Provisional protection after international publication:

Where the designation is made for the purposes of a national patent:
After international publication and as from the date on which a translation into Italian of the international application is made available to the public or communicated to the user or filed at the Office, the applicant may obtain damages and possibly the description and seizure of the articles infringing the patent and anything used in the making thereof.

Where the designation is made for the purposes of a European patent (see European Patent Convention Articles 67, 150 and 158) and:

(1) the international application is published in one of the EPO official languages: this gives the applicant the right to seek compensation reasonable in the circumstances for any infringement; or

(2) the international application is published in a language which is not an EPO official language: then the protection referred to in paragraph (1) does not become effective until the EPO publishes the international application supplied to it in one of its official languages.

Information of interest if San Marino is designated (or elected)

Time when the name and address of the inventor must be given if San Marino is designated (or elected):

May be in the request or may be furnished later. If not already complied with within the time limit applicable under PCT Article 22 or 39(1), the Office will invite the applicant to comply with the requirement within a time limit of two months from the date of receipt of the invitation.

Are there special provisions concerning the deposit of microorganisms and other biological material?

No
