

Mr. Rémy Desrosiers

Rémy is the Managing Director of SCAPR, the international federation representing performers' Collective Management Organisations (CMOs).

He was appointed in 2016 with the mission of providing strategic leadership to establish long-range goals, strategies, plans and policies for SCAPR to improve the services rendered to the CMOs and increase the global footprint of the organisation.

He has been involved in various projects to provide additional services to the SCAPR community and notably the enhancement of the internal databases, the implementation of a new business intelligence tool, the launch of the International Performer Number (IPN) Dissemination project, the establishment of amended business rules to ease the relationship between SCAPR members.

Besides, he is regularly invited to present the role of SCAPR and the importance of collective management at various meetings organised by international organisations.

Before joining SCAPR, he worked in the private sector as COO.

Rémy holds a master in economics, finance & business management.
