access-prevention notice in relation to a particular end-user.
Clause 48

if access by the end-user is subject to a recognised alternative access-prevention arrangement (as defined by subclause 40(5)) that is applicable to the end-user.

48 Compliance with access-prevention notices

Standard access-prevention notice

(1) An internet service provider must comply with a standard access-prevention notice that applies to the provider as soon as practicable, and in any event by 6 pm on the next business day, after the notice was given to the provider.

Special access-prevention notice

(2) An internet service provider must comply with a special access-prevention notice that applies to the provider as soon as practicable, and in any event by 6 pm on the next business day, after the notice was given to the provider.

Note: For enforcement, see Part 6 of this Schedule.

49 Notification of internet content

Internet content may be notified in accordance with this Division by:

(a) setting out the content; or
(b) describing the content; or
(c) in any other way.

50 Application of notifications under this Division

A notification under this Division applies to particular internet content only to the extent to which the content is accessed, or available for access, from a website, or a distinct part of a website, specified in the notification.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 33(3AB) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

51 ACMA may be taken to have issued access-prevention notices

(1) Subject to subclause (2), the ACMA may, by legislative instrument, formulate a scheme:
Clause 51

(a) in the nature of a scheme for substituted service; and
(b) under which the ACMA is taken, for the purposes of this Schedule, to have done any or all of the following:
   (i) given each internet service provider a standard access-prevention notice under paragraph 40(1)(c) of this Schedule;
   (ii) in a case where a standard access-prevention notice is revoked under clause 44 or 45—given each internet service provider a notice of the revocation under whichever of subclause 44(2) or 45(2) is applicable;
   (iii) given each internet service provider a special access-prevention notice under clause 47.

(2) It is a minimum requirement for a scheme formulated under subclause (1) that each internet service provider be alerted by electronic means to the existence of a notice.

Note: For example, it is not sufficient for the ACMA to make notices available on the internet (with or without security measures) without notifying internet service providers that a notice has been issued.

(3) Paragraph 40(1)(c) of this Schedule has effect, in relation to a scheme under subclause (1), as if the reference in that paragraph to each internet service provider known to the ACMA were a reference to each internet service provider.
Part 5—Industry codes and industry standards

Division 1—Simplified outline

52 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Part.

- Bodies and associations that represent the internet service provider section of the internet industry may develop industry codes.
- Industry codes may be registered by the ACMA.
- Compliance with an industry code is voluntary unless the ACMA directs a particular participant in the internet industry to comply with the code.
- The ACMA has a reserve power to make an industry standard if there are no industry codes or if an industry code is deficient.
- Compliance with industry standards is mandatory.
Division 2—Interpretation

54 Industry standards
For the purposes of this Part, an industry standard is a standard determined under this Part.

55 Internet activity
For the purposes of this Part, an internet activity is an activity that consists of supplying an internet carriage service.

56 Section of the internet industry
(1) For the purposes of this Part, a section of the internet industry is to be ascertained in accordance with this clause.

(2) For the purposes of this Part, the group consisting of internet service providers constitutes a section of the internet industry.

57 Participants in a section of the internet industry

The Minister may, by legislative instrument, declare that a specified body or association is the designated body for the purposes of this Part. The declaration has effect accordingly.
Clause 59

Division 3—General principles relating to industry codes and industry standards

59 Statement of regulatory policy

(2) The Parliament intends that bodies or associations that the ACMA is satisfied represent the internet service provider section of the internet industry should develop no more than 2 codes (industry codes) that are to apply to participants in that section of the industry in relation to the internet activities of the participants.

(3) The Parliament intends that, for the internet service provider section of the internet industry, one of those industry codes should deal exclusively with the matters set out in subclause 60(2).

60 Matters that must be dealt with by industry codes and industry standards

General matters

(1) The Parliament intends that, for the internet service provider section of the internet industry, there should be:
   (a) an industry code or an industry standard that deals with; or
   (b) an industry code and an industry standard that together deal with;

each of the following matters:
   (c) procedures directed towards the achievement of the objective of ensuring that online accounts are not provided to children without the consent of a parent or responsible adult;
   (d) giving parents and responsible adults information about how to supervise and control children’s access to internet content;
   (e) procedures to be followed in order to assist parents and responsible adults to supervise and control children’s access to internet content;
   (f) procedures to be followed in order to inform producers of internet content about their legal responsibilities in relation to that content;
   (g) telling customers about their rights to make complaints under clause 23;

Clause 60

(h) procedures to be followed in order to assist customers to make complaints under clause 23;

(i) procedures to be followed in order to deal with complaints about unsolicited electronic mail that promotes or advertises one or more:

   (i) websites; or

   (ii) distinct parts of websites;

(m) procedures directed towards the achievement of the objective of ensuring that, in the event that a participant in the internet service provider section of the internet industry becomes aware that an internet content host is hosting prohibited content in Australia, the host is told about the prohibited content.

Other matters

(2) The Parliament intends that, for the internet service provider section of the internet industry, there should be:

   (a) an industry code or an industry standard that deals with; or
Clause 60

(b) an industry code and an industry standard that together deal with;

each of the following matters:

(c) the formulation of a designated notification scheme;

(d) subject to subclause (8A), procedures to be followed by internet service providers in dealing with internet content notified under paragraph 40(1)(b) of this Schedule or clause 46 (for example, procedures to be followed by a particular class of internet service providers for the filtering, by technical means, of such content).

Designated alternative access-prevention arrangements

(3) An industry code or an industry standard may provide that an internet service provider is not required to deal with internet content notified under paragraph 40(1)(b) of this Schedule or clause 46 by taking steps to prevent particular end-users from accessing the content if access by the end-users is subject to an arrangement that is declared by the code or standard to be a designated alternative access-prevention arrangement for the purposes of the application of this clause to those end-users.

(4) An industry code developed by a body or association must not declare that a specified arrangement is a designated alternative access-prevention arrangement for the purposes of the application of this clause to one or more specified end-users unless the body or association is satisfied that the arrangement is likely to provide a reasonably effective means of preventing access by those end-users to prohibited content and potential prohibited content.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 33(3AB) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

(5) An industry standard made by the ACMA must not declare that a specified arrangement is a designated alternative access-prevention arrangement for the purposes of the application of this clause to one or more specified end-users unless the ACMA is satisfied that the arrangement is likely to provide a reasonably effective means of preventing access by those end-users to prohibited content and potential prohibited content.

Note: For specification by class, see subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003.

152  Broadcasting Services Act 1992
Clause 60

(6) The following are examples of arrangements that could be declared to be designated alternative access-prevention arrangements:
   (a) an arrangement that involves the use of regularly updated internet content filtering software;
   (b) an arrangement that involves the use of a “family-friendly” filtered internet carriage service.

(7) For the purposes of this Schedule, if an industry code:
   (a) deals to any extent with procedures to be followed by internet service providers in dealing with internet content notified under paragraph 40(1)(b) of this Schedule or clause 46; and
   (b) makes provision as mentioned in subclause (3); then:
      (c) the code is taken to deal with the matter set out in paragraph (2)(d); and
      (d) the code is taken to be consistent with subclause (2).

(8) For the purposes of this Schedule, if an industry standard:
   (a) deals to any extent with procedures to be followed by internet service providers in dealing with internet content notified under paragraph 40(1)(b) of this Schedule or clause 46; and
   (b) makes provision as mentioned in subclause (3); then:
      (c) the standard is taken to deal with the matter set out in paragraph (2)(d); and
      (d) the standard is taken to be consistent with subclause (2).

Internet content filtering—devices

(8A) If the Minister is satisfied that internet content filtering is not viable in relation to access to internet content using a particular device (for example, a mobile telephone handset), the Minister may, by legislative instrument, determine that paragraphs (1)(j), (k) and (l) and (2)(d) do not apply in relation to access to internet content using that device.

Clause does not limit matters

(9) This clause does not, by implication, limit the matters that may be dealt with by industry codes and industry standards.
Clause 61

61 Industry codes and industry standards not to deal with certain matters

For the purposes of this Part, an industry code or an industry standard that deals with a particular matter has no effect to the extent (if any) to which the matter is dealt with by:

(a) a code registered, or a standard determined, under Part 6 of the Telecommunications Act 1997; or

(b) the Telecommunications Industry Ombudsman scheme (within the meaning of that Act).
Division 4—Industry codes

62 Registration of industry codes

(1) This clause applies if:

(a) the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents a particular section of the internet industry; and

(b) that body or association develops an industry code that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with one or more matters relating to the internet activities of those participants; and

(c) the body or association gives a copy of the code to the ACMA; and

(d) the ACMA is satisfied that:

(i) to the extent to which the code deals with one or more matters of substantial relevance to the community—the code provides appropriate community safeguards for that matter or those matters; and

(ii) to the extent to which the code deals with one or more matters that are not of substantial relevance to the community—the code deals with that matter or those matters in an appropriate manner; and

(e) the ACMA is satisfied that, before giving the copy of the code to the ACMA:

(i) the body or association published a draft of the code and invited members of the public to make submissions to the body or association about the draft within a specified period; and

(ii) the body or association gave consideration to any submissions that were received from members of the public within that period; and

(f) the ACMA is satisfied that, before giving the copy of the code to the ACMA:

(i) the body or association published a draft of the code and invited participants in that section of the industry to make submissions to the body or association about the draft within a specified period; and
Clause 63

(ii) the body or association gave consideration to any submissions that were received from participants in that section of the industry within that period; and

(g) the ACMA is satisfied that the designated body has been consulted about the development of the code; and

(i) in a case where the code:
   (i) relates to the internet service provider section of the internet industry; and
   (ii) does not deal with a matter set out in subclause 60(2); the code is consistent with subclauses 59(2) and 60(1); and

(j) in a case where the code:
   (i) relates to the internet service provider section of the internet industry; and
   (ii) deals with a matter set out in subclause 60(2); the code is consistent with subclauses 59(2) and (3) and 60(2).

Note: Designated body is defined by clause 58.

(2) The ACMA must register the code by including it in the Register of industry codes kept under clause 78.

(3) A period specified under subparagraph (1)(e)(i) or (1)(f)(i) must run for at least 30 days.

(4) If:
   (a) an industry code (the new code) is registered under this Part;
   and
   (b) the new code is expressed to replace another industry code; the other code ceases to be registered under this Part when the new code is registered.

63 ACMA may request codes

(1) If the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents a particular section of the internet industry, the ACMA may, by written notice given to the body or association, request the body or association to:
   (a) develop an industry code that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with one or more specified matters relating to the internet activities of those participants; and

Broadcasting Services Act 1992
Clause 64

(b) give the ACMA a copy of the code within the period specified in the notice.

(2) The period specified in a notice under subclause (1) must run for at least 120 days.

(3) The ACMA must not make a request under subclause (1) in relation to a particular section of the internet industry unless the ACMA is satisfied that:
   (a) the development of the code is necessary or convenient in order to:
      (i) provide appropriate community safeguards; or
      (ii) otherwise deal with the performance or conduct of participants in that section of the industry; and
   (b) in the absence of the request, it is unlikely that an industry code would be developed within a reasonable period.

(4) The ACMA may vary a notice under subclause (1) by extending the period specified in the notice.

(5) Subclause (4) does not, by implication, limit the application of subsection 33(3) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

(6) A notice under subclause (1) may specify indicative targets for achieving progress in the development of the code (for example, a target of 60 days to develop a preliminary draft of the code).

64 Publication of notice where no body or association represents a section of the internet industry

(1) If the ACMA is satisfied that a particular section of the internet industry is not represented by a body or association, the ACMA may publish a notice in the Gazette:
   (a) stating that, if such a body or association were to come into existence within a specified period, the ACMA would be likely to give a notice to that body or association under subclause 63(1); and
   (b) setting out the matter or matters relating to internet activities that would be likely to be specified in the subclause 63(1) notice.

(2) The period specified in a notice under subclause (1) must run for at least 60 days.
65 Replacement of industry codes

(1) Changes to an industry code are to be achieved by replacing the code instead of varying the code.

(2) If the replacement code differs only in minor respects from the original code, clause 62 has effect, in relation to the registration of the code, as if paragraphs 62(1)(e) and (f) of this Schedule had not been enacted.

Note: Paragraphs 62(1)(e) and (f) deal with submissions about draft codes.

66 Compliance with industry codes

(1) If:

   (a) a person is a participant in a particular section of the internet industry; and

   (b) the ACMA is satisfied that the person has contravened, or is contravening, an industry code that:

         (i) is registered under this Part; and

         (ii) applies to participants in that section of the industry;

      the ACMA may, by written notice given to the person, direct the person to comply with the industry code.

(2) A person must comply with a direction under subclause (1).

Note: For enforcement, see Part 6 of this Schedule.

67 Formal warnings—breach of industry codes

(1) This clause applies to a person who is a participant in a particular section of the internet industry.

(2) The ACMA may issue a formal warning if the person contravenes an industry code registered under this Part.
Division 5—Industry standards

68 ACMA may determine an industry standard if a request for an industry code is not complied with

(1) This clause applies if:
   (a) the ACMA has made a request under subclause 63(1) in relation to the development of a code that is to:
      (i) apply to participants in a particular section of the internet industry; and
      (ii) deal with one or more matters relating to the internet activities of those participants; and
   (b) any of the following conditions is satisfied:
      (i) the request is not complied with;
      (ii) if indicative targets for achieving progress in the development of the code were specified in the notice of request—any of those indicative targets were not met;
      (iii) the request is complied with, but the ACMA subsequently refuses to register the code; and
   (c) the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard in order to:
      (i) provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter or those matters; or
      (ii) otherwise regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter or those matters.

(2) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(3) Before determining an industry standard under this clause, the ACMA must consult the body or association to whom the request mentioned in paragraph (1)(a) was made.

(5) The Minister may give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.
Clause 69

69 ACMA may determine industry standard where no industry body or association formed

(1) This clause applies if:
   (a) the ACMA is satisfied that a particular section of the internet industry is not represented by a body or association; and
   (b) the ACMA has published a notice under subclause 64(1) relating to that section of the industry; and
   (c) that notice:
      (i) states that, if such a body or association were to come into existence within a particular period, the ACMA would be likely to give a notice to that body or association under subclause 63(1); and
      (ii) sets out one or more matters relating to the internet activities of the participants in that section of the industry; and
   (d) no such body or association comes into existence within that period; and
   (e) the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard in order to:
      (i) provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter or those matters; or
      (ii) otherwise regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter or those matters.

(2) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(4) The Minister may give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.

70 ACMA may determine industry standards—total failure of industry codes

(1) This clause applies if:
   (a) an industry code that:
      (i) applies to participants in a particular section of the internet industry; and
(ii) deals with one or more matters relating to the internet activities of those participants;

has been registered under this Part for at least 180 days; and

(b) the ACMA is satisfied that the code is totally deficient (as defined by subclause (7)); and

(c) the ACMA has given the body or association that developed the code a written notice requesting that deficiencies in the code be addressed within a specified period; and

(d) that period ends and the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters.

(2) The period specified in a notice under paragraph (1)(c) must run for at least 30 days.

(3) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(4) If the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents that section of the industry, the ACMA must consult the body or association before determining an industry standard under subclause (3).

(6) The industry code ceases to be registered under this Part on the day on which the industry standard comes into force.

(7) For the purposes of this clause, an industry code that applies to participants in a particular section of the internet industry and deals with one or more matters relating to the internet activities of those participants is totally deficient if, and only if:

(a) the code is not operating to provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter or those matters; or

(b) the code is not otherwise operating to regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter or those matters.

(8) The Minister may give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.
Clause 71

71 ACMA may determine industry standards—partial failure of industry codes

   has been registered under this Part for at least 180 days; and
(b) clause 70 does not apply to the code; and
(c) the ACMA is satisfied that the code is deficient (as defined by subclause (7)) to the extent to which the code deals with one or more of those matters (the deficient matter or deficient matters); and
(d) the ACMA has given the body or association that developed the code a written notice requesting that deficiencies in the code be addressed within a specified period; and
(e) that period ends and the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with the deficient matter or deficient matters.

(2) The period specified in a notice under paragraph (1)(c) must run for at least 30 days.

(3) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with the deficient matter or deficient matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(4) If the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents that section of the industry, the ACMA must consult the body or association before determining an industry standard under subclause (3).

(6) On and after the day on which the industry standard comes into force, the industry code has no effect to the extent to which it deals with the deficient matter or deficient matters. However, this subclause does not affect:

Broadcasting Services Act 1992
Clause 72

(a) the continuing registration of the remainder of the industry code; or

(b) any investigation, proceeding or remedy in respect of a contravention of the industry code or clause 66 that occurred before that day.

(7) For the purposes of this clause, an industry code that applies to participants in a particular section of the internet industry and deals with 2 or more matters relating to the internet activities of those participants is deficient to the extent to which it deals with a particular one of those matters if, and only if:

(a) the code is not operating to provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter; or

(b) the code is not otherwise operating to regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter.

(8) The Minister may give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.

72 Compliance with industry standards

If:

(a) an industry standard that applies to participants in a particular section of the internet industry is registered under this Part; and

(b) a person is a participant in that section of the internet industry;

the person must comply with the industry standard.

Note: For enforcement, see Part 6 of this Schedule.

73 Formal warnings—breach of industry standards

(1) This clause applies to a person who is a participant in a particular section of the internet industry.

(2) The ACMA may issue a formal warning if the person contravenes an industry standard registered under this Part.
74 Variation of industry standards

The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, vary an industry standard that applies to participants in a particular section of the internet industry if it is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient to do so to:

(a) provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to one or more matters relating to the internet activities of those participants; and
(b) otherwise regulate adequately those participants in relation to one or more matters relating to the internet activities of those participants.

75 Revocation of industry standards

(1) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, revoke an industry standard.

(2) If:
(a) an industry code is registered under this Part; and
(b) the code is expressed to replace an industry standard;
the industry standard is revoked when the code is registered.

76 Public consultation on industry standards

(1) Before determining or varying an industry standard, the ACMA must:
(a) cause to be published in a newspaper circulating in each State a notice:
(i) stating that the ACMA has prepared a draft of the industry standard or variation; and
(ii) stating that free copies of the draft will be made available to members of the public during normal office hours throughout the period specified in the notice; and
(iii) specifying the place or places where the copies will be available; and
(iv) inviting interested persons to give written comments about the draft to the ACMA within the period specified under subparagraph (ii); and
(b) make copies of the draft available in accordance with the notice.

164 Broadcasting Services Act 1992
Clause 77

(2) The period specified under subparagraph (1)(a)(ii) must run for at least 30 days after the publication of the notice.

(3) Subclause (1) does not apply to a variation if the variation is of a minor nature.

(4) If interested persons have given comments in accordance with a notice under subclause (1), the ACMA must have due regard to those comments in determining or varying the industry standard, as the case may be.

(5) In this clause:

State includes the Northern Territory and the Australian Capital Territory.

77 Consultation with designated body

(1) Before determining or varying an industry standard, the ACMA must consult the designated body.

(2) Before revoking an industry standard under subclause 75(1), the ACMA must consult the designated body.

Note: Designated body is defined by clause 58.
Division 6—Register of industry codes and industry standards

78 ACMA to maintain Register of industry codes and industry standards

(1) The ACMA is to maintain a Register in which the ACMA includes:

(a) all industry codes required to be registered under this Part;
   and
(b) all industry standards; and

80 Online provider determinations

(1) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, make a determination setting out rules that apply to internet service providers in relation to the supply of internet carriage services.

(3) A determination under subclause (1) is called an online provider determination.

(4) An online provider determination has effect only to the extent that:

(a) it is authorised by paragraph 51(v) of the Constitution (either alone or when read together with paragraph 51(xxxix) of the Constitution); or

(b) both:

(i) it is authorised by section 122 of the Constitution; and

(ii) it would have been authorised by paragraph 51(v) of the Constitution (either alone or when read together with paragraph 51(xxxix) of the Constitution) if section 51 of the Constitution extended to the Territories.

(5) The ACMA must not make an online provider determination unless the determination relates to a matter specified in the regulations.

(6) The ACMA must not make an online provider determination if the determination relates to a matter specified in regulations in force.
Clause 81

for the purposes of subsection 99(3) of the Telecommunications Act 1997.

For the purposes of this Part, the Australian Broadcasting Corporation and the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation are taken not to be datacasting licensees.

Note: If the Australian Broadcasting Corporation or the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation is otherwise a datacasting licensee, it is a duty of the Board of the Corporation to develop a code of practice that relates to the service provided under the licence. See paragraph 8(1)(e) of the Australian Broadcasting Corporation Act 1983 and paragraph 10(1)(j) of the Special Broadcasting Service Act 1991.
Part 5—Complaints to the ACMA about datacasting services

36 Complainants about offences or breach of licence conditions

(1) If a person believes that a datacasting licensee has:
(a) committed an offence against this Act or the regulations; or
(b) breached a condition of the datacasting licence;
the person may make a complaint to the ACMA about the matter.

(2) If a person believes that another person is providing a designated datacasting service without a datacasting licence that authorises the provision of that service, the first-mentioned person may make a complaint to the ACMA about the matter.

37 Complaints under codes of practice

(1) If:
(a) a person has made a complaint to a datacasting licensee about a matter relating to:
   (i) datacasting content; or
   (ii) compliance with a code of practice that applies to the datacasting operations of datacasting licensees and that is included in the Register of codes of practice; and
(b) if there is a relevant code of practice relating to the handling of complaints of that kind—the complaint was made in accordance with that code of practice; and
(c) either:
   (i) the person has not received a response within 60 days after making the complaint; or
   (ii) the person has received a response within that period but considers that response to be inadequate;
the person may make a complaint to the ACMA about the matter.

(2) This clause does not apply to:
(a) the transmission of so much of a datacasting service as consists of an internet carriage service; or
(b) the transmission of ordinary electronic mail.
Clause 38

(3) Also, this clause does not apply if the datacasting licensee is the Australian Broadcasting Corporation or the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation.

Note: Sections 150 to 153 deal with complaints about a datacasting service provided by the Australian Broadcasting Corporation or the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation.

38 Investigation of complaints by the ACMA

(1) The ACMA must investigate the complaint.

(2) However, the ACMA need not investigate the complaint if it is satisfied that:
   (a) the complaint is frivolous or vexatious or was not made in good faith; or
   (b) in the case of a complaint referred to in subclause 36(1)—the complaint does not relate to:
       (i) an offence against this Act or the regulations; or
       (ii) a breach of a condition of a licence.

(3) The ACMA must notify the complainant of the results of such an investigation.
Part 6—Control of datacasting transmitter licences

41 Datacasting transmitter licences not to be controlled by ABC or SBS

(1) The Australian Broadcasting Corporation must not be in a position to exercise control of a datacasting transmitter licence.

(2) The Special Broadcasting Service Corporation must not be in a position to exercise control of a datacasting transmitter licence.

(3) Subclauses (1) and (2) do not apply to a channel B datacasting transmitter licence unless the relevant transmitter, or any of the relevant transmitters, is operated for transmitting a datacasting service that is capable of being received by a domestic digital television receiver.
Part 7—Nominated datacaster declarations

42 Object of this Part

The object of this Part is to provide for the making of declarations (nominated datacaster declarations) that allow the following licences to be held by different persons:

(a) a datacasting licence that authorises the provision of a datacasting service;
(b) a datacasting transmitter licence for a radiocommunications transmitter that is for use for transmitting the datacasting service.

43 Datacasting transmitter licence

A reference in this Part to a datacasting transmitter licence does not include a reference to an authorisation under section 114 of the Radiocommunications Act 1992.

44 Applications for nominated datacaster declarations

(1) If there is:

(a) a datacasting licence that authorises the provision of a datacasting service; and
(b) a datacasting transmitter licence for a transmitter that is intended for use for transmitting the datacasting service;

the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence may apply to the ACMA for a nominated datacaster declaration in relation to the provision of the datacasting service under the datacasting licence.

(2) An application must be accompanied by:

(a) the application fee determined in writing by the ACMA; and
(b) the consent of the licensee of the datacasting licence.

(3) The application and consent must be:

(a) in writing; and
(b) in accordance with a form approved in writing by the ACMA.
45 Making a nominated datacaster declaration

(1) After considering the application, the ACMA must declare in writing that the provision of the datacasting service under the datacasting licence is nominated in relation to the datacasting transmitter licence if the ACMA is satisfied that:

(a) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence will transmit the datacasting service on behalf of the licensee of the datacasting licence; and

(b) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence will not be involved in the selection or provision of datacasting content to be transmitted on the datacasting service.

(2) The ACMA must give a copy of the declaration to:

(a) the applicant; and

(b) the licensee of the datacasting licence.

(3) If the ACMA refuses to make a nominated datacaster declaration, the ACMA must give written notice of the refusal to:

(a) the applicant; and

(b) the licensee of the datacasting licence.

46 Effect of nominated datacaster declaration

If:

(a) a nominated datacaster declaration is in force; and

(b) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence transmits the datacasting service on behalf of the licensee of the datacasting licence;

then:

(c) for the purposes of the Radiocommunications Act 1992, the licensee of the datacasting licence is taken not to operate the radiocommunications transmitter for any purpose in connection with that transmission; and

(d) for the purposes of this Act:

(i) the licensee of the datacasting licence is taken to provide the datacasting service; and

(ii) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence is taken not to provide the datacasting service; and
Clause 47

(e) for the purposes of this Act (other than Schedule 1) and the Tobacco Advertising Prohibition Act 1992, any content that is transmitted by the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence on behalf of the licensee of the datacasting licence:

(i) is taken to be content transmitted by the licensee of the datacasting licence; and

(ii) is not taken to be content transmitted by the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence.

47 Revocation of nominated datacaster declaration

(1) The ACMA must, by writing, revoke a nominated datacaster declaration if the ACMA is satisfied that:

(a) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence is not transmitting, or does not propose to transmit, the datacasting service on behalf of the licensee of the datacasting licence; or

(b) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence is involved, or proposes to become involved, in the selection or provision of datacasting content to be transmitted on the datacasting service.

(2) The ACMA must, by writing, revoke a nominated datacaster declaration if:

(a) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence; or
(b) the licensee of the datacasting licence; gives the ACMA a written notice stating that the licensee does not consent to the continued operation of the declaration.

(3) The ACMA must give a copy of the revocation to:

(a) the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence; and
(b) the licensee of the datacasting licence.

(4) A revocation under subclause (1) or (2) takes effect on the date specified in the revocation.

(5) The ACMA must not revoke a nominated datacaster declaration under subclause (1) unless the ACMA has first:

(a) given the licensee of the datacasting transmitter licence a written notice:

(i) setting out a proposal to revoke the declaration; and
Clause 48

(ii) inviting the licensee to make a submission to the ACMA on the proposal; and

(b) given the licensee of the datacasting licence a written notice:
   (i) setting out a proposal to revoke the declaration; and
   (ii) inviting the licensee to make a submission to the ACMA on the proposal; and

(c) considered any submission that was received under paragraph (a) or (b) within the time limit specified in the notice concerned.

(6) A time limit specified in a notice under subclause (5) must run for at least 7 days.

(7) A person must not enter into a contract or arrangement under which the person or another person is:
   (a) prevented from giving a notice under subclause (2); or
   (b) subject to any restriction in relation to the giving of a notice under subclause (2).

(8) A contract or arrangement entered into in contravention of subclause (7) is void.

48 Register of nominated datacaster declarations

(1) The ACMA is to maintain a register in which the ACMA includes particulars of all nominated datacaster declarations currently in force.

(2) The Register may be maintained by electronic means.

(3) The Register is to be made available for inspection on the internet.

If the ACMA makes a decision that is reviewable under clause 58, the ACMA is to include in the document by which the decision is notified:

(a) a statement setting out the reasons for the decision; and
(b) a statement to the effect that an application may be made to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review of the decision.
Schedule 7—Content services

Note: See section 216D.

Part 1—Introduction

1 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Schedule:

- A person may make a complaint to the ACMA about prohibited content, or potential prohibited content, in relation to certain services.

- The ACMA may take the following action to deal with prohibited content or potential prohibited content:

  (a) in the case of a hosting service—issue a take-down notice;

  (b) in the case of a live content service—issue a service-cessation notice;

  (c) in the case of a links service—issue a link-deletion notice.

- Content (other than an eligible electronic publication) is prohibited content if:

  (a) the content has been classified RC or X 18+ by the Classification Board; or

  (b) the content has been classified R 18+ by the Classification Board and access to the content is not subject to a restricted access system; or
Clause 1

(c) the content has been classified MA 15+ by the Classification Board, access to the content is not subject to a restricted access system, the content does not consist of text and/or one or more still visual images, and the content is provided by a commercial service (other than a news service or a current affairs service); or

(d) the content has been classified MA 15+ by the Classification Board, access to the content is not subject to a restricted access system, and the content is provided by a mobile premium service.

- Content that consists of an eligible electronic publication is prohibited content if the content has been classified RC, category 2 restricted or category 1 restricted by the Classification Board.

- Generally, content is potential prohibited content if the content has not been classified by the Classification Board, but if it were to be classified, there is a substantial likelihood that the content would be prohibited content.

- Bodies and associations that represent sections of the content industry may develop industry codes.

- The ACMA has a reserve power to make an industry standard if there are no industry codes or if an industry code is deficient.

- The ACMA may make determinations regulating certain content service providers and hosting service providers.

Note: The classification of an eligible electronic publication is the same as the classification of the corresponding print publication—see clause 24.

(4) In proceedings relating to a contravention of subclause (3), it is a defence if the links service provider proves:

(a) that the provider did not know; and
Clause 68

(b) that the provider could not, with reasonable diligence, have ascertained; that the relevant content was prohibited content or potential prohibited content.

Note: In criminal proceedings, a defendant bears a legal burden in relation to the matters in subclause (4)—see section 13.4 of the Criminal Code.

Undertaking

(5) A links service provider must comply with an undertaking given by the provider and accepted under clause 63.

Designated content/hosting service provider rule

(6) Subclauses (1), (2), (3) and (5) are designated content/hosting service provider rules.
Clause 69

Division 6—Law enforcement agencies

69 Referral of matters to law enforcement agencies

(1) If, in the course of an investigation under Division 2, the ACMA is satisfied that:

(a) content is prohibited content or potential prohibited content; and

(b) the content is of a sufficiently serious nature to warrant referral to a law enforcement agency;

the ACMA must notify the content to:

(c) a member of an Australian police force; or

(d) if there is an arrangement between the ACMA and the chief (however described) of an Australian police force under which the ACMA is authorised to notify the content to another person or body—that other person or body.

Referral to law enforcement agency

(2) The manner in which content may be notified under paragraph (1)(c) to a member of an Australian police force includes (but is not limited to) a manner ascertained in accordance with a arrangement between the ACMA and the chief (however described) of the police force concerned.

(3) If a member of an Australian police force is notified of particular content under this clause, the member may notify the content to a member of another law enforcement agency.

(4) This clause does not limit the ACMA’s powers to refer other matters to a member of an Australian police force.

Previous referral to law enforcement agency under Schedule 5

(5) The ACMA is not required to notify particular content under subclause (1) if the ACMA has already notified the content under paragraph 40(1)(a) of Schedule 5.
70 Deferral of action in order to avoid prejudicing a criminal investigation—hosting services

(1) If:
   (a) in the course of an investigation under Division 2, the ACMA is satisfied that:
       (i) content hosted by a hosting service provider is prohibited content or potential prohibited content; and
       (ii) the relevant hosting service has an Australian connection; and
   (b) apart from this subclause, the ACMA would be required to take action under subclause 47(1), (2) or (3) in relation to the content; and
   (c) a member of an Australian police force satisfies the ACMA that the taking of that action should be deferred until the end of a particular period in order to avoid prejudicing a criminal investigation;

the ACMA may defer taking that action until the end of that period.

(2) Subclause (1) has effect despite anything in clause 47.

71 Deferral of action in order to avoid prejudicing a criminal investigation—live content services

(1) If:
   (a) in the course of an investigation under Division 2, the ACMA is satisfied that:
       (i) live content provided by a live content service is potential prohibited content; and
       (ii) the live content service has an Australian connection; and
   (b) apart from this subclause, the ACMA would be required to take action under subclause 56(1), (2) or (3) in relation to the content; and
   (c) a member of an Australian police force satisfies the ACMA that the taking of that action should be deferred until the end of a particular period in order to avoid prejudicing a criminal investigation;
the ACMA may defer taking that action until the end of that period.

(2) Subclause (1) has effect despite anything in clause 56.

72 Deferral of action in order to avoid prejudicing a criminal investigation—links services

(1) If:

(a) in the course of an investigation under Division 2, the ACMA is satisfied that:
   (i) end-users in Australia can access content using a link provided by a links service; and
   (ii) the content is potential prohibited content; and
   (iii) the links service has an Australian connection; and

(b) apart from this subclause, the ACMA would be required to take action under subclause 62(1), (2) or (3) in relation to the link; and the ACMA may defer taking that action until the end of that period.

(2) Subclause (1) has effect despite anything in clause 62.
Part 4—Industry codes and industry standards

Division 1—Simplified outline

73 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Part:

- Bodies and associations that represent sections of the content industry may develop industry codes.
- Industry codes may be registered by the ACMA.
- Compliance with an industry code is voluntary unless the ACMA directs a particular participant in the content industry to comply with the code.
- The ACMA has a reserve power to make an industry standard if there are no industry codes or if an industry code is deficient.
- Compliance with industry standards is mandatory.
Division 2—Interpretation

74 Industry codes

For the purposes of this Part, an industry code is a code developed under this Part (whether or not in response to a request under this Part).

75 Industry standards

For the purposes of this Part, an industry standard is a standard determined under this Part.

76 Content activity

For the purposes of this Part, a content activity is an activity that consists of:

(a) providing a hosting service that has an Australian connection; or
(b) providing a live content service that has an Australian connection; or
(c) providing a links service that has an Australian connection; or
(d) providing a commercial content service that has an Australian connection.

77 Sections of the content industry

(1) For the purposes of this Part, sections of the content industry are to be ascertained in accordance with this clause.

(2) For the purposes of this Part, each of the following groups is a section of the content industry:

(a) hosting service providers, where the relevant hosting services have an Australian connection;
(b) live content service providers, where the relevant live content services have an Australian connection;
(c) links service providers, where the relevant links services have an Australian connection.
Clause 78

(d) commercial content service providers, where the relevant commercial content services have an Australian connection.

78 Participants in a section of the content industry

For the purposes of this Part, if a person is a member of a group that constitutes a section of the content industry, the person is a participant in that section of the content industry.

79 Designated body

The Minister may, by legislative instrument, declare that a specified body or association is the designated body for the purposes of this Part. The declaration has effect accordingly.
Clause 80

Division 3—General principles relating to industry codes and industry standards

80 Statement of regulatory policy

(1) The Parliament intends that bodies or associations that the ACMA is satisfied represent sections of the content industry should develop codes (industry codes) that are to apply to participants in the respective sections of the industry in relation to their content activities.

(2) The Parliament intends that the ACMA should make reasonable efforts to ensure that, for each section of the content industry, either:

(a) an industry code is registered under this Part within 6 months after the commencement of this Schedule; or

(b) an industry standard is registered under this Part within 9 months after the commencement of this Schedule.

81 Matters that must be dealt with by industry codes and industry standards—commercial content providers

(1) The Parliament intends that, for the commercial content service provider section of the content industry, there should be:

(a) an industry code or an industry standard that deals with; or

(b) an industry code and an industry standard that together deal with;

each of the following matters:

(c) the engagement of trained content assessors by commercial content service providers;

(d) ensuring that content (other than live content or content that consists of an eligible electronic publication) that:

(i) has not been classified by the Classification Board; and

(ii) would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified RC, X 18+, R 18+ or MA 15+ by the Classification Board;

is not provided by commercial content services (other than news services or current affairs services) unless a trained content assessor has assessed the content for the purposes of categorising the content as:

(iii) content that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified RC by the Classification Board; or

(iv) content that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified X 18+ by the Classification Board; or

(v) content that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified R 18+ by the Classification Board; or

(vi) content that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified MA 15+ by the Classification Board;

(e) ensuring that live content is not provided by commercial content services (other than news services or current affairs services) unless:

(i) there is no reasonable likelihood that the live content will be of a kind that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified RC, X 18+, R 18+ or MA 15+ by the Classification Board; or

(ii) a trained content assessor has given advice to the relevant commercial content service provider about whether the live content is likely to be of a kind that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified RC, X 18+, R 18+ or MA 15+ by the Classification Board;

(f) ensuring that content that consists of an eligible electronic publication that:

(i) has not been classified by the Classification Board; and

(ii) would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified RC or category 2 restricted by the Classification Board;

is not provided by commercial content services (other than news services or current affairs services) unless a trained content assessor has assessed the content for the purposes of categorising the content as:
Clause 82

(iii) content that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified RC by the Classification Board; or

(iv) content that would, if it were classified by the Classification Board, be substantially likely to be classified category 2 restricted by the Classification Board.

Note: The classification of an eligible electronic publication is the same as the classification of the corresponding print publication—see clause 24.

(2) For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(d), (e) and (f), it is to be assumed that this Schedule authorised the Classification Board to classify the content concerned.

Codes and standards not limited

(3) This clause does not limit the matters that may be dealt with by industry codes and industry standards.

82 Examples of matters that may be dealt with by industry codes and industry standards

(1) This clause sets out examples of matters that may be dealt with by industry codes and industry standards.

(2) The applicability of a particular example will depend on which section of the content industry is involved.

(3) The examples are as follows:

(a) procedures to be followed in order to deal with complaints about matters, where the complainant could have made a complaint about the same matter under subclause 37(1), (2) or (3) or 38(1) or (2);

(b) telling persons about their rights to make complaints;

(c) procedures to be followed in order to assist persons to make complaints;

(d) the referral to the ACMA of complaints about matters, where:

(i) the complainant could have made a complaint about the same matter under subclause 37(1), (2) or (3) or 38(1) or (2); and
(ii) the complainant is dissatisfied with the way in which the complaint was dealt with under the code or standard;

(e) advice about the reasons for content having a particular classification;

(f) procedures directed towards the achievement of the objective of ensuring that, in the event that a commercial content service provider becomes aware that:

(i) prohibited content; or
(ii) potential prohibited content;

is or was delivered to, or made available for access by, an end-user of a commercial content service provided by another commercial content service provider, the other commercial content service provider is told about the prohibited content or the potential prohibited content, as the case may be;

(g) promoting awareness of the safety issues associated with commercial content services or live content services;

(h) procedures to be followed in order to deal with safety issues associated with commercial content services that are chat services;

(i) procedures to be followed in order to assist parents and responsible adults to deal with safety issues associated with children’s use of commercial content services that are chat services;

(j) giving parents and responsible adults information about how to supervise and control children’s access to content provided by commercial content services or live content services;

(k) procedures to be followed in order to assist parents and responsible adults to supervise and control children’s access to content provided by commercial content services or live content services;

(l) procedures to be followed in order to inform producers of content provided by commercial content services or live content services about the legal responsibilities of commercial content service providers in relation to that content;

(m) the making and retention of records of content provided by a commercial content service or a live content service;

(n) the making and retention of recordings of live content provided by a live content service;
Clause 83

(o) procedures directed towards the achievement of the objective of ensuring that, in the event that new content services or live content services are developed that could put at risk the safety of children who are end-users of the services, the ACMA is informed about those services.

83 Escalation of complaints

(1) This clause applies if an industry code or industry standard deals with the matter referred to in paragraph 82(3)(a).

(2) The industry code or industry standard, as the case may be, must also deal with the matter referred to in paragraph 82(3)(d).

84 Collection of personal information

(1) This clause applies to a provision of an industry code or industry standard if the provision deals with the making and retention of:
   (a) records of content provided by a content service; or
   (b) recordings of live content provided by a live content service.

(2) The provision must not authorise the collection of personal information (within the meaning of the Privacy Act 1988) about an end-user of a content service.
Division 4—Industry codes

85 Registration of industry codes

(1) This clause applies if:
(a) the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents a particular section of the content industry; and
(b) that body or association develops an industry code that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with one or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants; and
(c) the body or association gives a copy of the code to the ACMA; and
(d) the ACMA is satisfied that:
(i) to the extent to which the code deals with one or more matters of substantial relevance to the community—the code provides appropriate community safeguards for that matter or those matters; and
(ii) to the extent to which the code deals with one or more matters that are not of substantial relevance to the community—the code deals with that matter or those matters in an appropriate manner; and
(e) the ACMA is satisfied that, before giving the copy of the code to the ACMA:
(i) the body or association published a draft of the code and invited members of the public to make submissions to the body or association about the draft within a specified period; and
(ii) the body or association gave consideration to any submissions that were received from members of the public within that period; and
(f) the ACMA is satisfied that, before giving the copy of the code to the ACMA:
(i) the body or association published a draft of the code and invited participants in that section of the industry to make submissions to the body or association about the draft within a specified period; and
Clause 86

(ii) the body or association gave consideration to any submissions that were received from participants in that section of the industry within that period; and

(g) the ACMA is satisfied that the designated body has been consulted about the development of the code.

Note:
Designated body is defined by clause 79.

(2) The ACMA must register the code by including it in the Register of industry codes kept under clause 101.

(3) A period specified under subparagraph (1)(c)(i) or (1)(f)(i) must run for at least 30 days.

(4) If:

(a) an industry code (the new code) is registered under this Part; and

(b) the new code is expressed to replace another industry code; the other code ceases to be registered under this Part when the new code is registered.

86 ACMA may request codes

(1) If the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents a particular section of the content industry, the ACMA may, by written notice given to the body or association, request the body or association to:

(a) develop an industry code that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with one or more specified matters relating to the content activities of those participants; and

(b) give the ACMA a copy of the code within the period specified in the notice.

(2) The period specified in a notice under subclause (1) must run for at least 120 days.

(3) The ACMA must not make a request under subclause (1) in relation to a particular section of the content industry unless the ACMA is satisfied that:

(a) the development of the code is necessary or convenient in order to:

(i) provide appropriate community safeguards; or

314  Broadcasting Services Act 1992
Clause 87

(ii) otherwise deal with the performance or conduct of participants in that section of the industry; and

(b) in the absence of the request, it is unlikely that an industry code would be developed within a reasonable period.

(4) The ACMA may vary a notice under subclause (1) by extending the period specified in the notice.

(5) Subclause (4) does not limit the application of subsection 33(3) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

(6) A notice under subclause (1) may specify indicative targets for achieving progress in the development of the code (for example, a target of 60 days to develop a preliminary draft of the code).

87 Publication of notice where no body or association represents a section of the content industry

(1) If the ACMA is satisfied that a particular section of the content industry is not represented by a body or association, the ACMA may publish a notice on the ACMA’s website:

(a) stating that, if such a body or association were to come into existence within a specified period, the ACMA would be likely to give a notice to that body or association under subclause 86(1); and

(b) setting out the matter or matters relating to the content activities of those providers that would be likely to be specified in the subclause 86(1) notice.

(2) The period specified in a notice under subclause (1) must run for at least 60 days.

88 Replacement of industry codes

(1) Changes to an industry code are to be achieved by replacing the code instead of varying the code.

(2) If the replacement code differs only in minor respects from the original code, clause 85 has effect, in relation to the registration of the code, as if paragraphs 85(1)(e) and (f) of this Schedule had not been enacted.

Note: Paragraphs 85(1)(e) and (f) deal with submissions about draft codes.
Clause 89

89 Compliance with industry codes

(1) If:
   (a) a person is a participant in a particular section of the content industry; and
   (b) the ACMA is satisfied that the person has contravened, or is contravening, an industry code that:
       (i) is registered under this Part; and
       (ii) applies to participants in that section of the industry;

          the ACMA may, by written notice given to the person, direct the person to comply with the industry code.

(2) A person must comply with a direction under subclause (1).

(3) Subclause (2) is a designated content/hosting service provider rule.

Note: For enforcement, see Part 6 of this Schedule.

90 Formal warnings—breach of industry codes

(1) This clause applies to a person who is a participant in a particular section of the content industry.

(2) The ACMA may issue a formal warning if the person contravenes an industry code registered under this Part.
Division 5—Industry standards

91 ACMA may determine an industry standard if a request for an industry code is not complied with

(1) This clause applies if:
   (a) the ACMA has made a request under subclause 86(1) in relation to the development of a code that is to:
      (i) apply to participants in a particular section of the content industry; and
      (ii) deal with one or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants; and
   (b) any of the following conditions is satisfied:
      (i) the request is not complied with;
      (ii) if indicative targets for achieving progress in the development of the code were specified in the notice of request—any of those indicative targets were not met;
      (iii) the request is complied with, but the ACMA subsequently refuses to register the code; and
   (c) the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard in order to:
      (i) provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter or those matters; or
      (ii) otherwise regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter or those matters.

(2) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(3) Before determining an industry standard under this clause, the ACMA must consult the body or association to whom the request mentioned in paragraph (1)(a) was made.

(4) The Minister may, by legislative instrument, give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.
Clause 92

92 ACMA may determine industry standard where no industry body or association formed

(1) This clause applies if:
   (a) the ACMA is satisfied that a particular section of the content industry is not represented by a body or association; and
   (b) the ACMA has published a notice under subclause 87(1); and
   (c) that notice:
      (i) states that, if such a body or association were to come into existence within a particular period, the ACMA would be likely to give a notice to that body or association under subclause 86(1); and
      (ii) sets out one or more matters relating to the content activities of participants in that section of the industry; and
   (d) no such body or association comes into existence within that period; and
   (e) the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard in order to:
      (i) provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter or those matters; or
      (ii) otherwise regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter or those matters.

(2) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(3) The Minister may, by legislative instrument, give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.

93 ACMA may determine industry standards—total failure of industry codes

(1) This clause applies if:
   (a) an industry code that:
      (i) applies to participants in a particular section of the content industry; and

318 Broadcasting Services Act 1992
(ii) deals with one or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants;

has been registered under this Part for at least 180 days; and

(b) the ACMA is satisfied that the code is totally deficient (as defined by subclause (6)); and

(c) the ACMA has given the body or association that developed the code a written notice requesting that deficiencies in the code be addressed within a specified period; and

(d) that period ends and the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters.

(2) The period specified in a notice under paragraph (1)(c) must run for at least 30 days.

(3) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with that matter or those matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(4) If the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents that section of the industry, the ACMA must consult the body or association before determining an industry standard under subclause (3).

(5) The industry code ceases to be registered under this Part on the day on which the industry standard comes into force.

(6) For the purposes of this clause, an industry code that applies to participants in a particular section of the content industry and deals with one or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants is totally deficient if, and only if:

(a) the code is not operating to provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter or those matters; or

(b) the code is not otherwise operating to regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter or those matters.

(7) The Minister may, by legislative instrument, give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.
94 ACMA may determine industry standards—partial failure of industry codes

(1) This clause applies if:
   (a) an industry code that:
       (i) applies to participants in a particular section of the content industry; and
       (ii) deals with 2 or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants;
       has been registered under this Part for at least 180 days; and
   (b) clause 93 does not apply to the code; and
   (c) the ACMA is satisfied that the code is deficient (as defined by subclause (6)) to the extent to which the code deals with one or more of those matters (the deficient matter or deficient matters); and
   (d) the ACMA has given the body or association that developed the code a written notice requesting that deficiencies in the code be addressed within a specified period; and
   (e) that period ends and the ACMA is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient for the ACMA to determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with the deficient matter or deficient matters.

(2) The period specified in a notice under paragraph (1)(d) must run for at least 30 days.

(3) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine a standard that applies to participants in that section of the industry and deals with the deficient matter or deficient matters. A standard under this subclause is to be known as an industry standard.

(4) If the ACMA is satisfied that a body or association represents that section of the industry, the ACMA must consult the body or association before determining an industry standard under subclause (3).

(5) On and after the day on which the industry standard comes into force, the industry code has no effect to the extent to which it deals with the deficient matter or deficient matters. However, this subclause does not affect:
(a) the continuing registration of the remainder of the industry code; or
(b) any investigation, proceeding or remedy in respect of a contravention of the industry code or clause 89 that occurred before that day.

(6) For the purposes of this clause, an industry code that applies to participants in a particular section of the content industry and deals with 2 or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants is deficient to the extent to which it deals with a particular one of those matters if, and only if:
(a) the code is not operating to provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to that matter; or
(b) the code is not otherwise operating to regulate adequately participants in that section of the industry in relation to that matter.

(7) The Minister may, by legislative instrument, give the ACMA a written direction as to the exercise of its powers under this clause.

95 Compliance with industry standards

(1) If:
(a) an industry standard that applies to participants in a particular section of the content industry is registered under this Part; and
(b) a person is a participant in that section of the content industry;
the person must comply with the industry standard.

Note: For enforcement, see Part 6 of this Schedule.

(2) Subclause (1) is a designated content/hosting service provider rule.

96 Formal warnings—breach of industry standards

(1) This clause applies to a person who is a participant in a particular section of the content industry.

(2) The ACMA may issue a formal warning if the person contravenes an industry standard registered under this Part.
Clause 97

97 Variation of industry standards

The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, vary an industry standard that applies to participants in a particular section of the content industry if it is satisfied that it is necessary or convenient to do so to:

(a) provide appropriate community safeguards in relation to one or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants; and

(b) otherwise regulate adequately those participants in relation to one or more matters relating to the content activities of those participants.

98 Revocation of industry standards

(1) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, revoke an industry standard.

(2) If:

(a) an industry code is registered under this Part; and

(b) the code is expressed to replace an industry standard;

the industry standard is revoked when the code is registered.

99 Public consultation on industry standards

(1) Before determining or varying an industry standard, the ACMA must:

(a) make a copy of the draft available on its website; and

(b) publish a notice on its website:

(i) stating that the ACMA has prepared a draft of the industry standard or variation; and

(ii) inviting interested persons to give written comments about the draft to the ACMA within the period specified in the notice.

(2) The period specified in the notice must run for at least 30 days after the publication of the notice.

(3) Subclause (1) does not apply to a variation if the variation is of a minor nature.
Clause 100

(4) If interested persons have given comments in accordance with a notice under subclause (1), the ACMA must have due regard to those comments in determining or varying the industry standard, as the case may be.

100 Consultation with designated body

(1) Before determining or varying an industry standard, the ACMA must consult the designated body.

(2) Before revoking an industry standard under subclause 98(1), the ACMA must consult the designated body.

Note: Designated body is defined by clause 79.
Division 6—Register of industry codes and industry standards

101 ACMA to maintain Register of industry codes and industry standards

(1) The ACMA is to maintain a Register in which the ACMA includes:

103 Industry standards may provide for matters by reference to other instruments

Section 589 of the Telecommunications Act 1997 applies to an industry standard in a corresponding way to the way in which it applies to an instrument under that Act.
Part 5—Designated content/hosting service provider determinations

104 Designated content/hosting service provider determinations

(1) The ACMA may, by legislative instrument, determine rules that apply to designated content/hosting service providers in relation to the provision of designated content/hosting services.

(2) A determination under subclause (1) is called a designated content/hosting service provider determination.

(3) A designated content/hosting service provider determination has effect only to the extent that:

(a) it is authorised by paragraph 51(v) of the Constitution (either alone or when read together with paragraph 51(xxxix) of the Constitution); or
