CONVENTIONS ADMINISTERED BY WIPO

Vienna Diplomatic Conference on Industrial Property, 1973

Note*

The Vienna Conference

The "Vienna Diplomatic Conference on Industrial Property, 1973" took place, at the invitation of the Government of the Republic of Austria, in Vienna from May 17 to June 12, 1973. The meetings were held in the conference premises of the Hofburg.

Delegations of 56 States and representatives of 32 organizations registered as participants. The list of participants, totalling more than 300 persons, appears at the end of this Note.

Of the 56 States, 53 were members of the International Union for the Protection of Industrial Property (Paris Union) or of the International Union for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works (Berne Union). The remaining 3 were not members of either of the two Unions; they participated as observers.

Of the 32 organizations, 8 were intergovernmental and 24 non-governmental. Although their status was that of observer, their representatives had the possibility of participating in the substantive discussions in the Main Committees and, in fact, they frequently availed themselves of this possibility.

The Secretariat was furnished by the staff of the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

The 28 WIPO staff members were led by the Director General of WIPO, Professor G. H. C. Bodenhausen.

Professor F. Schönherr, Head of the Austrian Delegation to the Vienna Conference, was President of the Conference.

Dr. Arpad Bogsch, First Deputy Director General of WIPO, was Secretary General of the Vienna Conference, and Professor Joseph Voyame, Second Deputy Director General of WIPO, was Deputy Secretary General.

The Credentials Committee of the Vienna Conference was chaired by His Excellency Mr. R. Huybrecht, Head of the Belgian Delegation to the Conference.

The Three Diplomatic Conferences

The Vienna Conference provided the framework within which three Diplomatic Conferences took place: one on the Trademark Registration Treaty, one on the Protection of Type Faces, and one on the International Classification of the Figurative Elements of Marks. The Plenaries of those three Conferences were presided by Mr. J. P. Crespin (Senegal), Mr. J.-P. Palewski (France) and Mr. M. J. Hemmerling (German Democratic Republic), respectively.

Each of the three Diplomatic Conferences had a Main Committee, in which most of the discussions took place. All governmental delegations and the representatives of all the observer organizations had the right to participate in the work of the Main Committees, and most of them did actively participate.

The Main Committees were chaired by Mr. E. Armitage (United Kingdom) for the Trademark Registration Treaty Conference, by Professor E. Ulmer (Federal Republic of Germany) for the Type Faces Conference, and by Mr. T. Lorenz (Austria) for the Classification Conference.

Mr. Klaus Pfanner, Head, Industrial Property Division of WIPO, was the Secretary of the Trademark Registration Treaty Conference. Professor Joseph Voyame, Second Deputy Director General of WIPO, was Secretary of the Type Faces Conference. Mr. Léon Egger, Head, International Registrations Division of WIPO, was Secretary of the Classification Conference.

The Instruments Adopted

The Trademark Registration Treaty Conference adopted the Trademark Registration Treaty, the Regulations under that Treaty and a Resolution Concerning Preparatory Measures for the Entry Into Force of the Trademark Registration Treaty. The texts of these instruments will be published in the August 1973 issue of the review Industrial Property.

The Type Faces Conference adopted the Vienna Agreement for the Protection of Type Faces and their International Deposit, the Regulations under that Agreement, and a Protocol to that Agreement.

The Classification Conference adopted the Vienna Agreement Establishing an International Classification of the Figurative Elements of Marks, the International Classification of the Figurative Elements of Marks and a Resolution concerning preparations for the entry into force of the Agreement.

The texts adopted by the Type Faces Conference are being published partly in the present issue and partly in the August 1973 issue of this review, whereas the texts of the instruments adopted by the Classification Conference (except the classification itself) will be published in the September 1973 issue of the review Industrial Property.

All instruments were adopted unanimously.

Signatures

The instruments adopted were opened for signature at the close of the Vienna Conference, that is, on June 12, 1973. On that day, they were signed on behalf of the following States:

- (i) the Trademark Registration Treaty was signed on behalf of Germany (Federal Republic of), Hungary, Italy, Monaco, Portugal, San Marino, the United Kingdom, and the United States of America;

* This Note has been prepared by the International Bureau of WIPO.

(ii) the Type Faces Agreement was signed on behalf of France, Germany (Federal Republic of), Hungary, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, San Marino, Switzerland, the United Kingdom, and Yugoslavia, and the Protocol attached to that Agreement on behalf of France, Hungary, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, San Marino, and Switzerland;

(iii) the Classification Agreement was signed on behalf of Denmark, France, Germany (Federal Republic of), Hungary, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, San Marino, Switzerland, and Yugoslavia.

All instruments remain open for signature in the Auswärtiges Amt (Ministry of Foreign Affairs) of Austria, in Vienna, until the end of the year 1973.

CHAPTER I

National Protection

Article 3

Principle and Kinds of Protection

The Contracting States undertake, in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, to ensure the protection of type faces, by establishing a special national deposit, or by adapting the deposit provided for in their national industrial design laws, or by their national copyright provisions. These kinds of protection may be cumulative.

Article 4

Natural Persons and Legal Entities Protected

(1) In Contracting States which declare under Article 34 that they intend to ensure protection by establishing a special national deposit or by adapting their national industrial design laws, the protection of this Agreement shall apply to natural persons who, or legal entities which, are residents or nationals of a Contracting State.

(2) (a) In Contracting States which declare under Article 34 that they intend to ensure protection by their national copyright provisions, the protection of this Agreement shall apply to:

- (i) creators of type faces who are nationals of one of the Contracting States;
- (ii) creators of type faces who are not nationals of one of the Contracting States but whose type faces are published for the first time in one of such States.

(b) Any Contracting State referred to in subparagraph (a) may assimilate creators of type faces who have their habitual residence or domicile in a Contracting State to creators of type faces who are nationals of that State.

(3) For the purposes of the Agreement, any association of natural persons or legal entities which, under the national law of the State according to which it is constituted, may acquire rights and assume obligations, notwithstanding the fact that it is not a legal entity, shall be assimilated to a legal entity. However, any Contracting State may protect, in lieu of the said association, the natural persons or legal entities constituting it.

Article 5

National Treatment

(1) Each Contracting State shall be obliged to grant to all natural persons and legal entities entitled to claim the benefits of this Agreement the protection afforded to its nationals according to the kind of protection which such Contracting State declares under Article 34.

(2) If a Contracting State referred to in Article 4(2) requires, under its domestic law, compliance with formalities as a condition of protecting type faces, these should be considered as fulfilled, with respect to type faces whose creators are referred to in Article 4(2), if all the copies of the type faces published with the authority of the creator or other owner entitled to protection are accompanied by or, as the case may be, bear a notice consisting of the symbol © accompanied by the name of the owner entitled to protection and the year date of the first such publication placed in such a manner as to give reasonable notice of claim of protection.

Article 6

Concepts of Residence and Nationality

(1) (a) Any natural person shall be regarded as a resident of a Contracting State for the purposes of Articles 4(1) and 13 if:

- (i) according to the national law of that State he is a resident of that State, or
- (ii) he has a real and effective industrial or commercial establishment in that State.

(b) Any natural person shall be regarded as a national of a Contracting State for the purposes of Articles 4(1) and 13 if, according to the national law of that State, he is a national of that State.

(2) (a) Any legal entity shall be regarded as a resident of a Contracting State for the purposes of Articles 4(1) and 13 if it has a real and effective industrial or commercial establishment in that State.

(b) Any legal entity shall be regarded as a national of a Contracting State for the purposes of Articles 4(1) and 13 if it is constituted according to the national law of that State.

(3) Where any natural person or legal entity invoking the benefits of this Agreement is a resident of one State and a national of another State, and where only one of those States is a Contracting State, the Contracting State alone shall be considered for the purposes of this Agreement and the Regulations.

Article 7

Conditions of Protection

(1) The protection of type faces shall be subject to the condition that they be novel, or to the condition that they be original, or to both conditions.

(2) The novelty and the originality of type faces shall be determined in relation to their style or overall appearance, having regard, if necessary, to the criteria recognized by the competent professional circles.

Article 8

Content of Protection

(1) Protection of type faces shall confer upon the owner thereof the right to prohibit:

- (i) the making, without his consent, of any reproduction, whether identical or slightly modified, intended to provide means for composing texts by any graphic technique, irrespective of the technical means or material used;

- (ii) the commercial distribution or importation of such reproductions without his consent.

(2) (a) Subject to subparagraph (b), the right defined in paragraph (1) applies irrespective of whether or not the protected type faces have been known to the maker of the reproduction.

(b) Contracting States in which originality is a condition of protection are not required to apply subparagraph (a).

(3) The right provided for in paragraph (1) shall also cover any reproduction of type faces obtained by the distortion, by any purely technical means, of the protected type faces, where the essential features thereof remain recognizable.

(4) The making of elements of type faces, by a person acquiring type faces, during the ordinary course of the composition of texts, shall not be considered a reproduction within the meaning of paragraph (1)(i).

(5) Contracting States may take legislative measures to avoid abuses which might result from the exercise of the exclusive right provided under this Agreement in cases where, apart from the protected type faces in question, no other type faces are available in order to achieve a particular purpose in the public interest. The legislative measures shall not, however, prejudice the right of the owner to just remuneration for the use of his type faces. Nor shall the protection of type faces under any circumstances be subject to any forfeiture either by reason of failure to work or by reason of the importation of reproductions of the protected type faces.

Article 9

Term of Protection

(1) The term of protection may not be less than fifteen years.

(2) The term of protection may be divided into several periods, each extension being granted only at the request of the owner of the protected type faces.

Article 10

Cumulative Protection

The provisions of this Agreement shall not preclude the making of a claim to the benefit of any more extensive protection granted by national laws and shall in no way affect the protection granted by other international conventions.

Article 11

Right of Priority

For the purposes of the right of priority, if applicable, national deposits of type faces shall be considered deposits of industrial designs.

CHAPTER II

International Deposit

Article 12

International Deposit and Recording

(1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (2), the international deposit shall be effected direct with the International Bureau, which shall record it in the International Register in accordance with this Agreement and the Regulations.

(2) (a) The national law of any Contracting State may provide that international deposits by natural persons or legal entities residing in the respective State may be effected through the intermediary of the competent Office of that State.

(b) Where an international deposit is effected, as provided for in subparagraph (a), through the intermediary of a competent Office of a Contracting State, that Office shall indicate the date on which it received the international deposit and shall transmit the said deposit in good time to the International Bureau in the manner provided for in the Regulations.

Article 13

Right to Effect International Deposits and to Own Such Deposits

(1) Any natural person who, or legal entity which, is a resident or a national of a Contracting State may effect and be the owner of international deposits.

(2) (a) Any association of natural persons or legal entities which, under the national law of the State according to which it is constituted, may acquire rights and assume obligations, notwithstanding the fact that it is not a legal entity, shall have the right to effect international deposits and to own such deposits if it is a resident or national of a Contracting State.

(b) Subparagraph (a) shall be without prejudice to the application of the national law of any Contracting State. However, no such State shall refuse or cancel the effects provided for in Article 18 with respect to an association of the kind referred to in subparagraph (a) on the ground that it is not a legal entity if, within two months from the date of an invitation addressed to it by the competent Office of that State, the said association files with that Office a list of the names and addresses of all the natural persons or legal entities constituting it, together with a declaration that its members are engaged in a joint enterprise. In such a case, the said State may consider the natural persons or legal entities constituting the said association to be the owners of the international deposit, in lieu of the association itself, provided that the said persons or entities fulfil the conditions set forth in paragraph (1).

Article 14

Contents and Form of the International Deposit

(1) The international deposit shall contain:

- (i) a signed instrument of international deposit declaring that the deposit is effected under this Agreement, and indicating the identity, residence, nationality and address of the applicant as well as the name of the creator of the type faces for which protection is sought or that the creator has renounced being mentioned as such;

- (ii) a representation of the type faces;
- (iii) payment of the prescribed fees.

(2) The instrument of international deposit may contain:

- (i) a declaration claiming the priority of one or more earlier deposits effected in or for one or more States party to the Paris Convention;
- (ii) an indication of the denomination given to the type faces by the applicant;
- (iii) the appointment of a representative;
- (iv) such additional indications as are provided for in the Regulations.

(3) The instrument of international deposit shall be in one of the languages prescribed by the Regulations.

Article 15

Recording or Declining of the International Deposit

(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the International Bureau shall promptly record the international deposit in the International Register. The date of the international deposit shall be the date on which it was received by the International Bureau or, if the international deposit has been effected, as provided for in Article 12(2), through the intermediary of the competent Office of a Contracting State, the date on which that Office received the deposit, provided that the deposit reaches the International Bureau before the expiration of a period of one month following that date.

(2) (a) Where the International Bureau finds any of the following defects, it shall invite the applicant, unless it is clearly impossible to reach him, to correct the defect within three months from the date on which it sent the invitation:

- (i) the instrument of international deposit does not contain an indication that it is effected under this Agreement;
- (ii) the instrument of international deposit does not contain such indications concerning the residence and nationality of the applicant as to permit the conclusion that he has the right to effect international deposits;
- (iii) the instrument of international deposit does not contain such indications concerning the applicant as are necessary to permit him to be identified and reached by mail;
- (iv) the instrument of international deposit does not contain an indication of the name of the creator of the type faces or of the fact that the creator has renounced being mentioned as such;
- (v) the instrument of international deposit is not signed;
- (vi) the instrument of international deposit is not in one of the languages prescribed by the Regulations;
- (vii) the international deposit does not contain a representation of the type faces;
- (viii) the prescribed fees have not been paid.

(b) If the defect or defects are corrected in due time, the International Bureau shall record the international deposit in the International Register, and the date of the international deposit shall be the date on which the International Bureau receives the correction of the said defect or defects.

(c) If the defect or defects are not corrected in due time, the International Bureau shall decline the international deposit, inform the applicant accordingly, and reimburse to him part of the fees paid, as provided in the Regulations. If the international deposit is effected through the intermediary of the competent Office of a Contracting State, as provided for in Article 12(2), the International Bureau shall also inform that Office of the declining.

Article 16

Avoiding Certain Effects of Declining

(1) Where the International Bureau has declined the international deposit, the applicant may, within two months from the date of the notification of the declining, effect, in respect of the type faces that were the subject of the international deposit, a national deposit with the competent Office of any Contracting State which ensures the protection of type faces by establishing a special national deposit or by adapting the deposit provided for in its national industrial design law.

(2) If the competent Office or any other competent authority of that Contracting State finds that the International Bureau has declined the international deposit in error, and provided the national deposit complies with all the requirements of the national law of the said State, the said national deposit shall be treated as if it had been effected on the date which would have been the date of the international deposit had that international deposit not been declined.

Article 17

Publication and Notification of the International Deposit

International deposits recorded in the International Register shall be published by the International Bureau and notified by the latter to the competent Offices of the Contracting States.

Article 18

Effect of the International Deposit

(1) In Contracting States which declare in accordance with Article 34 that they intend to ensure the protection of type faces by establishing a special national deposit or by adapting the deposit provided for in their national industrial design laws, the international deposit recorded in the International Register shall have the same effect as a national deposit effected on the same date.

(2) The Contracting States referred to in paragraph (1) may not require that the applicant comply with any additional formality, with the exception of such formalities as may be prescribed by their national laws for the exercise of the rights. However, Contracting States which undertake an ex officio novelty examination or make provision for opposition proceedings may prescribe the formalities required by such examination or such proceedings and charge the fees, with the exception of the publication fee, provided for in their national laws for such examination, the grant of protection and the renewal thereof.

Article 19

Right of Priority

(1) For the purposes of the right of priority, if applicable, the international deposit of type faces shall be considered an industrial design deposit within the meaning of Article 4 A of the Paris Convention.

(2) The international deposit shall be a regular filing within the meaning of Article 4 A of the Paris Convention if it is not declined pursuant to Article 15(2)(c) of this Agreement, and shall be considered to have been effected on the date accorded to it under Article 15(1) or (2)(b) of this Agreement.

Article 20

Change in the Ownership of the International Deposit

(1) Any change in the ownership of the international deposit shall, on request, be recorded in the International Register by the International Bureau.

(2) The change in the ownership of the international deposit shall not be recorded in the International Register if, according to the indications furnished by the person requesting the recording of the change, the new owner of the international deposit does not have the right to effect international deposits.

(3) The change in the ownership of the international deposit may relate to one or more of the Contracting States referred to in Article 18(1). In such a case, renewal of the international deposit must subsequently be applied for separately by each of the owners of the international deposit as far as he is concerned.

(4) The request for the recording of a change in the ownership of the international deposit shall be presented in the form, and accompanied by the fee, prescribed in the Regulations.

(5) The International Bureau shall record the change in the ownership of the international deposit in the International Register, shall publish it, and shall notify it to the competent Offices of the Contracting States.

(6) The recording of the change in the ownership of the international deposit in the International Register shall have the same effect as if the request for such recording had been filed direct with the competent Office of each of the Contracting States referred to in Article 18(1) which are concerned by the said change in ownership.

Article 21

Withdrawal and Renunciation of the International Deposit

(1) The applicant may withdraw his international deposit by a declaration addressed to the International Bureau.

(2) The owner of the international deposit may at any time renounce his international deposit by a declaration addressed to the International Bureau.

(3) Withdrawal and renunciation may relate to a part or the whole of the type faces which are the subject of the international deposit, or to their denomination, and to one or more of the Contracting States referred to in Article 18(1).

(4) The International Bureau shall record the renunciation in the International Register, shall publish it, and shall notify it to the competent Offices of the Contracting States.

(5) Renunciation recorded in the International Register shall have the same effect as if it had been communicated direct to the competent Office of each of the Contracting States referred to in Article 18(1).

Article 22

Other Amendments to the International Deposit

(1) The owner of the international deposit may at any time amend the indications appearing in the instrument of international deposit.

(2) Type faces which are the subject of an international deposit may not be amended.

(3) Amendments shall be subject to the payment of the fees prescribed in the Regulations.

(4) The International Bureau shall record amendments in the International Register, shall publish them, and shall notify them to the competent Offices of the Contracting States.

(5) Amendments recorded in the International Register shall have the same effect as if they had been communicated direct to the competent Office of each of the Contracting States referred to in Article 18(1).

Article 23

Term and Renewal of the International Deposit

(1) The international deposit shall have effect for an initial term of ten years from the date of such deposit.

(2) The effect of the international deposit may be extended for terms of five years on the basis of demands for renewal submitted by the owner of the international deposit.

(3) Each new term shall commence on the day following that on which the previous term expires.

(4) The demand for renewal shall be presented in the form, and accompanied by the fees, prescribed by the Regulations.

(5) The International Bureau shall record the renewal in the International Register, shall publish it, and shall notify it to the competent Offices of the Contracting States.

(6) Renewal of the international deposit shall replace such renewals as may be provided for in the national laws. However, the international deposit may not, in any Contracting State referred to in Article 18(1), have effect after the maximum term of protection provided for in the national law of that State has expired.

(c) Expenses not attributable exclusively to the Union but also to one or more other Unions administered by the Organization shall be regarded as expenses common to the Unions. The share of the Union in such common expenses shall be in proportion to the interest the Union has in them.

(2) The budget of the Union shall be established with due regard to the requirements of coordination with the budgets of the other Unions administered by the Organization.

(3) (a) The budget of the Union shall be financed from the following sources:

(b) The amounts of fees and charges due to the International Bureau under subparagraph (a)(i) and the prices of its publications shall be so fixed that they should, under normal circumstances, be sufficient to cover the expenses of the International Bureau connected with the administration of this Agreement.

(c) If the income exceeds the expenses, the difference shall be credited to a reserve fund.

(d) If the budget is not adopted before the beginning of a new financial period, it shall be at the same level as the budget of the previous year, as provided in the financial regulations.

(b) Unless it has already done so, each Contracting State shall indicate, concurrently with depositing its instrument of ratification or accession, the class to which it wishes to belong. Any country may change class. If it chooses a lower class, it must announce such change to the Assembly at one of its ordinary sessions. Any such change shall take effect at the beginning of the calendar year following the said session.

(c) The contribution of each Contracting State shall be an amount in the same proportion to the total sum to be contributed as the number of its units is to the total of the units of all the Contracting States.

(b) The amount of the initial payment of each Contracting State to the said fund or of its participation in the increase thereof shall be a proportion of the contribution which that State may be required to pay under paragraph (3)(a)(v) for the year in which the fund is established or the decision to increase it is made.

(c) The proportion and the terms of payment shall be fixed by the Assembly on the proposal of the Director General and after it has heard the advice of the Coordination Committee of the Organization.

(d) Any reimbursement under subparagraph (a) shall be proportionate to the amounts paid by each Contracting State, taking into account the dates at which they were paid.

(6) (a) In the headquarters agreement concluded with the State on the territory of which the Organization has its headquarters, it shall be provided that, whenever the working capital fund is insufficient, such State shall grant advances. The amount of those advances and the conditions on which they are granted shall be the subject of separate agreements, in each case, between such State and the Organization. As long as it remains under the obligation to grant advances, such State shall have an ex officio seat in the Assembly if it is not a Contracting State.
