Governing Bodies of WIPO

Governing Bodies of WIPO and the Unions Administered by WIPO

Twenty-Ninth Series of Meetings
(Geneva, September 23 to October 2, 1996)

From September 23 to October 2, 1996, the Governing Bodies of WIPO held their twenty-ninth series of meetings in Geneva. Delegations from 121 States, 16 intergovernmental organizations and 16 international non-governmental organizations participated in the meetings.<sup>1</sup>

The following six Governing Bodies met:

WIPO General Assembly;
WIPO Coordination Committee;
Paris Union Assembly;
Paris Union Executive Committee;
Berne Union Assembly;
Berne Union Executive Committee.

The main subjects considered by the Governing Bodies and the main decisions that they adopted are summarized below.

Activities of WIPO from July 1, 1995, to June 30, 1996. Almost all the delegations expressed their appreciation for the volume and quality of the activities that had been carried out by WIPO in the reporting period and considered that those activities had been conducted with efficiency, creativity, dedication and success.

Particular satisfaction was expressed for the volume and quality of the development cooperation activities carried out by WIPO in favor of developing countries. It was emphasized that those activities had obtained their objectives and matched the expectations of the participating countries, and that they covered a variety of crucial areas such as the development of human resources, strengthening of the legal and administrative intellectual property infrastructure, automation of procedures for the granting of intellectual property rights, promotion of inventions and innovation, access to technological information contained in patent documentation, and enforcement of intellectual property rights.

It was noted that the International Bureau gave foremost importance to the activities that assisted developing countries in analyzing the implications of the TRIPS Agreement for them, and in adapting their national legislation to the obligations established under that Agreement. In this connection, many delegations expressed their satisfaction with the successful conclusion, in December 1995, of the Agreement between WIPO and the World Trade Organization (WTO), including the work on the notification of intellectual property laws and regulations. The delegations of the recipient developing countries expressed the hope that WIPO's development cooperation program would expand in the future and that there would be a significant increase in financial resources allocated to it. A number of delegations of industrialized and other donor countries reiterated their willingness to continue giving support to WIPO in its development cooperation program, with funds and in kind.

A number of delegations expressed their satisfaction for the progress achieved by WIPO in the period under review in respect of norm-setting. Most delegations which spoke commended WIPO for the preparatory work that had led to the convening, in December 1996, of the WIPO Diplomatic Conference on Certain Copyright and Neighboring Rights Questions and stated their commitment to work toward the successful conclusion of that Conference. Several delegations expressed the hope that efforts made in connection with the draft Patent Law Treaty would soon culminate in success and also expressed the need to make progress toward the conclusion of the Treaty on the Settlement of Intellectual Property Disputes Between States.

Many delegations expressed their appreciation for the entry into force, in the period under review, of two major international instruments in the field on trademarks initiated by WIPO and concluded under the auspices of WIPO, namely the Trademark Law Treaty (TLT) and the Protocol Relating to the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks (Madrid Protocol). A number of delegations also referred with appreciation to the entry into force and start of operations under the Eurasian Patent Convention (EAPC), a treaty in whose preparation the International Bureau played an important role.

A number of delegations referred with appreciation to the WIPO activities conducted in favor of countries in transition to market economy, in particular, seminars and meetings organized in, and WIPO consultant missions undertaken to, the region, to assist in the strengthening of national legislation and of the administrative intellectual property infrastructure, and in promoting regional cooperation.

Many delegations also emphasized the continuing success of the PCT as evidenced by the constantly increasing number of member States and growth of the number of international patent applications, as well as its essential role in WIPO's income. With respect to WIPO's other activities in international registration, appreciation was also expressed for the promising start of operations, on April 1, 1996, of the Madrid Protocol.

The International Bureau's activities in administering international classifications and patent documentation and in promoting the WIPO Arbitration and Mediation Center, were also praised.

The Director General replied to the delegations as follows:

(a) He assured delegations that their comments and suggestions had been carefully noted and would be taken into account in the planning of the International Bureau's work in the remaining part of the current biennium and in the preparation of the draft of the program and budget for the subsequent (1998-99) biennium.

(b) In line with suggestions from certain delegations, he stated that the International Bureau would carry out a study, with the help of consultants, on international intellectual property issues arising from the new global information infrastructure, including Internet.

(c) In line with suggestions put forward by several delegations, the Director General stated that WIPO would no longer require the 13% overhead charge for administrative support costs for development cooperation activities funded by extra-budgetary resources from developing countries.

(d) He also stated that, in line with the suggestions made, the number of long-term fellowships offered by the International Bureau to nationals of developing countries for academic training in intellectual property would continue to increase in the future, as had already been the case in the current year.

(e) The Director General said that he fully agreed with the delegations that had stressed the importance of maintaining a balanced geographical distribution of staff within the Secretariat and also of filling a higher number of important posts by women. This was a continuous task, and he was confident that the improvement would continue also in the future.

(f) As far as the WTO and the TRIPS Agreement were concerned, the Director General said that cooperation with the WTO was highly satisfactory and WIPO's role in promoting the implementation of the TRIPS Agreement was both very important and extensive. "Mega symposiums" on the implications of the TRIPS Agreement had been organized by WIPO in 1996 and were to be organized again in 1997 in all the developing regions, and WIPO would finance the participation of all developing country members of WTO.

(g) Finally, the Director General said that, in line with the suggestions of several delegations, he intended to propose that part of the regular budget of WIPO which deals with development cooperation be once again increased, mainly from PCT sources, for the 1998-99 biennium. As for the special allocations provided for in 1995 for development cooperation and other activities relating to the TRIPS Agreement for the current biennium, it was the Director General's intention to propose that the special allocations not only be renewed but also be increased for the 1998-99 biennium.

Adjustment of the Program of the 1996-97 Biennium. The WIPO Coordination Committee and the Executive Committees of the Paris and Berne Unions noted the information provided by the International Bureau on certain matters related to the program of the current (1996-97) biennium, taking into account developments that had occurred since the program was adopted (in September - October 1995), namely that (i) a diplomatic conference for the adoption of a new treaty on the international registration of industrial designs would not be held before 1998; (ii) the International Bureau would study the feasibility of an international "deposit" system for nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listings; (iii) the International Bureau would study, with the help of consultants, the needs for and feasibility of the establishment of an international centralized system for the recording of assignments of patent applications and of patents; (iv) the International Bureau would conduct a preliminary study concerning a possible new treaty on intellectual property in respect of integrated circuits, in conformity with the provisions of the TRIPS Agreement.

The General Assembly of WIPO and the Assembly of the Berne Union discussed preparations for the Diplomatic Conference on Certain Copyright and Neighboring Rights Questions, to take place in Geneva from December 2 to 20, 1996, and agreed on the date, membership and mandate of, and the financing of participation in, two consultation meetings to take place in Geneva, in October and November 1996, respectively. The said preparations included three regional consultation meetings to be held in Casablanca (Morocco), Chiang-Mai (Thailand) and Santiago de Chile, respectively.

The WIPO General Assembly and the Assembly of the Paris Union approved the inclusion in the draft Patent Law Treaty of certain additional topics, namely (i) the filing date of an application and unity of invention; (ii) the recordal of licensing agreements; (iii) belated claiming of priority, and (iv) restoration of rights where a limit of time has been missed, and extension of time limits which have not yet expired but whose extension has been requested. The Committee of Experts on the Patent Law Treaty would be informed, in a document, of the fact that the provisions concerning unity of invention and belated claiming of priority should be treated as having been presented in brackets by the International Bureau.

The General Assembly of WIPO and the Assembly of the Berne Union noted with approval the fact that WIPO would organize in Phuket (Thailand), in April 1997, the Unesco/WIPO World Forum on the Protection of Folklore, and that WIPO would finance eight speakers and 18 participants from developing countries.

Premises. The WIPO General Assembly unanimously decided to approve the recommendations made by the joint session of the Budget Committee and the Premises Committee, in September 1996, that the International Bureau organize an international architectural competition for construction of a building on the Steiner lot (adjacent to the WIPO headquarters building in Geneva), and that a further study should be undertaken by a consultant to examine the various options available in Geneva, including the option to construct a building on the Steiner lot. The Budget and Premises Committees would review the report of the said consultant by mid-April 1997 at the latest.

Draft Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes Between States in the Field of Intellectual Property. The WIPO General Assembly decided that: (i) the draft program and budget for the 1998-99 biennium would contain an item for the holding of a diplomatic conference in the first half of 1998; (ii) the International Bureau should prepare by April 1997, documents containing a new text of the draft treaty and of the draft regulations and notes to serve as the basic proposal for a diplomatic conference, as well as background documentation; (iii) the said item of the draft program and budget for the 1998-99 biennium would be examined in the September/October 1997 session of the WIPO General Assembly, in the light of the said documents and the experience of the WTO international dispute settlement mechanisms.

Procedural Steps for the Appointment of a New Director General in 1997. The WIPO Coordination Committee adopted procedural steps for the appointment of a new Director General, as follows: (i) in October 1996, invitations would be sent to Governments to propose one or more nationals as a candidate or as candidates for the post of Director General of WIPO, the deadline for submission of candidatures being January 31, 1997; (ii) the WIPO Coordination Committee would meet on March 18 and 19, 1997, to nominate the candidate for the post of Director General who is to be appointed by the General Assembly; (iii) the General Assembly of WIPO and the Assemblies of the Paris and Berne Unions would have on their agenda for the 1997 ordinary sessions, to be held in September/October, an item entitled "Appointment of the Director General."

Staff Matters. The Governing Bodies approved the Director General's intention to promote (with effect on October 1, 1996) to the grade of Assistant Director General Mr. Thomas Keefer and to grade D.1 (Director grade) Mr. Roberto Castelo, Mrs. Carlotta Graffigna, Mr. Richard Owens and Mr. Jaime Sevilla.

(MINDEX/INNOTEX '96), organized jointly by the Malaysian Invention and Design Society (MINDS) and the Malaysian Institute for Nuclear Technology Research (MINT) in Kuala Lumpur.

Activities of WIPO Specially Designed for Countries in Transition to Market Economy

Regional Activities

WIPO Seminar on the Eurasian Patent Organization (EAPO) (Helsinki). On August 13 and 14, 1996, WIPO organized that Seminar in Helsinki, in cooperation with the National Board of Patents and Registration of Finland. The purpose of the Seminar was to promote use of the Eurasian patent system among European patent attorneys. It was the first meeting on such a topic organized outside the territory of the nine countries party to the Eurasian Patent Convention (namely, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Kazakstan, Kyrgyzstan, the Republic of Moldova, the Russian Federation, Tajikistan and Turkmenistan). The Seminar was attended by over 50 participants, who were government officials from Finland and patent attorneys from Denmark, Estonia, Finland, Germany, Latvia, Lithuania, Norway, Sweden and the United Kingdom. Two WIPO officials also participated in the Seminar. Four invited officials from the EAPO and the Russian Federation, as well as a WIPO official made presentations, which covered, inter alia, the use of the PCT route to obtain a Eurasian patent.

Contacts of the International Bureau of WIPO With Other Countries and With International Organizations
