ZIA SUN SYMBOL TAKEN FROM ZIA

Late 1800’s - Sacred pot/ water jar stolen from Zia. (Matilda Stevenson?)
Reappeared in 1920 in Santa Fe for state sym
Repatriated to Zia in 2000-02
Violation of Zia Indigenous Law
Symbol widely dispersed

1925 - DAR Contest for state flag design
Dr. Harry Mera - had seen pottery, used sun symbol for his entry
Won contest; became N.M. state flag
Without permission of Zia people
GAPS IN DOMESTIC LAW

- State of N.M. (appropriator) use of Zia sun symbol protected but Pueblo of Zia’s use of their own symbol is not.

- Section 2(b) of the Lanham Act: the USPTO must refuse registration of a mark if it “[c]onsists of or comprises the flag or coat of arms or other insignia of the United States, or of any State or municipality, or of any foreign nation.”

- Theory: discourage commercial uses of insignia that represent any nation or state, because such insignia are considered “culturally sacred.”

- But many loopholes- look-aliases but not replicas.
GAPS IN INTERNATIONAL LAW

• INDIGENOUS AND TRADITIONAL NAMES WORDS & SYMBOLS:
  • Defensive protection:
  • “contrary to morality” and “contrary to public order” subject to multiple interpretations
  • Often, owner does not seek to register a trademark
  • Positive protection:
  • Prohibitively expensive to register all names, words & symbols
    • Updated Gap Analysis  July 6, 2018
Conceptual Gaps

• Public domain
  • Often contrary to Indigenous law
  • accommodate a number of different worldviews with regard to the sharing of knowledge (2010)

• ZIA Traditional Law
  • Chthonic legal tradition
  • cf. customary law (common rule or practice that has become an intrinsic part of the accepted and expected conduct in a community, profession, or trade and is treated as legal requirement)

• UNDRIP Articles 11 and 27 -”Indigenous laws, traditions and customs”
Indigenous Law

- Tradition: a set of deeply rooted, historically conditioned attitudes about the nature of law, about the role of law in the society and the polity, about the proper organization and operation of a legal system, and about the way law is or should be made, applied, studied, perfected, and taught

H. Patrick Glenn - Legal Traditions of the World

- Merryman (1985)
ZIA ACTIONS TO REGAIN CONTROL

• 1990s - demanded compensation from New Mexico for - $ million for every year it had flown from flagpoles

• 1992 - Zia challenge to trademark application from Coulston: primate laboratory located in NM attempted to register a trademark containing variation of the Zia sun symbol

• Zia objected to the registration: allowing Coulston to register the trademark would violate Section 2(a) of Lanham Act by falsely suggesting a connection to the Zia and bringing the Zia people into disrepute

• 1995 Coulston withdrew application
Actions

- 1994 - USPTO: compile a list of “official insignia” of Native American tribes
  - determine more easily whether a given trademark application violated Section 2(a) of Lanham Act
- 2001 - USPTO created Native American Tribal Insignia (NATI) database
- 2014 - National Congress of American Indians Resolution - recognized cultural property rights to its symbol
- 2014 - New Mexico State Legislature: Memorial and Study on “who has a right to use the Zia sun symbol and if there are any restrictions on how it may be used”
