

Kamil Kiljański has been heading the unit in charge of economic analysis and evaluation at European Commission's DG for Internal Market and Services since April 2011. Before that he was a member of the Chief Economist Team at European Commission's DG Competition where he started in September 2003. Prior to joining the Commission he worked for three years as a Senior Economist at LECG (an economic consultancy) in its London office. He has experience in various industries, among others: energy, postal and logistics, environment, payment systems, ICT and media. He was also involved in several International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) litigation cases, as well as advised on regulatory matters. He earned his PhD in economics from Warsaw School of Economics (Poland) and received his LLM degree from King's College London.