The Raffles Hotel in Singapore is a prominent landmark, as mentioned in the text. The hotel has a rich history and is often associated with famous guests and events. The context of the text suggests that it is discussing the cultural and economic significance of the Raffles Hotel, highlighting its role in the history and development of Singapore.