The IGC

Established in September 2000, the WIPO Intergovernmental Committee on Intellectual Property and Genetic Resources, Traditional Knowledge and Folklore (the IGC) serves as a forum where WIPO Member States and observers can discuss and address the intellectual property issues that arise in the context of access to genetic resources (GRs) and benefit-sharing as well as the protection of traditional knowledge (TK) and traditional cultural expressions (TCEs).

In 2009, WIPO Member States decided that the IGC should begin formal negotiations with the objective of reaching agreement on one or more international legal instruments that would ensure the effective protection of GRs, TK and TCEs. Such an instrument or instruments could range from a recommendation to WIPO members to a formal treaty that would bind countries choosing to ratify it.

IGC webpage

A specific IGC webpage provides all the relevant documentation and information regarding the IGC in an electronic form, including the present practical guide: http://www.wipo.int/tk/en/igc/index.html.

IGC OBSERVERSHIP

IGC accredited observers include intergovernmental organizations and numerous accredited non-governmental organizations (NGOs), many of whom represent indigenous peoples and local communities.

Indigenous peoples and local communities in particular need to be able to participate, express their views and have their voices heard in the IGC decision-making process, in accordance with the 2007 UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, as the outcome of the IGC negotiations will affect their rights.

Accredited observers can attend IGC sessions, participate in the work of the IGC and express their views in accordance with the WIPO General Rules of Procedure. The right to submit proposals, amendments and motions and the right to vote are exclusive rights of Members States at the IGC. In the practice of the IGC, however, drafting proposals made by observers are taken into account if supported by at least one Member State.

The list of NGO’s which are accredited observers to the IGC is available at the IGC webpage.
ACCREDITATION

To participate in any session of the IGC, an NGO needs to be a permanent observer to WIPO or specifically accredited to the IGC only by a formal decision of the IGC. The WIPO Secretariat is not empowered to give accreditation.

A fast-track accreditation procedure was put in place to frame the process. In order to be granted accreditation, any interested NGO needs to submit a request for accreditation.

For further practical information regarding the accreditation procedure and to retrieve the accreditation application form, please visit http://www.wipo.int/tk/en/igc/accreditation.html.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT: THE WIPO VOLUNTARY FUND

To enhance and support the participation of indigenous peoples and local communities in the work of the IGC, a voluntary contribution fund for representatives of accredited observers who represent indigenous peoples or local communities was set up in 2005.

Only already accredited NGO’s which represent indigenous peoples or local communities may nominate representatives for funding by the WIPO Voluntary Fund. The nominated representatives need to submit an application form in order to apply for funding. Recommendations for funding are taken by an independent Advisory Board and are binding upon the WIPO Secretariat.

For more information on the Voluntary Fund and to retrieve the funding application form, please visit our website: http://www.wipo.int/tk/en/ngoparticipation/voluntary_fund/index.html.

INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE and NOMINATE REPRESENTATIVES

A few months before the opening of each session of the IGC, all accredited observers receive a letter of invitation from WIPO to participate, including references to the relevant documentation.

Invited observers are requested to initiate the registration process and nominate in advance their representative(s) in view of their participation in the session of the IGC. Practical information in that regard is included in the invitation letter.

LOCATION OF THE IGC SESSION

Registration and Security Badges

Usually, sessions of the IGC, as well as related consultations and side-events, take place at the WIPO headquarters at 34, chemin des Colombettes, 1211 Geneva 20, Switzerland (Arpad Bogsch Building, adjacent to the Place des Nations). A current plan of access is annexed to the present practical guide.

At their arrival at the Arpad Bogsch Building (the AB Building), NGO’s representatives are requested to complete their registration at the registration desk located in the reception hall. The desk is open from the opening day of the IGC session at 9:00 a.m.

Registered representatives will receive an official identification badge for the duration of the IGC session that will allow them to access the WIPO premises, meeting rooms and cafeterias.

All persons including WIPO staff, delegates, observers and visitors, while in WIPO premises, are required to wear their ID badges in plain view at all times. A meeting room can be made available upon request for side-events. Please contact the WIPO Secretariat at wipo@grtkf.wipo at least one month ahead of the opening of the IGC if you wish to organize a side-event.
IN PLENARY
SEATS AND INTERPRETATION

In the Plenary Room (Room A), each observer is given at least one seat and a name plate that identifies the name of the NGO the observer represents.

Simultaneous interpretation is provided in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish when the IGC meets formally and in plenary.

IN PLENARY
MAKING INTERVENTIONS

Here are some practical tips for when speaking in the IGC plenary. Following these steps should help ensure that participants’ statements are clearly heard by all participants and are accurately reported.

Participants can speak in any one of the following languages during formal and plenary meetings of the IGC: Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian, and Spanish.

Participants who wish to take the floor and speak on the current agenda item should raise their name plate in advance. During breaks, participants can also approach the podium and advise the Secretariat of their intention to speak on the current agenda item. The Chair of the IGC may deny any participant the right to take the floor if his or her statement does not relate to the current agenda item.

When invited by the Chair to make their intervention, participants are strongly encouraged to speak clearly, at a normal speaking pace and into the microphone but not too close to it, and to focus on the issue currently discussed.

Prepared texts should be read at a normal speaking pace in order to make sure that the statements are understood and accurately interpreted by the interpreters. Participants are invited to provide their written statement(s) to the Secretariat, if possible in advance, either in hard copy or, preferably, in electronic form, through a USB memory key (available from the Secretariat) or through the WIPO Secretariat email: grtkf@wipo.int.

This will ensure that the participants’ statements are fully and accurately covered in the report of the IGC session.

LOST AND FOUND PROPERTY

In case of any emergency, the WIPO Safety & Security Coordination Service (SSCS) can be contacted night or day by IGC participants at the following telephone number: 9338 or, from outside WIPO premises, 022/3389338.

All inquiries concerning lost and found items can be addressed to the WIPO SSCS at the main WIPO Reception in the AB Building. Participants in the IGC are reminded to safeguard their personal belongings at all times while in the WIPO premises.
